Sen. Byrd And Others Join In Johnson Drive

'Favorite Son' Of Texas Gathering Nationwide Support

WASHINGTON, April 21—UP—Two leading southern conservatives Saturday joined a group of senators booming Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson as a possible presidential candidate.

Sens. Harry F. Byrd and A. Willis Robertson, Virginia Democrats, said in a joint statement that if Johnson is presented as a favorite son candidate from Texas, "he will draw support not only from the South but from other areas of the nation."

Byrd and Robertson said the Texas senator's "demonstrated ability, comprehensive knowledge of government affairs and outstanding tact and skill in reconciling and coordinating differing views . . . clearly indicate he is of presidential stature."

Johnson is not an announced candidate. He has said, however, that he would be willing to accept the favorite son nomination from Texas. He is locked in a bitter head-to-head battle with Gov. Allan Shivers for control of the Texas delegation.

Johnson and Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) have been mentioned as possible compromise nominees if the Democratic convention becomes deadlocked. Symington already has the favorite son support of the Missouri delegation.

Although most of those openly endorsing him so far come from the South, Johnson's supporters contend that he has considerable appeal in other areas. One of his most outspoken backers is Sen. Alan Bible (D-Nev.).

The others include Sens. Walter F. George (D-Ga.), Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), George A. Smathers (D-Fla.), Russell B. Long (D-La.) and others.

Johnson will make the official Democratic reply Monday night to President Eisenhower's farm bill veto message in a nationwide radio-TV broadcast.

Passengers Report U. S. Military Plane Forced Down By Egyptian Jets

TEHRAN, April 21—UP—Passengers aboard a U. S. Air Force transport said Saturday Communist-built Egyptian MIG jets forced their plane down en route to Cairo earlier this week.

The passengers, who returned here Saturday, said they were forced down at a military field near Cairo.

U.S. Ambassador to Cairo Henry A. Byroade is reported to have lodged a strong protest with the Egyptian government.

It was reported that passengers in the flight to Cairo were treated roughly by Egyptian military personnel.

Twenty-four persons, including military personnel and civilians were aboard the plane which took off from Tehran for Cairo on Wednesday.

The passengers said the pilot encountered the Egyptian MIG-15 jets, which Czechoslovakia supplied to Egypt in an arms deal last year, shortly after the transport crossed the Egyptian frontier.

In Washington, the Air Force said Egyptian planes forced down one of its twin-engine C-47 trans-

'Gentle' Horse Lifts Child Over Fence, Kills Him

MOUNT OLIVE, Miss., April 21 (AP)—A "gentle" work horse pulled a 20-month-old boy across a barbed wire fence with his teeth and then kicked the child to death.

The strange incident was reported today by the child's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Vester Bond.

The couple said little Johnnie Ray Nichols had gone up to a barbed wire fence that separated the yard and pasture at their farm home near here.

While the tot stood admiring the horse, the animal suddenly stretched across the fence and picked the boy up by his clothing and dragged him across the wire.

The horse then dropped the child, the uncle reported, and kicked him 15 to 20 feet away.

Dr. A. S. Calhoun of Mount Olive said the child "gasped once or twice and died a few minutes after he was brought to my office."

The horse was used to pull logs, the farmer said, and was never considered dangerous.

The child's mother, Mrs. Vondale Broadway, had left him with the Bonds while she recuperated from an operation in another town.

The boy had been playing in the yard before going to the fence to watch the horse.

To Run Electors

Alabama's White Citizens Council To Oppose Demos

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 21 (AP)—White Citizens Council leaders are lining up an independent ticket of presidential elector candidates who again may take Alabama's electoral votes away from the Democratic nominee.

Without it, there is little chance of Alabama joining a third party movement or any other form of southern revolt against a strong civil rights program in the major party platforms this fall.

The 11 Democratic candidates for presidential elector, assured of nomination unopposed in the May 1 party primary, are pledged to support the national party ticket in November regardless of the nominees.

Unless they renounce the oath signed as candidates in the primary, they would have to cast their electoral votes for the regular party ticket even though other southern states might have their on candidate again.

Alabama as one of four states whose electoral votes went to the States Rights nominees, Strom Thurmond and Fielding Wright, in 1948. The electors ran as Democrats pledged to vote against former President Harry Truman.

The present loyalty oath each candidate must sign before he can run in the primary was adopted as a device to prevent a recurrence of the 1948 revolt. It binds the candidate to support the Democratic nominees, including the presidential ticket, in the November general election.

But an independent ticket of electors, if successful in outvoting the Democratic slate in November, would be free to vote for any presidential candidate.

No presidential nominee's name appears on the general election ballot — only the names of the candidates for elector. Under the law independents can qualify for the general election by filing petitions signed by at least 300 qualified voters. They must be turned in to the secretary of state's office by May 1, date of the Democratic primary.

29-Year-Old Man From Tallulah Is Killed In Collision

TALLULAH, April 21 (Special)—A 29-year-old Tallulah man was killed in a head-on collision between a car and a truck loaded with live poultry, early Saturday morning at Thomastown community near here.

Killed instantly in the crash which occurred at 3:15 a.m. was Robert G. Lewis, an employee in the Louisiana Highway Department survey section, driver of the passenger car. Driver of the truck, R. B. Williams, Ruston, was uninjured, according to police, but damage to his truck was estimated at around $1,500. Lewis' car was demolished.

The accident occurred on Highway 80, between Tallulah and Vicksburg.

Funeral services for Lewis, a native of Tallulah, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Will Jones officiating. Burial will be in

Refugees From Russia Protest Leaders' Visit

Thousands Jeer As Kremlin Bosses Visit University

LONDON, April 21—UP—Latvian refugees showered Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist Party Chief Nikita S. Khrushchev with leaflets accusing them of "treachery behind their smiles" in a mob scene at the university town of Oxford Saturday. Thousands of university students shouted and sang songs.

It was the noisiest and most enthusiastic reception the Soviet leaders have received on their tour which started Wednesday. In contrast to the general silence which has greeted their movements in London, the university students surrounded them, shouted, sang "Poor Old Joe," a parody on "Old Black Joe" in reference to the current anti-Stalin program in Russia, and even shot off a firecracker which startled the visitors.

The Soviet leaders laughed and appeared to enjoy it immensely, although the crowd of 5,000 at the Oxford city hall broke through police lines and guards had to link arms to carve a path for the two portly Russians. During the excitement, a police car collided with a limousine carrying Soviet officials, but no one was hurt.

Orleans Warden Shot; Search On For Jail Escapee

NEW ORLEANS, April 21 (AP)—Police watched railroad and bus terminals today as they hunted for a Negro who broke out of the Orleans Parish (County) prison after shooting the warden.

The escapee, identified by police as Leonard Caesar, was charged with raping two white women. Prison officials said Caesar shot warden Alton Diket in the groin last night, then forced two deputies to open three gates through which he escaped.

Diket's upper right leg bone was shattered by the bullet, hospital attendants said. The warden is expected to be in the hospital about a month.

Detectives early today arrested Caesar's 23-year-old wife, Nellie, and booked her for investigation of aiding in her husband's escape.

Sheriff Louis J. Heyd said Caesar's wife was one of two visitors he had yesterday. The other was a doctor from the lunacy commission.

Police said they thought Caesar was still in the city. But, they said, neighboring parishes were alerted to watch for him.

French Colonial Troops Wipe Out Rebel Stronghold

ALGIERS, April 21—UP—Veteran French colonial troops wiped out the diehard remnants of a strong rebel band in a wild charge up a heavily-wooded hillside barely 15 miles from the big city of Constantine Saturday.

French authorities reported 40 rebel bodies were found on the battlefield on the outskirts of the dusty settlement of Grarem. Six French soldiers were killed and at least nine wounded.

In all, French security forces killed 107 guerrillas in scattered clashes throughout the terrorist-ridden eastern Algerian department of Constantine in the past 24 hours.

French authorities reported that at least 21 pro-French Moslems were assassinated by Nationalist extremists during the same period.

Forecasters See Occasional Rain

Cloudy skies with occasional rain is the Louisiana weather forecast for today and tomorrow.

The same prediction is made for Arkansas except that today's rain is expected to be confined to the south portion of the state.

Maximum and minimum temperatures in the Monroe area yesterday were 76 and 42 degrees, according to the CAA at Selman field. No important temperature changes are expected.

President Calls Huddle Of GOP Solons To Study Possibility Of Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON, April 21—UP—President Eisenhower will huddle with Republican congressional leaders Tuesday to discuss recent forecasts of budget surpluses and accompanying pressures for an election-year tax cut.

Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.) disclosed Saturday that the budget situation will get priority at Mr. Eisenhower's weekly White House meeting with Republican legislative leaders. Bridges said Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey also will be present.

It was understood that the purpose of the White House huddle would be to make plans for playing down any talk of tax cuts—at least for the time being. The administration first wants to take a close look at government spending and receipts in late May.

Bridges told the United Press he is skeptical about forecasts of a big surplus and talk that the government may be able to finance a tax cut.

He said the budget also will be the "first thing" for discussion at a meeting of the Senate Republican policy committee after the White House huddle.

Staff economists of the congressional economic committee this week forecast a $2 billion budget surplus for this fiscal year compared to the $200 million forecast by the Treasury. The staff report warned of inflationary pressures and said there should be no tax reduction.

Some Senate Democrats, including Robert S. Kerr (Okla.), a member of the Senate Finance committee, said the report makes it clear that a tax-cut is warranted. Rep. Richard Simpson (R-Pa.), a key member of the tax-writing Ways and Means committee said the surplus will be closer to $4 billion and will justify tax reduction.

Mrs. G. B. Wathers Of Lake Charles Named PTA Head

Election of officers and action on legislation were main factors on Saturday's agenda, last session of the three-day annual convention of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher Association held in Monroe.

About 600 persons attended the thirty-third state conference, which stressed in its program, "P-T.A.'s Responsibility - the Family and Community."

Mrs. G. B. Wathers, Jr., of Lake Charles, who was elected president of the state association, succeeds Mrs. J. S. Goff, of Shreveport. Other officers installed Saturday include Mrs. Edmund Conger, third vice president, of Shreveport, and Mrs. N. H. Neville, fourth vice president, of Lake Charles. Mrs. A. W. Cockerham, of Shreveport, was selected second vice president by the state board of managers in pre-convention session, and Mrs. W. B. Myrick, of Baton Rouge, was elected first vice president at the post-convention board meeting.

The board also accepted an invitation from the Lake Charles P-T.A. to hold next year's convention in that city.

The convention approved several resolutions pertaining to state legislation and proposed action on various measures. The group registered strong protest against any plan to abolish the Louisiana Legislative Council. The organization also reaffirmed its stand "that the present dedication of state funds for education be preserved and in addition that sufficient tideland oil revenue be dedicated to the public education program.

Convention delegates reaffirmed their support of an upward revision of the teacher salary schedule; retirement benefits for teachers; and the principles of a strong teacher tenure protective law.

A resolution was adopted "to urge the governor of the state to continue the enforcement of all present laws against gambling consistent with his oath of office and responsibility to the State of Louisiana."

Designed to make registration laws throughout the United States more uniform, delegates strongly recommended that residence requirements for voting in Louisiana be changed to one year in the state, six months in the parish, three months in the ward, and six weeks in the precinct.

The convention also favored the passage of laws at the next regular session of the state legislature, banning the sale of fireworks in Louisiana except when special permits are granted by legally constituted authorities for public displays.

Recommendation was approved for an increase of the present five mill local constitutional tax to seven mills, and for the increase of the present five mill special local tax to seven mills, with the levying of these local taxes continuing

Ike Challenges Reds To Reverse Stalin Pattern

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower challenged Russia's leaders tonight to abandon "the wrongs of Stalin" against other nations. He declared the United States will welcome the day when the Soviet government devotes itself to the legitimate interests of Russia.

His words, prepared for delivery to the American Society of Newspaper Editors, read as if written also for Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev, who are now visiting England and trumpeting their familiar peace line.

Eisenhower told them in effect that the "wrongs of Stalin," which they ought to undo, are the continued division of Germany, the "Soviet puppet" rule of eastern Europe and the division of Korea as well as the uncertain outlook for peace in Asia.

"These knotty problems will yield to patient and sincere effort," the President said. "We stand ready to explore all avenues for their just settlement. We will not grow early in our quest for peaceful remedies for the enslavement or wrongful division of once-free nations."

The chief executive asserted that a Soviet government "genuinely devoted" to the legitimate inter-

CHARLES M'ARTHUR

Noted Playwright Charles M'Arthur Dies In New York

NEW YORK, April 21 —UP—Playwright Charles MacArthur, who immortalized the roaring 20s in the roistering newspaper play, "The Front Page," died at New York hospital Saturday with his actress wife, Helen Hayes, at his bedside. He was 60.

MacArthur, whose own youthful escapades rivaled those of the characters in his boisterous drama, entered the hospital last Tuesday, suffering from nephritis, a kidney ailment, and severe anemia. He died at 6:01 a. m. CST.

Miss Hayes, his wife of 28 years who bore him their "gift of God baby" in 1929, had cancelled a television appearance because of his illness. She was with him almost constantly until the end.

MacArthur, a Scranton, Pa. minister's son who ran away from divinity school to become first a necktie salesman and then a madcap Chicago newspaper reporter, teamed up with Ben Hecht to write his most successful plays.

Together the two Chicago newspaper buddies wrote first "The Front Page," whose hero, Hildy Johnson could have been patterned after MacArthur, and "Twentieth Century," a roistering play about a tempestuous Hollywood queen.

With the late Sidney Howard, he wrote a play called "Salvation," and he and Edward Shelton turned out "Lulu Belle," another Broadway success.

Editor Attacks Senate Measures

LAKE CHARLES, La. April 21—UP—The president of the Louisiana Daily Newspaper Publishers Association charges that Bills before the U. S. Senate to ban advertisements of alcoholic beverages in inter - state commerce and on the air are threats to freedom of the press.

William H. Shearman, publisher of the Lake Charles American Press and association president, said in a letter to all Louisiana Congressmen that the two bills "are exactly opposite of the American way of doing things."

He said the bills were direct threats to "regulating and controlling what a newspaper may and may not print."

Bitterly Raps Leadership Of Ike And GOP

Says Russia Is Gaining Initiative In The Cold War

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson proposed today that the United States halt H-bomb tests to demonstrate its desire for peace and recapture the world initiative which he said the Eisenhower administration has lost.

Stevenson blamed the loss of this 'moral initiative," which he said is the prelude to the loss of world leadership, on what he called the administration's "rigid, unimaginative" foreign policy.

By contrast, he said "the Russian challenge is developing rapidly and with great flexibility and force."

Stevenson said that if "other nations" do not follow the American example in calling off further H-bomb tests "we will know about it and we can reconsider our policy."

Declaring that the Eisenhower administration has used foreign policy "for political purposes at home," Stevenson said:

"Peace and security are the nation's most important business. Yet nowhere has our government told us less and kidded us more.

"Reverses have been painted as victories. And if the administration has not succeeded in misleading the enemy, it has succeeded wonderfully well in misleading us."

Stevenson addressed a group of newspaper editors from all parts of the country. They greeted him with a rising ovation, remained silent throughout his speech, and then applauded him for 45 seconds at the end.

The Democratic presidential aspirant noted that Russia has protested against this country's scheduled tests in the Pacific next month but said this did not alter his views.

"For this suggestion is right or wrong and should be so considered regardless of the soviet," he said.

Stevenson came to Washington to address a luncheon of the American Society of Newspaper Editors and attend a fund-raising dinner of the Democratic National Committee.

In his speech to the editors he questioned "the sense in multiplying and enlarging weapons of a destructive power already almost incomprehensible" and added:

"I deeply believe that if we are to make progress toward the effective reduction and control of armaments, it will probably come a step at a time.

"And this is a step which, it seems to me, we might now take, a step which would reflect our determination never to plunge the world into nuclear holocaust."

The former Illinois governor, campaigning for his party's top nomination again this year, said he would like to believe that Nikita Khrushchev's call for the abolition of armed forces "means we are on the threshhold of real progress in disarmament at last."

At all events, Stevenson said he hoped the Communist party leader's remarks in a London speech last night "will be received here with something more positive than derision."

DERIDDER, La., April 21—UP—Police said today a 70-year-old Negro admitted shooting and killing another Negro last night at nearby Bancroft in a tussle over a .22 caliber rifle.

Sheriff Paul Stark of Beauregard parish said Amos Carroll admitted shooting M. C. Ashorth after Ashorth came to his home to borrow the rifle. Carroll allegedly refused to let the other Negro borrow the gun, and in a struggle over it, Ashworth was shot.

BILOXI, Miss., April 21 (AP)—A coroner's jury inquest found tonight that John J. Cahill, 44-year-old New Orleans policeman, died during the afternoon of a heart condition while swimming in a motel pool.

WASHINGTON, April 21—UP—President Eisenhower conferred Saturday with Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson on the administration's plan to provide price support for Midwestern corn growers who overplant their acreage allotments.

Benson told reporters afterward that he will announce "shortly" the support price that will be provided under this new program.

MIAMI April 21 —UP— Two young Negro boys, weak from hunger and thirst, were found Saturday inside a closet in a vacant apartment, where they said they had been trapped for 69 hours.

The youngsters, Terry Grant, 5, and Willie Greer, 6, said they were shoved inside the tiny closet Wednesday morning by an unidentified grown-up who pulled the doorknob off the closet door.

March Riots In Stalin's Home State Claimed 100 Lives, Newsman Reports

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following dispatch was written by Roy Esoyan, of the Associated Press, who has been touring Georgia, in South Russia, for a week, and is a first-hand account of the March rioting there in protest of the anti-Stalin drive by Kremlin leaders.

TIFLIS, Soviet Georgia, April 21 (AP)—Reliable sources estimated today that up to 100 Georgians may have been killed when troops opened fire on waves of pro-Stalin demonstrators who tried to seize the Tiflis postoffice on March 9.

This estimate was made as this capital of Stalin's native Georgia unveiled a giant 60-foot statue to Lenin. Some 4,000 soldiers and militiary rigidly kept most of the late dictator's hot-tempered fellow Georgians from the scene of the ceremonies.

All roads leading to Lenin Plaza, the scene of the unveiling, were blocked off to prevent any repetition of last month's demonstrations.

The unveiling itself was a result of a lesson learned by the collective leadership in Moscow from that incident. It appears to have embarked on a policy of ignoring Stalin here, rather than villifying him, of gradually replacing his Georgian likeness with that of Lenin.

After a week's travel and observation around Tiflis and Gori, Stalin's birthplace, this correspondent has pieced together a startling picture of the dramatic events of last month.

Government officials either have refused to discuss those events or have denied that troops were called out or fired on the Demonstrators. Other sources have given widely varying accounts.

According to reliable informants, however, events reached a climax on March 9, the third anniversary of Stalin's burial, when the demonstrators tried to storm the post-office. Some say they wanted to send an appeal to the United Nations. Others said they wanted to seize that hub of communications. The informants gave these details:

Whatever the reason, troops opened fire. For days afterward the city was like an armed camp. Tanks and troops patrolled the streets. A midnight curfew was clamped on the city.

Apparently it all started on March 5 with a peaceful demonstration to honor Stalin on the anniversary of his death. People poured into Tiflis from all parts of Georgia. In the face of official hesitation between the demands of the people and the orders from Moscow to permit no homage to Stalin, the crowds grew.

ioting finally broke out March 9 when crowds stoned buses, seized cars and stopped traffic. Egged on

NEW YORK, April 21 —UP— Playwright Charles MacArthur, who immortalized the roaring 20s in the roistering newspaper play, "The Front Page," died at New York hospital Saturday with his actress wife, Helen Hayes, at his bedside. He was 60.

MacArthur, whose own youthful escapades rivaled those of the characters in his boisterous drama, entered the hospital last Tuesday, suffering from nephritis, a kidney ailment, and severe anemia. He died at 6:01 a. m. CST.

Miss Hayes, his wife of 28 years who bore him their "gift of God baby" in 1929, had cancelled a television appearance because of his illness. She was with him almost constantly until the end.

MacArthur, a Scranton, Pa. minister's son who ran away from divinity school to become first a necktie salesman and then a madcap Chicago newspaper reporter, teamed up with Ben Hecht to write his most successful plays.

Together the two Chicago newspaper buddies wrote first "The Front Page," whose hero, Hildy Johnson could have been patterned after MacArthur, and "Twentieth Century," a roistering play about a tempestuous Hollywood queen.

With the late Sidney Howard, he wrote a play called "Salvation," and he and Edward Shelton turned out "Lulu Belle," another Broadway success.

Editor Attacks Senate Measures

LAKE CHARLES, La. April 21—UP—The president of the Louisiana Daily Newspaper Publishers Association charges that Bills before the U. S. Senate to ban advertisements of alcoholic beverages in inter - state commerce and on the air are threats to freedom of the press.

William H. Shearman, publisher of the Lake Charles American Press and association president, said in a letter to all Louisiana Congressmen that the two bills "are exactly opposite of the American way of doing things."

He said the bills were direct threats to "regulating and controlling what a newspaper may and may not print."

Bitterly Raps Leadership Of Ike And GOP

Says Russia Is Gaining Initiative In The Cold War

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson proposed today that the United States halt H-bomb tests to demonstrate its desire for peace and recapture the world initiative which he said the Eisenhower administration has lost.

Stevenson blamed the loss of this 'moral initiative," which he said is the prelude to the loss of world leadership, on what he called the administration's "rigid, unimaginative" foreign policy.

By contrast, he said "the Russian challenge is developing rapidly and with great flexibility and force."

Stevenson said that if "other nations" do not follow the American example in calling off further H-bomb tests "we will know about it and we can reconsider our policy."

Declaring that the Eisenhower administration has used foreign policy "for political purposes at home," Stevenson said:

"Peace and security are the nation's most important business. Yet nowhere has our government told us less and kidded us more.

"Reverses have been painted as victories. And if the administration has not succeeded in misleading the enemy, it has succeeded wonderfully well in misleading us."

Stevenson addressed a group of newspaper editors from all parts of the country. They greeted him with a rising ovation, remained silent throughout his speech, and then applauded him for 45 seconds at the end.

The Democratic presidential aspirant noted that Russia has protested against this country's scheduled tests in the Pacific next month but said this did not alter his views.

"For this suggestion is right or wrong and should be so considered regardless of the soviet," he said.

Stevenson came to Washington to address a Juncheon of the American Society of Newspaper Editors and attend a fund-raising dinner of the Democratic National Committee.

In his speech to the editors he questioned "the sense in multiplying and enlarging weapons of a destructive power already almost incomprehensible" and added:

"I deeply believe that if we are to make progress toward the effective reduction and control of armaments, it will probably come a step at a time.

"And this is a step which, it seems to me, we might now take, a step which would reflect our determination never to plunge the world into nuclear holocaust."

The former Illinois governor, campaigning for his party's top nomination again this year, said he would like to believe that Nikita Khrushchev's call for the abolition of armed forces "means we are on the threshhold of real progress in disarmament at last."

At all events, Stevenson said he hoped the Communist party leader's remarks in a London speech last night "will be received here with something more positive than derision."

Passengers Report U. S. Military Plane Forced Down By Egyptian Jets

TEHRAN, April 21—UP—Passengers aboard a U. S. Air Force transport said Saturday Communist-built Egyptian MIG jets forced their plane down en route to Cairo earlier this week.

The passengers, who returned here Saturday, said they were forced down at a military field near Cairo.

U.S. Ambassador to Cairo Henry A. Byroade is reported to have lodged a strong protest with the Egyptian government.

It was reported that passengers in the flight to Cairo were treated roughly by Egyptian military personnel.

Twenty-four persons, including military personnel and civilians were aboard the plane which took off from Tehran for Cairo on Wednesday.

The passengers said the pilot encountered the Egyptian MIG-15 jets, which Czechoslovakia supplied to Egypt in an arms deal last year, shortly after the transport crossed the Egyptian frontier.

In Washington, the Air Force said Egyptian planes forced down one of its twin-engine C-47 trans-

'Gentle' Horse Lifts Child Over Fence, Kills Him

MOUNT OLIVE, Miss., April 21 (AP)—A "gentle" work horse pulled a 20-month-old boy across a barbed wire fence with his teeth and then kicked the child to death.

The strange incident was reported today by the child's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Vester Bond.

The couple said little Johnnie Ray Nichols had gone up to a barbed wire fence that separated the yard and pasture at their farm home near here.

While the tot stood admiring the horse, the animal suddenly stretched across the fence and picked the boy up by his clothing and dragged him across the wire.

The horse then dropped the child, the uncle reported, and kicked him 15 to 20 feet away.

Dr. A. S. Calhoun of Mount Olive said the child "gasped once or twice and died a few minutes after he was brought to my office."

The horse was used to pull logs, the farmer said, and was never considered dangerous.

The child's mother, Mrs. Vondale Broadway, had left him with the Bonds while she recuperated from an operation in another town.

The boy had been playing in the yard before going to the fence to watch the horse.

29-Year-Old Man From Tallulah Is Killed In Collision

TALLULAH, April 21 (Special) —A 29-year-old Tallulah man was killed in a head-on collision between a car and a truck loaded with live poultry, early Saturday morning at Thomastown community near here.

Killed instantly in the crash which occurred at 3:15 a.m. was Robert G. Lewis, an employee in the Louisiana Highway Department survey section, driver of the passenger car. Driver of the truck, R. B. Williams, Ruston, was uninjured, according to police, but damage to his truck was estimated at around $1,500. Lewis' car was demolished.

The accident occurred on Highway 80, between Tallulah and Vicksburg.

Funeral services for Lewis, a native of Tallulah, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Will Jones officiating. Burial will be in

Orleans Warden Shot; Search On For Jail Escapee

NEW ORLEANS, April 21 (AP) — Police watched railroad and bus terminals today as they hunted for a Negro who broke out of the Orleans Parish (County) prison after shooting the warden.

The escapee, identified by police as Leonard Caesar, was charged with raping two white women. Prison officials said Caesar shot warden Alton Diket in the groin last night, then forced two deputies to open three gates through which he escaped.

Diket's upper right leg bone was shattered by the bullet, hospital attendants said. The warden is expected to be in the hospital about a month.

Detectives early today arrested Caesar's 23-year-old wife, Nellie, and booked her for investigation of aiding in her husband's escape.

Sheriff Louis J. Heyd said Caesar's wife was one of two visitors he had yesterday. The other was a doctor from the lunacy commission.

Police said they thought Caesar was still in the city. But, they said, neighboring parishes were alerted to watch for him.

Caesar had tried about a month ago to escape from a district police station. Patrolman James Walters shot him in the foot.

French Colonial Troops Wipe Out Rebel Stronghold

ALGIERS, April 21—UP—Veteran French colonial troops wiped out the diehard remnants of a strong rebel band in a wild charge up a heavily-wooded hillside barely 15 miles from the big city of Constantine Saturday.

French authorities reported 40 rebel bodies were found on the battlefield on the outskirts of the dusty settlement of Grarem. Six French soldiers were killed and at least nine wounded.

In all, French security forces killed 107 guerrillas in scattered clashes throughout the terrorist-ridden eastern Algerian department of Constantine in the past 24 hours.

French authorities reported that at least 21 pro-French Moslems were assassinated by Nationalist extremists during the same period.

Forecasters See Occasional Rain

Cloudy skies with occasional rain is the Louisiana weather forecast for today and tomorrow.

The same prediction is made for Arkansas except that today's rain is expected to be confined to the south portion of the state.

Maximum and minimum temperatures in the Monroe area yesterday were 76 and 42 degrees, according to the CAA at Selman field. No important temperature changes are expected.

To Run Electors

Alabama's White Citizens Council To Oppose Demos

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 21 (AP) —White Citizens Council leaders are lining up an independent ticket of presidential elector candidates who again may take Alabama's electoral votes away from the Democratic nominee.

Without it, there is little chance of Alabama joining a third party movement or any other form of southern revolt against a strong civil rights program in the major party platforms this fall.

The 11 Democratic candidates for presidential elector, assured of nomination unopposed in the May 1 party primary, are pledged to support the national party ticket in November regardless of the nominees.

Unless they renounce the oath signed as candidates in the primary, they would have to cast their electoral votes for the regular party ticket even though other southern states might have their on candidate again.

Alabama as one of four states whose electoral votes went to the States Rights nominees, Strom Thurmond and Fielding Wright, in 1948. The electors ran as Democrats pledged to vote against former President Harry Truman.

The present loyalty oath each candidate must sign before he can run in the primary was adopted as a device to prevent a recurrence of the 1948 revolt. It binds the candidate to support the Democratic nominees, including the presidential ticket, in the November general election.

But an independent ticket of electors, if successful in outvoting the Democratic slate in November, would be free to vote for any presidential candidate.

No presidential nominee's name appears on the general election ballot — only the names of the candidates for elector. Under the law independents can qualify for the general election by filing petitions signed by at least 300 qualified voters. They must be turned in to the secretary of state's office by May 1, date of the Democratic primary.

Miscellany In The News

DERIDDER, La., April 21—UP —Police said today a 70-year-old Negro admitted shooting and killing another Negro last night at nearby Bancroft in a tussle over a .22 caliber rifle.

Sheriff Paul Stark of Beauregard parish said Amos Carroll admitted shooting M. C. Ashorth after Ashorth came to his home to borrow the rifle. Carroll allegedly refused to let the other Negro borrow the gun, and in a struggle over it, Ashworth was shot.

BILOXI, Miss., April 21 (AP)—A coroner's jury inquest found tonight that John J. Cahill, 44-year-old New Orleans policeman, died during the afternoon of a heart condition while swimming in a motel pool.

WASHINGTON, April 21—UP—President Eisenhower conferred Saturday with Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson on the administration's plan to provide price support for Midwestern corn growers who overplant their acreage allotments.

Benson told reporters afterward that he will announce "shortly" the support price that will be provided under this new program.

MIAMI April 21 —UP— Two young Negro boys, weak from hunger and thirst, were found Saturday inside a closet in a vacant apartment, where they said they had been trapped for 69 hours.

The youngsters, Terry Grant, 5, and Willie Greer, 6, said they were shoved inside the tiny closet Wednesday morning by an unidenfied grown-up who pulled the doorknob off the closet door.

March Riots In Stalin's Home State Claimed 100 Lives, Newsman Reports

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following dispatch was written by Roy Essoyan, of the Associated Press, who has been touring Georgia, in South Russia, for a week, and is a first-hand account of the March rioting there in protest of the anti-Stalin drive by Kremlin leaders.

TIFLIS, Soviet Georgia, April 21 (AP)—Reliable sources estimated today that up to 100 Georgians may have been killed when troops opened fire on waves of pro-Stalin demonstrators who tried to seize the Tiflis postoffice on March 9.

This estimate was made as this capital of Stalin's native Georgia unveiled a giant 60-foot statue to Lenin. Some 4,000 soldiers and militiary rigidly kept most of the late dictator's hot-tempered fellow Georgians from the scene of the ceremonies.

All roads leading to Lenin Plaza, the scene of the unveiling, were blocked off to prevent any repetition of last month's demonstrations.

The unveiling itself was a result of a lesson learned by the collective leadership in Moscow from that incident. It appears to have embarked on a policy of ignoring Stalin here, rather than villifying him, of gradually replacing his Georgian likeness with that of Lenin.

After a week's travel and observation around Tiflis and Gori, Stalin's birthplace, this correspondent has pieced together a startling picture of the dramatic events of last month.

Government officials either have refused to discuss those events or have denied that troops were called out or fired on the Demonstrators. Other sources have given widely varying accounts.

According to reliable informants, however, events reached a climax on March 9, the third anniversary of Stalin's burial, when the demonstrators tried to storm the post-office. Some say they wanted to send an appeal to the United Nations. Others said they wanted to seize that hub of communications. The informants gave these details:

Whatever the reason, troops opened fire. For days afterward the city was like an armed camp. Tanks and troops patrolled the streets. A midnight curfew was clamped on the city.

Apparently it all started on March 5 with a peaceful demonstration to honor Stalin on the anniversary of his death. People poured into Tiflis from all parts of Georgia. In the face of official hesitation between the demands of the people and the orders from Moscow to permit no homage to Stalin, the crowds grew.

Kennon Outlines 4 'Constructive' Years in Office

BATON ROUGE, April 21 (AP) — Gov. Robert Kennon, who leaves office May 15, today summarized four "constructive" years in Louisiana.

"Civil Service has been re-established on a permanent basis, voting machines are in use in every precinct," he said. "Law enforcement is at an all time high."

In the current edition of the Louisiana Police Jury Review, Kennon wrote:

"Every state institution has received substantial new facilities. The Pontchartrain causeway, the new bridge in New Orleans, a State Supreme Court Building, state office buildings in New Orleans and other cities, renovation of the state Capitols — old and new — all contribute to the greatest public road and public building program ever seen in Louisiana."

He cited 15,528 miles of new road construction "as compared to 11,836 miles during the previous four years."

And he praised the institutions board for converting Angola state penitentiary from America's worst prison" into one of the best and construction of the new first offenders correctional institution at DeQuincy where "young, first offenders will be removed from the hardened criminals at Angola."

On mental hospitals, including the State Colony and Training School, Kennon said:

"The new look goes beyond new buildings which have replaced fire-traps at these institutions. The goal is now medical and psychiatric treatment for a return to society, rather than mere custodial care."

Former Governor Sam Jones Urges 2-Party System

BILOXI, Miss., April 21 (AP) — Leading Dixie citizens taking part in the Southern Assembly joined here today in the view that state governments should take active leadership in relieving racial tension.

In panel discussion, they emphasized the importance of maintaining law and order, and urged that the governors set the proper tone and atmosphere for rational consideration of segregation and associated problems.

Former gov. Sam H. Jones of Louisiana declared in a address prepared for delivery tonight that "the time has come, and is overripe, for the establishment of a permanent two-party system in the South."

Prefacing his remarks with the statement that "I am a Democrat and hope to remain a Democrat," Jones said:

"My chief reason for advocating the two party system for this region is that it will release from political bondage that great unused and largely wasted leadership of the South which can be used to the political advantage of both the South and the nation as a whole."

The assembly is sponsored by Tulane University in cooperation with the American Assembly of Columbia University, which was founded by President Eisenhower in 1950 when he was president of Columbia.

The meeting brought together approximately 50 leaders from various aspects of southern life for a four-day discussion of the functions and problems of state government. The session ends tomorrow.

More than 80,000 Americans die of cancer needlessly each year. These lives could have been saved by earlier diagnosis and prompt treatment, says the American Cancer Society. Fight cancer with a checkup and a check.

Y. W. C. A. ADVISORY BOARD—In preparation for national Young Women's Christian Association week members of the advisory board met recently at the Y building, 1515 Jackson street. Seated, left to right, Mrs. Milling Bernstein, president of the board of directors, Rev. W. H. McFadden, representative of the ministerial association, and Ed Ellison, a member of the advisory board. Standing, Frank Eason, associated with the advisory board, and Charles Woods, representative of the Y. M. C. A. (Staff photo by John Fogleman.)

The American Cancer Society has provided more than $1,000,000 for research on lung cancer, which now claims 27,000 lives annually.

Cancer cure rates could be doubled, says the American Cancer Society, if early detection were a rule without exception.

UN Charter Revision Report

Senate Group To View 'Any Attempt' To Seat Red China 'With Alarm'

WASHINGTON, April 21 —UP— A Senate Foreign Relations subcomittee said Saturday it would "view with the greatest concern" any effort to seat Red China in the United Nations.

The group, headed by Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.), also urged that the United States work toward contributing less money to the UN and that the controversial veto be retained except in the settlement of warlike disputes and the admission of new members.

In a 36-page report on the question of UN charter revision, the subcommittee recommended that President Eisenhower explore "the possibilities of linking together the various regional and other defense treaties in which this country participates."

The subcommittee based its recommendations on a series of public hearings it held last year in Washington and a number of other cities in various sections of the country. George, who heads the full foreign relations committee, assumed the chairmanship of the subcommittee.

The UN voted last year to hold a charter revision conference. But plans have not yet been worked out for such a meeting, pending suggestions from member nations.

The George group said it "finds no reason to disagree with the decision of the (UN) General Assembly to create a committee of all members to consider questions which will arise" in connection with a charter revision.

In its summary, the subcommittee said it would "view with the utmost concern the seating of representatives of any state which fails to adhere to the elementary decencies of international conduct."

It left no doubt that the language was aimed at Communist China by pointing out the continued and vigorous opposition of Congress to having the Peiping government in the UN.

In another of its major findings, the Senate group said "efforts should be made to clarify the relationship between a citizen's duties and privileges with respect to his own country and his status as an employe of the United Nations.

The UN has come under congressional fire on several occasions for its security screening practices on American employes.

The subcommittee recommended that the controversial veto power "be retained unimpaired" except in "cases of pacific settlement and the admission of new members."

Methodists Of Area To Meet In Minnesota

Arkansas and Louisiana will have eighteen official delegates at the General Conference of the Methodist Church which will hold its quadrennial sessions at the Municipal Auditorium, Minneapolis, Minn. April 25-May 9.

The voting ministerial and lay delegates, equally divided will represent 9,313,278 members of the Methodist Church in the United States and its territories, and more than 600,000 in some 25 other countries throughout the world.

Dr. Aubrey G. Walton, Alton B. Raney, and Roland M. Shelton, all of Little Rock, Ark., and Dr. E. Clifton Rule, Hope, Ark., make-up the Little Rock Conference delegation.

From Louisiana, official delegates are: Dr. Guy M. Hicks, Ruston; Dr. W. E. Trice, Baton Rouge; Dr. Robert C. Carter, Covington; Dr. Virgil D. Morris, New Orleans; Robert P. Lay, Gilliam; Judge Robert J. O'Neal, Shreveport; Mrs. C. I. Jones, New Orleans; and James N. Fomby, Alexandria.

Bishop Paul E. Martin, head of the Arkansas-Louisiana Area of the church, will be among the 75 Methodist bishops who will attend the conference and who will preside over plenary sessions.

The views of the bishops are expressed at the conference in the traditional episcopal message or "state of the church" address, as it is sometimes called. The bishops do not have a vote on legislation which comes before the conference.

Major items of interest expected to be acted upon by the official lawmaking body of the Methodist Church will include: racial segregation; full clergy rights for women preachers; increased support for the church's missionary, educational, and philantropic agencies; a four year program to strengthen Methodist educational institutions and local churches; authorization of two new seminaries; and the allocation of $1,000,000 to help establish a School of International Service at American University, Washington, D. C., a Methodist institution, as a Protestant training center for students in government and foreign service.

Workers Charge Parent Union In Strike 'Sellout'

OKLAHOMA CITY, april 21 — UP—Some 80 union members, who walked out of the Aero Design and Engineering Co. plant here last November charged Saturday they have been "sold out" by their union.

The charge was directed at the International Union of United Automobile, Aircraft and Agricultural Implement Workers of America.

John W. Vinson, International representative of the union and its official spokesman, would not comment on the charges.

The workers, who have not been able to find other employment since the start of the five-month old walkout, declared the union cut off all assistance to them Friday night.

The strikers contend that the union, without explanation, ended the picket line at the aircraft plant Monday and closed down the Bethany cafeteria which had been leased to feed the picket lines.

The strikers declared they left the plant with the understanding that the union, nationally, had a $27 million strike fund.

More than 350 workers walked out last November because of a wage dispute. Some 50 returned to work shortly afterwards. Only 200 of the remaining have found jobs since then.

Seniors To Produce Three-Act Comedy

WINNSBORO, April 21 (Special) —The Winnsboro High School seniors will present "Tattletale," a three-act comedy by Ann Coulter Martens, in the Winnsboro High School auditorium, Monday, April 23, at 8 p.m.

The play, which revolves around the publication of a personal diary in the local newspaper, is loaded with fun and laughs.

Included in the cast are Patsy Colvin, Jim Colvin, Tim Rogers, Jackie Carpenter, Janice Robinson, H. W. Aarmstrong, Glenda Bennett, Vivian Ellis, Mary Kat McCain, Jeraldine Free, Charles Hatfield, Billy Pirtle, Dewey Brownell, Tommy Parks, Faye Wiggins, Ralph Gill, Sally Ann Robinson, Ann McCaleb, Jenelle Peoples and Guy Luno.

RECEIVE CERTIFICATES—Personnel of the Winnsboro cotton classing office were presented certificates of merit here recently. Left to right, Clyde H. Lowry, officer in charge of the Winnsboro unit, Mrs. Ruth Dalton, secretary, A. M. Hodgkins, assistant, and Clyde C. McWhorter, of Memphis, who presented the awards. The honors were given for "contribution to exceptionally high standard of efficiency and economy of operation."

Certificates Awarded To Cotton Office Employees

WINNSBORO, April 21 (Special) —Certificates of merit were presented to three officials of the Winnsboro Cotton Classing Office here recently by Clyde C. McWhorter, of Memphis, south central area manager of the cotton division of the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Receiving the certificates were Clyde H. Lowry, officer in charge of the Winnsboro office, A. M. Hodgkins, assistant, and Mrs. Ruth Dalton, secretary.

The certificates are awarded for sustained superior performance and read as follows: "For your contribution to the exceptionally high standard of efficiency and economy of operation of the Winnsboro classing office resulting in an expanded and improved service to the cotton producers of Louisiana."

McWhorter said that a certificate of merit is the highest honorary recognition granted by the Agricultural Marketing Service.

"These awards are presented," said McWhorter, "in recognition of the high standard of services to farmers and the efficiency of operation maintained during the four seasons the Winnsboro Classing Office has been in operation."

"We realize," McWhorter emphasized, "that it would be impossible to present an award to each person who is responsible for the successful operation of this office. The fine personnel who work here during the classing season, county agents, ginners, warehousemen, bonded samplers, and farmers, whose cooperation we depend upon so much in our operations are equally responsible for our success."

"The Winnsboro Classing Office was established in 1952," McWhorter recalled. "Its purpose is to supply farmer members of cotton quality improvement organizations in Caldwell, Catahoula, Concordia, East Carroll, Franklin, Madison, Morehouse, Ouachita, Richland, Tensas, and West Carroll parishes with free cotton classification and market news under the provisions of the Smith-Doxey Act." These services give farmers information on the quality and price of their cotton they would not otherwise be able to obtain," he stated.

To illustrate the increased services to farmers during its four years of operation, McWhorter pointed out that in 1952, its first year of operation, the Winnsboro office classed only 173,742 bales, or about 56 per cent of the total cotton ginned in the eleven parishes it serves. During the bumper 1953 season the office classed 360,966 bales, or about 87 per cent of the total ginned, he said. Although the number of bales classed decreased to 216,531 in 1954, because of lower production this represented almost 88 per cent of the total cotton ginned, the official pointed out.

The 1955 season brought another increase in services to cotton farmers in the area, with the classification of 260,294 bales, or 94 per cent of the total crop, McWhorter said.

"Coincident with the improvement and increase in services rendered," McWhorter said, "the Winnsboro office has consistently operated at a high level of efficiency. During its four years of operation it has had lower cost per bale of cotton classed than any of the 32 offices of the Cotton Division located throughout the cotton belt."

FPC Hunting For Stabilizing Plan For Gas Charges

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP)—The Federal Power Commission (FPC) is considering a step intended, it says, to make natural gas prices to consumers "as stable as possible."

Under the proposal the FPC would not accept after July 1 sales contracts calling for certain types of automatic price increases or "favored nation" treatment. It said such contracts are not in "the public interest."

The proposal, which would involved amending FPC rules, will be considered by the commission after it receives the views of gas producers and others interested. It has set a June 1 dealing for submission of such views.

Under certain types of "escalator" provisions in contracts between pipeline companies and producers, the producer rate may be increased when an interstate pipeline is permitted by the government to increase its wholesale rate.

Another type of escalator clause in some contracts calls for an automatic increase in the price of gas at the well when the index of labor, materials and other costs goes up.

Under a "favored nation" clause, a producer may increase his price to a pipeline if another pipeline company buying gas from him in the same area offers to pay more. The producer also could increase his price under such a clause if another producer in the same area receives more than he is receiving.

The Independent Petroleum Assn. of America said in its April supply and demand outlook that because of seasonal fluctuation, total petroleum demand in the April, May and June quarter is expected to be about 1,200,000 barrels daily less than in the first quarter of the year.

Announced production allowables indicate that April crude oil production will continue at about 7,200,000 barrels daily, according to the forecast.

44 Arrests Recorded For Week By Troop

Members of Troop "F" of the Louisiana State Police arrested 44 persons during the past week. Five were charged with driving while intoxicated, according to the weekly report.

State troopers placed charges of driving while intoxicated against Maynard B. McIntire, 34, of Ansley; Charles L. Ralls, 30, of Chalmette; William E. Sims, 36, of Hebert; Jessie Lee Duggan, 50, of Shreveport.

Other arrests were reckless Shreveport; and William Gardner, 59 of Mer Rouge.

Other arrests were reckless driving, six charges; speeding in autos, nine; speeding in trucks, six; no drivers license, seven violations; oversize load, two; and disturbing the peace, four.

Missouri Woman Installed As Head Of National DAR

WASHINGTON, April 21 —UP— Mrs. Frederic A. Groves was installed as president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution Saturday before weary delegates to the drawn - out 65th Continental Congress.

The youthful grandmother from Cape Girardeau, Mo., became the 22nd DAR president.

She launched her administration by asking for the help of the two women who, until Friday night, were rivals for the top job. And she pledged to "keep faith" with the society's past.

Constitution Hall, stripped of the concession booths which had given it a holiday air all week, was less than half full for the installation ceremony Many delegates brought suitcases with them so they could hasten their departure for home.

Mrs. Groves was elected Friday in a second run - off ballot which extended this year's Congress 24 hours. Results of the second voting were announced late Friday night at the traditional annual banquet.

Other new officers included:

Mrs. Herbert C. Parker, New Orleans, La., reporter general; Mrs. Frank Garland Trau, Sherman, Tex., organizing secretary general.

The cancer death rate for women aged 35-44 has declined 25 per cent since 1942, says the American Cancer Society. Fight cancer by joining the ACS Crusade.

PROTECT YOUR FURS FROM THEIR ENEMIES

. . . Contrary to general opinion, cedar chests and camphor balls are not moth preventives.
Furs should be stored in refrigerated vaults where cold air and modern sceintific care will protect the skins and preserve their beauty and lustre. Summer heat dries out the natural oils in the skins and ruins the fur. Phone 8131 and our messenger will pick up your furs at your door. Or bring them to our 2nd floor desk.

It is advisable to have your furs cleaned. Dry cleaning ruins furs. Our special drum cleaning process removes all dirt, grease and grime from the fur and lining and restores the original lustre to the fur. The cost is very nominal and it will add many years of life to your fur garment.

'Court Or Constitution'

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following address, a notable one, was delivered by W. Scott Wilkinson, Shreveport attorney and President of the Shreveport Rotary Club. In view of its eloquence and importance, The Morning World, by permission, reprints it in full.

The title of this address was "Court or Constitution?"

When the highest Court in the land renders an opinion which disobeys and rejects the fundamental law of the Constitution, do the people have a right to avoid, by every lawful means, the decree of the Court? That question has been answered in the affirmative by Constitutional lawyers, legislators and public officials in recent months and in years gone by. When Court and Constitution conflict it becomes the duty of those versed in the law to call attention to the danger that lies in the Court's decisions.

During the past twenty years there has been a constantly growing tendency on the part of the Supreme Court to usurp the legislative powers granted by the Constitution to Congress, and to disregard and nullify the powers reserved by the Constitution to the States. The commerce clause of the Constitution has been carried by the Court to extremes which were never intended by those who fashioned the fundamental laws—so much so that today the federal government regulates and controls many details of private business and individual transactions of a strictly local nature—matters that are only remotely related to interstate commerce and do not affect it in the slightest degree.

In recent months the Supreme Court has handed down three decisions of general importance that furnish glaring examples of conflict with the Constitution. The first of these decisions was rendered in the Tidelands Cases where the Court in defiance of the Supreme Law gave to the federal government submerged lands along the coasts of Louisiana, Texas, California and other coastal states—mineral rich lands that had always been recognized by the Courts and the United States as the property of these States.

The second decision which has gained the disapproval of experts in Constitutional law is the ruling in the Phillips case giving to the Federal Power Commission the power and duty to fix the price of natural gas at the well-head. This decree was entered in the teeth of an Act of Congress which declared that the Federal Power Commission shall have no jurisdiction over the production and gathering of natural gas, since these are matters subject only to State control.

The Supreme Court's ruling in the School Segregation Cases is undoubtedly the greatest affront to the Constitution ever committed by the Court, and has done more to create disunity and a spirit of rebellion than any other pronouncement of that tribunal. This decision which uproots the laws, traditions and customs of sixteen States of the Union is without precedent in Judicial history. Instead of following law and legal precedents the Court decided these cases on the biased and unsubstantiated opinions of radical sociologists and psychologists who were not even sworn as witnesses, and whose character and qualifications are of questionable repute. In fact official records reveal that many of these so-called authorities are, or have been, members of communist organizations committed to the task of stirring up racial strife and internal disunity in America.

The Supreme Court's idea that the Constitution changes with the varying opinions of social theorists is more dangerous to the Constitution and to the stability of the American republic than the threat of Communism itself. Even the most ardent believers in racial integration could not conscientiously sanction court action which rests on such a false foundation.

Chief Justice Marshall, the greatest exponent of Constitutional law who ever sat on the high Court, says in one of his famous opinions:

> "The Constitution is framed for ages to come and is designed to approach immortality as nearly as human institutions can approach it."

So the Court in declaring new social policies for the nation, rejected the States Right Amendment, and disobeyed the Articles of the Constitution which prohibit the Court from usurping the legislative powers of Congress. Chief Justice Marshall also had a word to say about this:

> "We have no more right to decline the exercise of Jurisdiction which is given than to usurp that which is not given. The one or the other would be treason to the Constitution."

Public virtue, like private morale, begins to decay whenever a nation departs from the fundamental ideals and principles on which it was founded. It makes no difference whether the reason for the departure be good or bad. The fact is that in the past 6,000 years twenty-one of the great nations have fallen into eternal oblivion, and each civilization began to totter at the precise moment that it abandoned its basic virtues. "Treason to the Constitution" can undermine America just as it has destroyed the glory of Greece and the power of Rome.

In the magnitude of the Court's error there is hope for corrective action—legislative or judicial. Those timid and hopeless people who surrender their liberty and submit to the Court's decree without protest or lawful resistance should remember the battle cry of our ancestors who gave their life blood for American Independence:

"Resistance to tyranny is obedience to God!"

Not Far Enough

Dudley F. Pegrum, a professor of economics at UCLA, has something interesting to say about the Cabinet Committee report on transportation regulation, which is primarily based on the idea that transportation laws and policies should be relaxed in order to give the carriers greater competitive freedom in pricing their services.

Professor Pegrum regards the report as sound—"as far as it goes." But he does not think it goes far enough. In his view, it ignores "the question of public aid to highway, air and water transportation—an aspect of public policy which is quite as much in need of objective and critical appraisal as the unequal impact of regulation. . . ."

The fact is that of all the commercial carriers, the railroads alone pay their own way in every particular. They must install and maintain every inch of the tracks they use—along with everything else involved in railroad operation, and pay taxes on it. Their competitors, by contrast, all get subsidies of one kind or another, direct or indirect, in the form of roads, airfields, navigational aids, and so on.

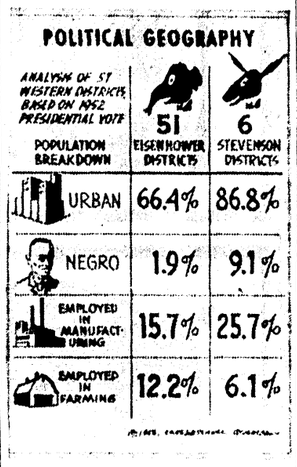
Congressional Quarterly

West Gains People, Political Importance

WASHINGTON — The Far West — with 79 electoral votes, 57 House seats, eight Senate seats and six governorships at stake in November — offers a tempting political prize to Republicans and Democrats.

On the basis of the 1954 election, things are looking up for the Democrats in the eight Mountain and three Pacific Coast states that comprise the west. They picked up Senate seats in Oregon and Wyoming and lost one in Colorado, for a net gain of one. They also elected three Democratic governors — in Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico — where there were none before.

But Democrats face an uphill fight against President Eisenhower in the west. The 1952 Republican candidate carried 51 of 57 Congressional districts and all 11 states, with 57.3 per cent of the more than 9,000,000 votes. That was some 2 per cent more than for the nation as a whole.



Population shifts could hold the key to the outcome of balloting this November. Census figures show that, from 1950 to 1955, the west as a whole gained about 3.6 million persons for an increase of 18.3 per cent, or twice the national average. Almost 2.5 million of this gain was in California alone.

The political importance of these gains is underscored by the results of a special analysis of the population and voting characteristics of California's 30 Congressional districts, based on the 1954 election and the 1950 census — the latest complete figures available.

Democrats outvoted Republicans in the 1954 Congressional races in California by more than 100,000 votes statewide. But Democrats elected only 11 representatives to 19 for the Republicans. This disparity in results seems to stem from the relative size of the Congressional districts, which were reapportioned to give California seven additional House seats following the 1950 census.

Congressional Quarterly's study found that 18 of the state's 30 districts qualified as metropolitan — that is, almost wholly urban. In 1954, Republicans won in 12 of these districts, Democrats in six. Of the dozen non-metropolitan districts, Republicans won seven, Democrats five.

The six Democratic city districts averaged 435,000 population in 1950, or 40 per cent larger than the 309,000 - person average for the 12 Republican city districts. Unless the GOP - represented districts have grown and continue to grow at a much faster pace than the six Democratic - led districts, Democrats will continue to be at a disadvantage in Congressional contests until another reapportionment following the 1960 census, when California is slated to gain another eight seats.

CQ's study pointed up other sharp differences between these two groups of districts. For example, the proportion of Negroes was twice as large in the six Democratic districts as in the 12 Republican districts — 7.8 per cent against 3.6 per cent. Blue - collar workers outnumbered white-collar workers in the former, in the proportion of 57.3 to 40.6, while the ratio was reversed — 41.7 to 55.9 — in the Republican districts.

By contrast, only insignificant differences were noted between the seven GOP-held non - metropolitan districts (average population 349,000) and the five Democratic-held non - city districts (average population 363,000). Thus the greatest political consequences of population shifts are most likely to make themselves felt in the highly urban areas of California.

The problems of Democrats are not confined to California. In a total 1954 vote of about 7,000,000 in the 11 western states, Republican Congressional candidates polled only 50,000 more votes than Democrats, yet ended up with 37 of the 57 House seats.

However, 13 of the 37 winning Republicans won by less than 55 per cent of the vote, while this was true of only four of the 20 winning Democrats. The four "marginal" Democrats all increased their share of the vote in 1954, and in two cases — California's B. F. Sisk and Oregon's Edith Green — wrested seats from Republicans. But five of the 13 "Marginal" Republicans also boosted their share of the 1954 vote, in one case (California's John F. Baldwin Jr.) winning a Democratic seat.

Democrats and Republicans stand on even ground in the Senate. Each party holds 11 of the 22 western seats and must defend four in 1956. Democratic seats at stake are those held by Sens. Alan Bible (Nev.), Carl Hayden (Ariz.), Warren G. Magnuson (Wash.) and Wayne Morse (Ore.), GOP seats are those of Sens. Wallace F. Bennett (Utah), Thomas H. Kuchel (Calif.), Eugene D. Millikin (Colo.) and Herman Welker (Idaho). All but Bennett and Bible have announced plans to seek re-election.

Each party likewise is defending three governorships, but the job may be tougher for the Democrats since the three are all they have. Democratic incumbents are Ernest W. McFarland (Ariz.), Edwin C. Johnson (Colo.) and John F. Simms Jr. (N. M.). GOP governors up are J. Hugo Aronson (Mont.), J. Bracken Lee (Utah), and Arthur B. Langlie (Wash.).

Ike On Subsidies

The Democrats intend to make a campaign issue of the President's veto of the farm bill, but there are those who think the man in the White House has outsmarted them again.

Several important considerations influenced the veto, but one that carred most political weight with the President, it is understood, is that he could reject the bill and still take care of the farm area in when the most Republican votes are found — the tier of 12 midwest states extending from Ohio to Colorado.

If that is the case' the veto will cost the Republican candidate little in the way of electoral votes, which are his main quarry now. As one top official in the administration said confidentially to a group of friends the evening after the veto:

"We don't care about cotton, and we don't care about wheat. Nor do peanuts and rice mean anything to us. But when that corn-hog economy begins to slip, then we had better do something in a hurry."

That was supported by the special consideration which the President, in his veto message and later T-V remarks promised the corn country a new provision which would enable farmers to grow all the corn they wish and still get a relatively high subsidy.

Beyond that, however, he has it in his power to boost other subsidies under the existing farm act. To have done so while the new bill was under debate would have reversed the purposes of the act itself, which was to reduce all agricultural subsidies, but that argument can be readily overlooked if farm areas seem to be wavering in their Republican support.

Some Republicans in Congress who went out on a limb by voting for the bill must now depend largely on Ike to save their seats. Such members are found in Illinois, Iowa, Ohio, Indiana, Nebraska and Kansas. In Minnesota and the Dakotas, Republicans voted for the bill to save their political lives, and will not depend on the President to pull them through this fall, because his popularity in the wheat belt is at a low ebb.

But in the corn states, the GOP gamble is that price of both feed grains and livestock can be upheld, which will pay off in electoral votes.

The President will not get a new farm bill at this session but he can always follow the precedent of Harry S. Truman and call a special session of Congress, as Truman did after his renomination in 1948, to impress the country that he is giving Congress every opportunity to act on farm legislation. Though such a session would be held after the political conventions and upset campaign plans of Republicans as well as Democrats, it is definitely included in the present White House strategy.

Under the present act, the President is prepared to use a section of the existing flexible support law which would permit him to support the price of corn for farmers who fail to comply with federal acreage controls. Under this, commercial corn, that is not fed to livestock would be boosted to $1.50 a bushel. It was also pointed out that cotton could be supported at 82½ per cent of parity, wheat at $2 a bushel, rice at $4.50, and other commodities accordingly.

On the amount saved the U. S. Treasury by the veto there is not so much to be said. Previous estimates said the new bill would have cost two billions in its first year, but the private calculations on the plan announced by the President indicate an additional expenditure of at least $1,200,000,000. But consumers will be assured this difference is in their favor.

The regrettable part is that the veto really solves nothing. Surpluses will continue to accumulate, with no better prospect of disposal in world markets than before. Farm prices will be upped only by subsidy payments, and the year's surplus production may put farm prices into another tailspin—particularly in the case of corn and hogs.

Truman Reminiscent Of Galento

Tony Galento was a barrel-chested bartender from Jersey who knew utterly no science and had even less respect for the Marquis rules, but he was tough. He would swing with both and he would keep wading forward and swinging everywhere — until many a more orthodox opponent went down for the count.

Mr. Truman fights like that.

I do not mean this to indict or disparage either man. It is simply a "different" way of fighting.

And neither Joe Louis nor Tom Dewey would deny its effectiveness.

Scientific boxing is supposed to be superior to alley fighting, but if you're ever in an alley with no referee watching, don't bet that way.

Since Mr. Eisenhower and Mr. Stevenson squared off politely in 1952, there has been a tendency to political moderation. Sophistication.

It is the present fashion for campaigners to assume at least a pose of respectability, responsibility, intellectuality.

Not Mr. Truman.

"I am a Democrat and I am a politician and I am proud of it!"

No pose there. No pretense at anything he isn't.

Indeed, Mr. Truman is the only real, rough - and - tumble type slam - bang tub - thumping roughneck politician still around.

In Des Moines, Iowa, Mr. Truman called Mr. Eisenhower a "do-nothing president." Said he had "betrayed the farmers."

Mr. Truman's methods may be branded political demagoguery by the moderates, but the crowds cheer that kind of fighter!

Professional politicians may assume that, because Mr. Eisenhower's pronounced philosophy of moderation appears popular, the opposition should imitate it . . .

But recent political history demonstrates that me-too-ism does not inspire many and does not elect anybody.

While the administration adopts slogans — stands with dignity on its record — Mr. Truman is out in the grainfields charging, "Another Republican depression has already started . . . on the farms."

And traditionally conservative Iowa farmers drowned him out with their cheers.

The following morning, President Eisenhower felt constrained to reply. It was the first time he had talked back to his former superior.

From the vacation White House in Augusta, Georgia — through Press Secretary Hagerty — the president said, "I don't believe Mr. Truman, by his own standards, can recognize accomplishment when he sees it."

However that dignified reply may have "said it all," it is still difficult to imagine that it would bring anybody to his feet cheering.

Medical Practices Act

905 Ransom St.
West Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

The ruling in the recent trial of Dr. H. C. Sloat in Bastrop makes it look as if the Louisiana medical practices act just about prohibits everything.

Quoting from a story in the News-Star on April 10, the following is a part of the judge's ruling: " . . is forever enjoined, restrained and prohibited from . . . treating, curing, or relieving any bodily or mental disease, condition, infirmity, deformity, defect, ailment, or injury in any human being other than himself, whether by use of drug, instrument or force, whether physical or psychic or of whatever other nature, or by any other agency or means."

The above quotation, given by the judge, is taken from the Louisiana medical practices act, which is so all - inclusive that no person can have any kind of contact with other persons without violating the medical practices act.

The medical practices law should be changed, as it gives the medical societies complete authority to stop any act of any human being.

If applied fully — and all laws should be enforced or taken off the books — the Louisiana medical practices act would:

Make it illegal for anyone to perform any of the rescue acts taught in the Red Cross first aid course, since the law specifically makes it unlawful to relieve anyone in any way, since that would be giving physical relief.

Illegal to rescue a drowning person, since that would be giving physical relief.

Illegal for a speech therapist or psychologist to carry on his work in schools or colleges or elsewhere, since he would be giving physical or mental relief or both.

Illegal for a Christian Science practitioner to practice, except by special permission, which is granted under the law, thus favoring these practitioners over others.

Illegal for weight reducing salons to operate, since they are relieving both physical and mental conditions.

Illegal for a beauty operator to operate except under special legislative permission, which is granted.

Illegal to apply a tourniquet to a person bleeding to death, since that would be giving physical relief of the most urgent kind.

All of these things are clearly illegal unless specifically exempted under the Louisiana Medical Practices Act, and few of these are exempted.

But, let us go farther:

Lawyers definitely provide mental and physical relief for many of their clients. They are licensed to practice law but they are not specifically exempted under the medical practices act, insofar as the act itself is concerned.

All insurance men intend to; and do provide physical and mental relief and they operate without a license, or, if operating as a firm, have the same kind of a license granted to other business organizations.

Teachers definitely provide mental and physical relief to their students, to overcome handicaps or defects. If this were not true there would be no point in attending school.

It all boils down to the fact that the medical doctors have the power, under the Medical Practices Act, to prohibit anyone from any kind of human relations if they choose.

Right now they are choosing to stop a lot of them against the will of the people, who have the right to choose who shall treat them, so long as the treatment is understood by the patient or client.

Only the indignation of the people can stop tyranny.

MRS. ELLA WOOD.

Homestead Exemptions

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I desire to thank you and your publications for the wonderful cooperation you gave my office in getting 1956 homestead exemptions signed by Ouachita Parish property owners. You have not only been most helpful to my office, but have rendered a public service of much value to the property owners.

It is indeed gratifying to have been accorded such splendid team work.

Trees And Railroads

Chicago, Ill.

Editor, Morning World:

As a result of being away from the office on a somewhat extended business trip I have just had an opportunity to read the editorial entitled "Trees and Railroads," which you had in the Monroe News-Star of April 4. I think you have used a very appropriate figure of speech in pointing out the necessity of giving the railroads of America the strength and stamina they need to meet the great demands that are made upon them.

Negro Treated Better In South

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

From my long experience dealing with the public and as a close observer of the NAACP operations in both the south and the north, I am forced to believe that the northern newspapers and magazines—and some southern publications as well — have agitated and kept burning the fires of strife and race hatred among southern Negroes and whites.

The press has gone farther than the NAACP would dare to go. Certainly few people attend NAACP sessions, but most read the newspapers which too often abuse the freedom of the press.

From my experience in all parts of the country, I find the colored people in business, are treated far better in the south than they are in Chicago, New York or Los Angeles.

With a "King's Row" law in those cities, many poor colored families are pressed beyond measure by seizures for debt due to faculty credit rules. They are harried and persecuted without recourse to the law. This does not happen in the south.

Yet the newspapers and magazines—including those devoted entirely to Negro affairs—fail to take a firm stand. But, if such a happening should occur in a southern state, the same publications would play up the story in big type.

Actually the colored man wants very little other than a fair deal in our courts, decent rest room facilities in stations and downtown areas less use of unpleasant epithet and the right to work and bring up his family in a decent, God-fearing manner.

In most respects the south is much fairer than the North. And much is not getting an "honest count" in the northern newspapers and magazines.

The writer of this is a colored man, now preaching at the Mount Pilgrim Baptist Church in Waterproof, La., but well known to many in the area.

I know people, I know the problems of my race, and I know that most of the discord of recent times is largely due to the northern newspapers and not to the NAACP, which actually wields little influence on the average Negro.

Amendments 1 And 3

New Orleans, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I would like to express our sincere appreciation to you and your newspaper for the invaluable support you gave for the passage of Amendments One and Three in Tuesday's election.

Your leadership in this fight put your newspaper in the forefront in looking out for the best interests of the citizens of our state. And certainly the results are a clear expression of the public's will against increased taxes.

We in Orleans Parish would like to offer our special thanks for your support of Amendment Number Three, since its failure would have meant a definite increase in our taxes. The three-to-one majority which this amendment received in New Orleans clearly demonstrated the feeling of our citizens. However, if it had not been for your help, the will of our voters to protect themselves against increased taxation might have been thwarted.

ELESSEPS S. MORRISON,
Mayor.

Lights Over Broadway

By Walter Winchell

Press photogs are, in a way, universal lamplighters who have brightened and extended journalism's frontiers. They have given news an added dimension by offering a deeper insight into contemporary event. The lens, magically, can record an emotion in one person's heart and transmit it to the hearts of millions. Moreover, it can capture and preserve an instant of history. The Wright's rickety plane challenging the skies, Firpo sending Dempsey sprawling through the ropes, Lindbergh landing in Paris, Dillinger stretched on a slab, Hitler in a frenzy, Pearl Harbor's burning wreckage, the atomic bomb's fiery umbrella, Mussolini hanging by his toes, the Babe belting one out of the park. And of, course, the flag raising atop Iowa Jima. The cameras caught the drama of news as well as the grandeur of history.

Another who traveled from Hell to the front pages was photog Dan Brigham. He was acquainted with the Italian who photographed the dangling Il Duce and his mistress. Brigham received the pictures at the Swiss-Italian border. It was necessary to travel 125 miles — to Geneva — where they could be relayed to his New York paper. . . Meyer Berger reported the details some time ago: "Brigham set out on his dangerous ride through Alpine passes to Geneva. He headed into a mountain blizzard, careening and skidding over black precipices on the dark and narrow Alpine roads. Half way to Geneva a tire split. Brigham changed it, with wind tearing at his garments and freezing his hands." Incidentally, one paper offered $5,000 for rights to reproduce Mussolini's melancholy finale. It was eventually distributed gratis as a public service.

Sammy Schulman, FDR's pet photog, also carried adventure as a banner. While covering a Cuban revolution, Sammy went into the street to aim his lens at the action. Years later, Schulman met a Cuban in a New York bar who cordially informed: "I was at a window sniping during that uprising. For a long time I couldn't find anybody to shoot. Then I saw you and aimed at your head. When I saw your camera." (Sammy gulped hard and immediately ordered a stiff drink.)

Equally exciting was Norman Alley's experience when Chicago's journalism was being written with roman candles. He accompanied a reporter to a gambling dive. As the gamblers turned to see who was entering — Alley's bulbs popped. He and the reporter pell-mell'd toward their car for a swift getaway. The enraged gamblers followed — the two cars zoomed through the streets, zig-zagging and skidding with brakes screeching and motors roaring. Attracted by the commotion, the police collared the gamblers. . . . Alley's photo provided the evidence.

'Court Or Constitution'

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following address, a notable one, was delivered by W. Scott Wilkinson, Shreveport attorney and President of the Shreveport Rotary Club. In view of its eloquence and importance, The Morning World, by permission, reprints it in full. The title of this address was "Court or Constitution?"

When the highest Court in the land renders an opinion which disobeys and rejects the fundamental law of the Constitution, do the people have a right to avoid, by every lawful means, the decree of the Court? That question has been answered in the affirmative by Constitutional lawyers, legislators and public officials in recent months and in years gone by. When Court and Constitution conflict it becomes the duty of those versed in the law to call attention to the danger that lies in the Court's decisions.

During the past twenty years there has been a constantly growing tendency on the part of the Supreme Court to usurp the legislative powers granted by the Constitution to Congress, and to disregard and nullify the powers reserved by the Constitution to the States. The commerce clause of the Constitution has been carried by the Court to extremes which were never intended by those who fashioned the fundamental laws—so much so that today the federal government regulates and controls many details of private business and individual transactions of a strictly local nature—matters that are only remotely related to interstate commerce and do not affect it in the slightest degree.

In recent months the Supreme Court has handed down three decisions of general importance that furnish glaring examples of conflict with the Constitution. The first of these decisions was rendered in the Tidelands Cases where the Court in defiance of the Supreme Law gave to the federal government submerged lands along the coasts of Louisiana, Texas, California and other coastal states—mineral rich lands that had always been recognized by the Courts and the United States as the property of these States.

The second decision which has gained the disapproval of experts in Constitutional law is the ruling in the Phillips case giving to the Federal Power Commission the power and duty to fix the price of natural gas at the well-head. This decree was entered in the teeth of an Act of Congress which declared that the Federal Power Commission shall have no jurisdiction over the production and gathering of natural gas, since these are matters subject only to State control.

The Supreme Court's ruling in the School Segregation Cases is undoubtedly the greatest affront to the Constitution ever committed by the Court, and has done more to create disunity and a spirit of rebellion than any other pronouncement of that tribunal. This decision which uproots the laws, traditions and customs of sixteen States of the Union is without precedent in Judicial history. Instead of following law and legal precedents the Court decided these cases on the biased and unsubstantiated opinions of radical sociologists and psychologists who were not even sworn as witnesses, and whose character and qualifications are of questionable repute. In fact official records reveal that many of these so-called authorities are, or have been, members of communist organizations committed to the task of stirring up racial strife and internal disunity in America.

The Supreme Court's idea that the Constitution changes with the varying opinions of social theorists is more dangerous to the Constitution and to the stability of the American republic than the threat of Communism itself. Even the most ardent believers in racial integration could not conscientiously sanction court action which rests on such a false foundation.

Chief Justice Marshall, the greatest exponent of Constitutional law who ever sat on the high Court, says in one of his famous opinions:

"The Constitution is framed for ages to come and is designed to approach immortality as nearly as human institutions can approach it."

So the Court in declaring new social policies for the nation, rejected the States Right Amendment, and disobeyed the Articles of the Constitution which prohibit the Court from usurping the legislative powers of Congress. Chief Justice Marshall also had a word to say about this:

"We have no more right to decline the exercise of Jurisdiction which is given than to usurp that which is not given. The one or the other would be treason to the Constitution."

Public virtue, like private morale, begins to decay whenever a nation departs from the fundamental ideals and principles on which it was founded. It makes no difference whether the reason for the departure be good or bad. The fact is that in the past 6,000 years twenty-one of the great nations have fallen into eternal oblivion, and each civilization began to totter at the precise moment that it abandoned its basic virtues. "Treason to the Constitution" can undermine America just as it has destroyed the glory of Greece and the power of Rome.

In the magnitude of the Court's error there is hope for corrective action—legislative or judicial. Those timid and hopeless people who surrender their liberty and submit to the Court's decree without protest or lawful resistance should remember the battle cry of our ancestors who gave their life blood for American Independence:

"Resistance to tyranny is obedience to God!"

West Gains People, Political Importance

WASHINGTON — The Far West — with 79 electoral votes, 57 House seats, eight Senate seats and six governorships at stake in November — offers a tempting political prize to Republicans and Democrats.

On the basis of the 1954 election, things are looking up for the Democrats in the eight Mountain and three Pacific Coast states that comprise the west. They picked up Senate seats in Oregon and Wyoming and lost one in Colorado, for a net gain of one. They also elected three Democratic governors — in Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico — where there were none before.

But Democrats face an uphill fight against President Eisenhower in the west. The 1952 Republican candidate carried 51 of 57 Congressional districts and all 11 states, with 57.3 per cent of the more than 9,000,000 votes. That was some 2 per cent more than for the nation as a whole.

Population shifts could hold the key to the outcome of balloting this November. Census figures show that, from 1950 to 1955, the west as a whole gained about 3.6 million persons for an increase of 18.3 per cent, or twice the national average. Almost 2.5 million of this gain was in California alone.

The political importance of these gains is underscored by the results of a special analysis of the population and voting characteristics of California's 30 Congressional districts, based on the 1954 election and the 1950 census — the latest complete figures available.

Democrats outvoted Republicans in the 1954 Congressional races in California by more than 100,000 votes statewide. But Democrats elected only 11 representatives to 19 for the Republicans. This disparity in results seems to stem from the relative size of the Congressional districts, which were reapportioned to give California seven additional House seats following the 1950 census.

Congressional Quarterly's study found that 18 of the state's 30 districts qualified as metropolitan — that is, almost wholly urban. In 1954, Republicans won in 12 of these districts, Democrats in six. Of the dozen non-metropolitan districts, Republicans won seven, Democrats five.

The six Democratic city districts averaged 435,000 population in 1950, or 40 per cent larger than the 309,000 - person average for the 12 Republican city districts. Unless the GOP - represented districts have grown and continue to grow at a much faster pace than the six Democratic - led districts, Democrats will continue to be at a disadvantage in Congressional contests until another reapportionment following the 1960 census, when California is slated to gain another eight seats.

CQ's study pointed up other sharp differences between these two groups of districts. For example, the proportion of Negroes was twice as large in the six Democratic districts as in the 12 Republican districts — 7.8 per cent against 3.6 per cent. Blue - collar workers outnumbered white-collar workers in the former, in the proportion of 57.3 to 40.6, while the ratio was reversed — 41.7 to 55.9 — in the Republican districts.

By contrast, only insignificant differences were noted between the seven GOP-held non - metropolitan districts (average population 349,000) and the five Democratic-held non - city districts (average population 363,000). Thus the greatest political consequences of population shifts are most likely to make themselves felt in the highly urban areas of California.

The problems of Democrats are not confined to California. In a total 1954 vote of about 7,000,000 in the 11 western states, Republican Congressional candidates polled only 50,000 more votes than Democrats, yet ended up with 37 of the 57 House seats.

However, 13 of the 37 winning Republicans won by less than 55 per cent of the vote, while this was true of only four of the 20 winning Democrats. The four "marginal" Democrats all increased their share of the vote in 1954, and in two cases — California's B. F. Sisk and Oregon's Edith Green — wrested seats from Republicans. But five of the 13 "Marginal" Republicans also boosted their share of the 1954 vote, in one case (California's John F. Baldwin Jr.) winning a Democratic seat.

Democrats and Republicans stand on even ground in the Senate. Each party holds 11 of the 22 western seats and must defend four in 1956. Democratic seats at stake are those held by Sens. Alan Bible (Nev.), Carl Hayden (Ariz.), Warren G. Magnuson (Wash.) and Wayne Morse (Ore.), GOP seats are those of Sens. Wallace F. Bennett (Utah), Thomas H. Kuchel (Calif.), Eugene D. Millikin (Colo.) and Herman Welker (Idaho). All but Bennett and Bible have announced plans to seek re-election.

Each party likewise is defending three governorships, but the job may be tougher for the Democrats since the three are all they have. Democratic incumbents are Ernest W. McFarland (Ariz.), Edwin C. Johnson (Colo.) and John F. Simms Jr. (N. M.). GOP governors up are J. Hugo Aronson (Mont.), J. Bracken Lee (Utah), and Arthur B. Langlie (Wash.).

Ike On Subsidies

The Democrats intend to make a campaign issue of the President's veto of the farm bill, but there are those who think the man in the White House has outsmarted them again.

Several important considerations influenced the veto, but one that carred most political weight with the President, it is understood, is that he could reject the bill and still take care of the farm area in which the most Republican votes are found — the tier of 12 midwest states extending from Ohio to Colorado.

If that is the case' the veto will cost the Republican candidate little in the way of electoral votes, which are his main quarry now. As one top official in the administration said confidentially to a group of friends the evening after the veto:

"We don't care about cotton, and we don't care about wheat. Nor do peanuts and rice mean anything to us. But when that corn-hog economy begins to slip, then we had better do something in a hurry."

That was supported by the special consideration which the President, in his veto message and later T-V remarks promised the corn country a new provision which would enable farmers to grow all the corn they wish and still get a relatively high subsidy.

Beyond that, however, he has it in his power to boost other subsidies under the existing farm act. To have done so while the new bill was under debate would have reversed the purposes of the act itself, which was to reduce all agricultural subsidies, but that argument can be readily overlooked if farm areas seem to be wavering in their Republican support.

Some Republicans in Congress who went out on a limb by voting for the bill must now depend largely on Ike to save their seats. Such members are found in Illinois, Iowa, Ohio, Indiana, Nebraska and Kansas. In Minnesota and the Dakotas, Republicans voted for the bill to save their political lives, and will not depend on the President to pull them through this fall, because his popularity in the wheat belt is at a low ebb.

But in the corn states, the GOP gamble is that price of both feed grains and livestock can be upheld, which will pay off in electoral votes.

The President will not get a new farm bill at this session but he can always follow the precedent of Harry S. Truman and call a special session of Congress, as Truman did after his renomination in 1948, to impress the country that he is giving Congress every opportunity to act on farm legislation. Though such a session would be held after the political conventions and upset campaign plans of Republicans as well as Democrats, it is definitely included in the present White House strategy.

Under the present act, the President is prepared to use a section of the existing flexible support law which would permit him to support the price of corn for farmers who fail to comply with federal acreage controls. Under this, commercial corn, that is not fed to livestock would be boosted to $1.50 a bushel. It was also pointed out that cotton could be supported at 82½ per cent of parity, wheat at $2 a bushel, rice at $4.50, and other commodities accordingly.

On the amount saved the U. S. Treasury by the veto there is not so much to be said. Previous estimates said the new bill would have cost two billions in its first year, but the private calculations on the plan announced by the President indicate an additional expenditure of at least $1,200,000,000. But consumers will be assured this difference is in their favor.

The regrettable part is that the veto really solves nothing. Surpluses will continue to accumulate, with no better prospect of disposal in world markets than before. Farm prices will be upped only by subsidy payments, and the year's surplus production may put farm prices into another tailspin—particularly in the case of corn and hogs.

Truman Reminiscent Of Galento

Tony Galento was a barrel-chested bartender from Jersey who knew utterly no science and had even less respect for the Marquis rules, but he was tough. He would swing with both and he would keep wading forward and swinging everywhere — until many a more orthodox opponent went down for the count.

Mr. Truman fights like that.

I do not mean this to indict or disparage either man. It is simply a "different" way of fighting.

And neither Joe Louis nor Tom Dewey would deny its effectiveness.

Scientific boxing is supposed to be superior to alley fighting, but if you're ever in an alley with no referee watching, don't bet that way.

Since Mr. Eisenhower and Mr. Stevenson squared off politely in 1952, there has been a tendency to political moderation. Sophistication.

It is the present fashion for campaigners to assume at least a pose of respectability, responsibility, intellectuality.

Not Mr. Truman.

"I am a Democrat and I am a politician and I am proud of it!"

No pose there. No pretense at anything he isn't.

Indeed, Mr. Truman is the only real, rough - and - tumble type slam - bang tub - thumping roughneck politician still around.

In Des Moines, Iowa, Mr. Truman called Mr. Eisenhower a "do-nothing president." Said he had "betrayed the farmers."

Mr. Truman's methods may be branded political demagoguery by the moderates, but the crowds cheer that kind of fighter!

Professional politicians may assume that, because Mr. Eisenhower's pronounced philosophy of moderation appears popular, the opposition should imitate it . . .

But recent political history demonstrates that me-too-ism does not inspire many and does not elect anybody.

While the administration adopts slogans — stands with dignity on its record — Mr. Truman is out in the grainfields charging, "Another Republican depression has already started . . . on the farms."

And traditionally conservative Iowa farmers drowned him out with their cheers.

The following morning, President Eisenhower felt constrained to reply. It was the first time he had talked back to his former superior.

From the vacation White House in Augusta, Georgia — through Press Secretary Hagerty — the president said, "I don't believe Mr. Truman, by his own standards, can recognize accomplishment when he sees it."

However that dignified reply may have "said it all," it is still difficult to imagine that it would bring anybody to his feet cheering.

Medical Practices Act

905 Ransom St.
West Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

The ruling in the recent trial of Dr. H. C. Sloat in Bastrop makes it look as if the Louisiana medical practices act just about prohibits everything.

Quoting from a story in the News-Star on April 10, the following is a part of the judge's ruling: " . . . is forever enjoined, restrained and prohibited from . . . treating, curing, or relieving any bodily or mental disease, condition, infirmity, deformity, defect, ailment, or injury in any human being other than himself, whether by use of drug, instrument or force, whether physical or psychic or of whatever other nature, or by any other agency or means."

The above quotation, given by the judge, is taken from the Louisiana medical practices act, which is so all - inclusive that no person can have any kind of contact with other persons without violating the medical practices act.

The medical practices law should be changed, as it gives the medical societies complete authority to stop any act of any human being.

If applied fully — and all laws should be enforced or taken off the books — the Louisiana medical practices act would:

Make it illegal for anyone to perform any of the rescue acts taught in the Red Cross first aid course, since the law specifically makes it unlawful to relieve anyone in any way, since that would be giving physical relief.

Illegal to rescue a drowning person, since that would be giving physical relief.

Illegal for a speech therapist or psychologist to carry on his work in schools or colleges or elsewhere, since he would be giving physical or mental relief or both.

Illegal for a Christian Science practitioner to practice, except by special permission, which is granted under the law, thus favoring these practitioners over others.

Illegal for weight reducing salons to operate, since they are relieving both physical and mental conditions.

Illegal for a beauty operator to operate except under special legislative permission, which is granted.

Illegal to apply a tourniquet to a person bleeding to death, since that would be giving physical relief of the most urgent kind.

All of these things are clearly illegal unless specifically exempted under the Louisiana Medical Practices Act, and few of these are exempted.

But, let us go farther:

Lawyers definitely provide mental and physical relief for many of their clients. They are licensed to practice law but they are not specifically exempted under the medical practices act, insofar as the act itself is concerned.

All insurance men intend to; and do provide physical and mental relief and they operate without a license, or, if operating as a firm, have the same kind of a license granted to other business organizations.

Teachers definitely provide mental and physical relief to their students, to overcome handicaps or defects. If this were not true there would be no point in attending school.

It all boils down to the fact that the medical doctors have the power, under the Medical Practices Act, to prohibit anyone from any kind of human relations if they choose.

Right now they are choosing to stop a lot of them against the will of the people, who have the right to choose who shall treat them, so long as the treatment is understood by the patient or client.

Only the indignation of the people can stop tyranny.

MRS. ELLA WOOD.

Homestead Exemptions

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I desire to thank you and your publications for the wonderful cooperation you gave my office in getting 1956 homestead exemptions signed by Ouachita Parish property owners. You have not only been most helpful to my office, but have rendered a public service of much value to the property owners.

It is indeed gratifying to have been accorded such splendid team work.

Assessor, Ouachita Parish.

Chicago, Ill.

Editor, Morning World:

As a result of being away from the office on a somewhat extended business trip I have just had an opportunity to read the editorial entitled "Trees and Railroads," which you had in the Monroe News-Star of April 4. I think you have used a very appropriate figure of speech in pointing out the necessity of giving the railroads of America the strength and stamina they need to meet the great demands that are made upon them.

GEORGE M. CROWSON,
Assistant to the President, Illinois Central Railroad.

Negro Treated Better In South

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

From my long experience dealing with the public and as a close observer of the NAACP operations in both the south and the north, I am forced to believe that the northern newspapers and magazines—and some southern publications as well — have agitated and kept burning the fires of strife and race hatred among southern Negroes and whites.

The press has gone farther than the NAACP would dare to go. Certainly few people attend NAACP sessions, but most read the newspapers which too often abuse the freedom of the press.

From my experience in all parts of the country, I find the colored people in business, are treated far better in the south than they are in Chicago, New York or Los Angeles.

With a "King's Row" law in those cities, many poor colored families are pressed beyond measure by seizures for debt due to faculty credit rules. They are harried and persecuted without recourse to the law. This does not happen in the south.

Yet the newspapers and magazines—including those devoted entirely to Negro affairs—fail to take a firm stand. But, if such a happening should occur in a southern state, the same publications would play up the story in big type.

Actually the colored man wants very little other than a fair deal in our courts, decent rest room facilities in stations and downtown areas less use of unpleasant epithet and the right to work and bring up his family in a decent, God-fearing manner.

In most respects the south is much fairer than the North. And much is not getting an "honest count" in the northern newspapers and magazines.

The writer of this is a colored man, now preaching at the Mount Pilgrim Baptist Church in Waterproof, La., but well known to many in the area.

I know people, I know the problems of my race, and I know that most of the discord of recent times is largely due to the northern newspapers and not to the NAACP, which actually wields little influence on the average Negro.

Amendments 1 And 3

New Orleans, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I would like to express our sincere appreciation to you and your newspaper for the invaluable support you gave for the passage of Amendments One and Three in Tuesday's election.

Your leadership in this fight put your newspaper in the forefront in looking out for the best interests of the citizens of our state. And certainly the results are a clear expression of the public's will against increased taxes.

We in Orleans Parish would like to offer our special thanks for your support of Amendment Number Three, since its failure would have meant a definite increase in our taxes. The three-to-one majority which this amendment received in New Orleans clearly demonstrated the feeling of our citizens. However, if it had not been for your help, the will of our voters to protect themselves against increased taxation might have been thwarted.

ELESSEPS S. MORRISON,
Mayor.

Lights Over Broadway

By Walter Winchell

Press photogs are, in a way, universal lamplighters who have brightened and extended journalism's frontiers. They have given news an added dimension by offering a deeper insight into contemporary event. The lens, magically, can record an emotion in one person's heart and transmit it to the hearts of millions. Moreover, it can capture and preserve an instant of history. The Wright's rickety plane challenging the skies, Firpo sending Dempsey sprawling through the ropes, Lindbergh landing in Paris, Dillinger stretched on a slab, Hitler in a frenzy, Pearl Harbor's burning wreckage, the atomic bomb's fiery umbrella, Mussolini hanging by his toes, the Babe belting one out of the park. And of, course, the flag raising atop Iowa Jima. The cameras caught the drama of news as well as the granduer of history.

Another who traveled from Hell to the front pages was photog Dan Brigham. He was acquainted with the Italian who photographed the dangling Il Duce and his mistress. Brigham received the pictures at the Swiss-Italian border. It was necessary to travel 125 miles — to Geneva — where they could be relayed to his New York paper. . . Meyer Berger reported the details some time ago: "Brigham set out on his dangerous ride through Alpine passes to Geneva. He headed into a mountain blizzard, careening and skidding over black precipices on the dark and narrow Alpine roads. Half way to Geneva a tire split. Brigham changed it, with wind tearing at his garments and freezing his hands." Incidentally, one paper offered $5,000 for rights to reproduce Mussolini's melancholy finale. It was eventually distributed gratis as a public service.

Sammy Schulman, FDR's pet photog, also carried adventure as a banner. While covering a Cuban revolution, Sammy went into the street to aim his lens at the action. Years later, Schulman met a Cuban in a New York bar who cordially informed: "I was at a window sniping during that uprising. For a long time I couldn't find anybody to shoot. Then I saw you and aimed at your head. When I saw your camera." (Sammy gulped hard and immediately ordered a stiff drink.)

Equally exciting was Norman Alley's experience when Chicago's journalism was being written with roman candles. He accompanied a reporter to a gambling dive. As the gamblers turned to see who was entering — Alley's bulbs popped. He and the reporter pell-mell'd toward their car for a swift getaway. The enraged gamblers followed — the two cars zoomed through the streets, zig-zagging and skidding with brakes screeching and motors roaring. Attracted by the commotion, the police collared the gamblers. . . . Alley's photo provided the evidence.

Publishers Plan Convention Next Week In New York

NEW YORK, April 21 —UP— More than 1,200 daily newspaper publishers meet here next week to discuss industry problems, particularly the acute newsprint shortage and increased publishing costs.

The 70th annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers Association starts Tuesday and continues through Thursday. Its members are from the United States, Canada, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Dr. Charles W. Boyce, former secretary of the American Paper and Pulp Association and an economic consultant on newsprint matters, will review the world-wide newsprint situation in an address before the convention.

Among the other speakers will be Dr. Alberto Gainza Paz who earlier this year returned to his native Argentina to resume control of La Prensa.

On Tuesday, three separate meetings will be held covering problems of publishing small, medium and large daily newspapers. Richard W. Slocum, executive vice president of the Philadelphia Bulletin and ANPA president, will speak Wednesday at the start of the convention's general sessions. Committee reports on newsprint and other subjects will be presented at the Wednesday and Thursday morning sessions.

ANPA officers and directors will be elected at a meeting starting at noon Thursday, just prior to adjournment.

IT&T President Dies In New York

GARDEN CITY, N.Y., April 21 —UP— Maj. Gen. William Henry Harrison (Ret.), 63, president of the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp., died Saturday of a heart ailment at his home here.

Harrison became president of IT&T in 1948 after serving as vice president in charge of operations and engineering for the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. for several years. During World War II he was in charge of the Signal Corps procurement and distribution service.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

The complete 9-Day Diet booklet is available for 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

You Can Be Sure It's Spring Now That 9-Day Diet Is Here

When 9-Day Diet appears in Why Grow Old? you can be sure that it's spring!

Each year along with the robins and flowers and new leaves comes this short diet series to help you get ready for swim suits and light summer clothing. We are likely to pick up a few extra pounds during the winter months, in fact many of us are apt to pick up a few most any old time when we become careless about our calorie intake.

However, many women begin the fall slim and sleek or just a little overweight and then comes Thanksgiving. We just get over that when Christmas arrives, with New Year's celebrations following immediately afterward. Then, too, we are less active physically in winter weather and cold winds whet our appetites.

The result of all this may be a gain of from five to 10 pounds, just the number you can lose in nine days time. It is so much easier to stick to a diet if you know just what you can accomplish in a given length of time, especially when the time is short.

So 9-Day Diet can solve your problem quickly if you have just a few pounds to lose. If you are many more than 10 pounds overweight it will give you an encouraging start on a longer reducing trek.

Tomorrow I will give you your diet for Tuesday so that you will be able to do your marketing on Monday. Therefore, 9-Day Diet will begin on Monday in the (name of paper) and last for nine days. Each day the menus for the following day will appear in this column.

If you would like to have my complete 9-Day Reducing Diet in a pocketbook-size booklet, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "Extra Pounds Add to Your Hot Weather Discomfort."

Other first - place winners were Authur Thompson, Minden; Jim George Goree, Grambling; John Patton, Grambling; Fee Jenson, Grambling; M. J. Harris, Chatham; W. B. Patton, Grambling; Mrs. Bertha Gray, Shady Grove. Special 4—H winners were Erma Willis, Grambling; Lorene Walker, Minden; Philip Davenport, Grambling; Charles Emerson, Ruston.

Furman C. Anderson, Grambling vocational agriculture instructor, directed the show.

Ike No Longer Shows Symptoms Of 'Being Sick'

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 21 —UP—The Democratic party will have trouble making a "sick man" tag stick on President Eisenhower, if the present condition of his health continues, United Press White House correspondent Merriman Smith said Saturday.

The White House dean, here to address the Cleveland City Club forum, said "the President since mid-February has been working longer hours than ever before. Frequently he will stay at the White House until 7 p. m."

Smith predicted that the President will campaign "more actively than presently is indicated," and will not settle for half a dozen speeches in major cities. "Neither will he whistle-stop the country," Smith said.

Smith said any illness of "major" nature could change the picture, but that it appeared "most unlikely the President will be defeated for re-election, unless such an illness should occur."

Smith reported that Mr. Eisenhower takes less work "home" with him than did former Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, and that Mr. Eisenhower's heart attack had pressed home a point made by aides of his two predecessors— that presidential routine should be cut. Smith predicted the President had set a White House pattern of less ceremonial work which will continue.

Stevedore Official Dies At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, April 21 (AP) — Alfred Edwards Stillwell, 48, general superintendent of New Orleans Stevedoring Co., Inc., died today at a local hospital after an illness of several months.

Stillwell, a native of Selma, Ala., had been associated with the stevedoring company since 1932.

Funeral services will be held here tomorrow.

Survivors include his widow, a sister, Mrs. W. Rogers Brewster of New Orleans, and a brother, Francis H. Stillwell of San Antonio, Tex.

Cancer will at some time strike one in every four Americans, according to present estimates. Fight it with a checkup and a check. Thus you will protect yourself and help save others.

Week In Finance

Surveys By Experts Show U. S. Boom Still Growing

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—Experts from government and private industry took the measure of the boom this week — and found it still growing.

Several major lines of business were rocketing along at the fastest pace in months.

Steel production in the week ended April 14 reached a historic high of 2,483,000 tons.

Department store sales, coming back strong after a post-Easter slump, showed a 15 per cent gain over the comparable week of 1955. Prominent retailers said the outlook for the rest of the year was rosy.

At annual stockholder meetings, company after company reported record highs in profits and sales for the first three months this year. Looking toward yearend, Corporate executives forecast even more sensational results — despite rising costs and stiffening competition.

Top Washington officials hinted that with boom going full blast, there was little likelihood that the federal government would ease up on credit restrictions now.

Hopes for tax reduction faded. The government's latest "take" in corporate and personal income taxes was so big that congressional experts predicted a two-billion-dollar surplus in the federal budget. But, they said, even with this huge flow of dollars coming in, a tax cut now would be unwise. Inflation, they argued, is still on the march—prices and wages are moving up, bank credit is expanding, stock prices are heading skyward and business and inventories are growing fast. A tax cut under these circumstances, they maintained, would only fan inflationary fires.

As further evidence of continued boom, government economists reported that the sum total of all business activity in the first three months this year was even greater than in last year's booming fourth quarter.

Business as measured in terms of "gross national product" hit a record annual rate of 399 billion dollars in the January-March quarter. That compares with a yearly pace of 397 billion dollars in the final 1955 quarter.

There was an off-key note, however. Washington experts pointed out that the increase in gross national proluct in the first three months this year was due to in large part to rising prices. Industrial production, which had sparked the record rise in "GNP" in 1955, tapered off in the first three months of 1956.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

The complete 9-Day Diet booklet is available for 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

You Can Be Sure It's Spring Now That 9-Day Diet Is Here

When 9-Day Diet appears in Why Grow Old? you can be sure that it's spring!

Each year along with the robins and flowers and new leaves comes this short diet series to help you get ready for swim suits and light summer clothing. We are likely to pick up a few extra pounds during the winter months, in fact many of us are apt to pick up a few most any old time when we become careless about our calorie intake.

However, many women begin the fall slim and sleek or just a little overweight and then comes Thanksgiving. We just get over that when Christmas arrives, with New Year's celebrations following immediately afterward. Then, too, we are less active physically in winter weather and cold winds whet our appetites.

The result of all this may be a gain of from five to 10 pounds, just the number you can lose in nine days time. It is so much easier to stick to a diet if you know just what you can accomplish in a given length of time, especially when the time is short.

So 9-Day Diet can solve your problem quickly if you have just a few pounds to lose. If you are many more than 10 pounds overweight it will give you an encouraging start on a longer reducing trek.

Tomorrow I will give you your diet for Tuesday so that you will be able to do your marketing on Monday. Therefore, 9-Day Diet will begin on Monday in the (name of paper) and last for nine days. Each day the menus for the following day will appear in this column.

If you would like to have my complete 9-Day Reducing Diet in a pocketbook-size booklet, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "Extra Pounds Add to Your Hot Weather Discomfort."

$1,000 In Prizes Awarded At Fair And Broiler Show

GRAMBLING, La., April 21 (Special)—Approximately $1,000 in prize money was awarded to entrants in the fifth annual North Louisiana Broiler Show and Fair which ended at Grambling College Saturday.

The three-day exhibit was sponsored by agriculture workers of Bienville, Jackson, Lincoln, Ouachita, Union, Webster, Caddo, Bossier and Morehouse parishes.

Prize money and trophies were awarded for poultry, handicrafts, household linens, clothing and cooking.

Harvey Barnes of Jonesboro had the grand champ of the junior poultry division. He was awarded $30.00 and a trophy. Western Hatchery, Ruston paid $50.00 for his entries.

John Patton of Grambling took runners-up honors. His chickens were sold to Hinton Feed and Seed Store, Ruston, for $25.00.

Other first - place winners were Authur Thompson, Minden; Jim George Goree, Grambling; John Patton, Grambling; Fee Jenson, Grambling; M. J. Harris, Chatham; W. B. Patton, Grambling; Mrs. Bertha Gray, Shady Grove. Special 4—H winners were Erma Willis, Grambling; Lorene Walker, Minden; Philip Davenport, Grambling; Charles Emerson, Ruston.

Furman C. Anderson, Grambling vocational agriculture instructor, directed the show.

Ike No Longer Shows Symptoms Of 'Being Sick'

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 21 —UP—The Democratic party will have trouble making a "sick man" tag stick on President Eisenhower, if the present condition of his health continues, United Press White House correspondent Merriman Smith said Saturday.

The White House dean, here to address the Cleveland City Club forum, said "the President since mid-February has been working longer hours than ever before. Frequently he will stay at the White House until 7 p. m."

Smith predicted that the President will campaign "more actively than presently is indicated," and will not settle for half a dozen speeches in major cities. "Neither will he whistle-stop the country," Smith said.

Smith said any illness of "major" nature could change the picture, but that it appeared "most unlikely the President will be defeated for re-election, unless such an illness should occur."

Smith reported that Mr. Eisenhower takes less work "home" with him than did former Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, and that Mr. Eisenhower's heart attack had pressed home a point made by aides of his two predecessors— that presidential routine should be cut. Smith predicted the President had set a White House pattern of less ceremonial work which will continue.

Stevedore Official Dies At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, April 21 (AP) — Alfred Edwards Stillwell, 48, general superintendent of New Orleans Stevedoring Co., Inc., died today at a local hospital after an illness of several months.

Stillwell, a native of Selma, Ala., had been associated with the stevedoring company since 1932.

Funeral services will be held here tomorrow.

Survivors include his widow, a sister, Mrs. W. Rogers Brewster of New Orleans, and a brother, Francis H. Stillwell of San Antonio, Tex.

Cancer will at some time strike one in every four Americans, according to present estimates. Fight it with a checkup and a check. Thus you will protect yourself and help save others.

Week In Finance

Surveys By Experts Show U. S. Boom Still Growing

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—Experts from government and private industry took the measure of the boom this week — and found it still growing.

Several major lines of business were rocketing along at the fastest pace in months.

Steel production in the week ended April 14 reached a historic high of 2,483,000 tons.

Department store sales, coming back strong after a post-Easter slump, showed a 15 per cent gain over the comparable week of 1955. Prominent retailers said the outlook for the rest of the year was rosy.

At annual stockholder meetings, company after company reported record highs in profits and sales for the first three months this year. Looking toward yearend. Corporate executives forecast even more sensational results — despite rising costs and stiffening competition.

Top Washington officials hinted that with boom going full blast, there was little likelihood that the federal government would ease up on credit restrictions now.

Hopes for tax reduction faded. The government's latest "take" in corporate and personal income taxes was so big that congressional experts predicted a two-billion-dollar surplus in the federal budget. But, they said, even with this huge flow of dollars coming in, a tax cut now would be unwise. Inflation, they argued, is still on the march—prices and wages are moving up, bank credit is expanding, stock prices are heading skyward and business and inventories are growing fast. A tax cut under these circumstances, they maintained, would only fan inflationary fires.

As further evidence of continued boom, government economists reported that the sum total of all business activity in the first three months this year was even greater than in last year's booming fourth quarter.

Business as measured in terms of "gross national product" hit a record annual rate of 399 billion dollars in the January-March quarter. That compares with a yearly pace of 397 billion dollars in the final 1955 quarter.

There was an off-key note, however. Washington experts pointed out that the increase in gross national proluct in the first three months this year was due to in large part to rising prices. Industrial production, which had sparked the record rise in "GNP" in 1955, tapered off in the first three months of 1956.

was the first untoward incident recorded on the 10-day Soviet tour. To forestall possible street demonstrations in London Sunday, Scotland Yard cancelled all police leaves and ordered re-inforcements to the downtown district where 11,000 Polish and Ukrainian refugees have scheduled marches.

The anti-Communist Poles and Ukrainians planned separate visits to the British war dead cenotaph to lay wreaths in memory of victims of Communist oppression. Although the touring Soviet leaders will be 30 miles away at Chequers, estate of Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden, for additional "little summit conference" talks, Scotland Yard decided to take no chances and ordered maximum security precautions.

Saturday, the Russians set out from their headquarters at heavily-guarded Claridge's hotel in London and drove 40 miles to visit the British atomic research center at Harwell. The group included Sergei Khrushchev, the Communist party chief's son, and Prof. Igor V. Kurchatov, leading Soviet atomic scientist. All wore white "duster" coats and overshoes to guard against radio-activity.

At one point, trade unionist Vincent McCarthy, 37, stopped Khrushchev to challenge him on whether Russia will allow religious denominations and trade unions to criticize the Soviet government.

"If we start criticizing each other we shall not get anywhere," the Russian replied. Then he grabbed McCarthy's hand and pumped it.

Divided into three groups, the Russians toured the installation and looked at Britain's atomic reactors. They appeared in good humor, possibly as a result of resounding successes in speeches pegged to the goal of peace and the need for disarmament. The British press, cold to the two Russian leaders on their arrival, generally praised Khrushchev's speech Friday night urging world disarmament.

After Harwell, the Soviet delegation drove 15 miles to Oxford, where students dropped everything to see them.

He also said the administration "has turned its back on the farmers in the face of conditions that forecast the loss of prosperity to many."

Barkley, Kentucky Democrat and former Vice President, also belabored Republican domestic policies and ridiculed GOP claims of prosperity.

The two veteran Democrats shared the platform at a Woodrow Wilson centennial dinner attended by about 2,500 party members in the National Guard Armory.

Many Democratic bigwigs were present for the $100-a-plate dinner which climaxed two days of formal and informal huddles on 1956 campaign plans and problems. Among the guests were Adlai E. Both Rayburn and Barkley were sworn in as members of the House on March 4, 1913, the date of the first Wilson inauguration. Both lauded the Wilson, Roosevelt and Truman administrations while denouncing the Republican record with particular attention to the Eisenhower administration.

Endorsement was given the resolution: "We ask that the state legislature take appropriate action for such provisions as are necessary in making current application and division of funds derived from the Rockefeller Foundation subject to provisions of the deed accepted by the state of Louisiana."

The group adopted the proposal to request the State Board of Education to include in its next budget $25,000 to establish a scholarship fund for teacher training within the colleges under its jurisdiction.

Many proposed changes to the by-laws of the State P-T.A. were carried at Saturday's business session. One provides that the nominating committee shall nominate two (instead of one) candidates for each office to be filled at the next convention.

A second accepted change states: "The state association, its districts, councils and local units shall not seek to direct the administrative activities of the schools, nor to control their policies."

Resulting from a change in the by-laws pertaining to the personnel of the board of managers, the group will comprise the elected officers of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher Association, district directors, chairmen of standing committees, editor of the P-T.A. Bulletin and the past president for the year immediately following her term of office.

Awards were made to winners of the Safety Poster Contest. First place went to Alberta Castile, student at Father Teurling's School, Lafayette. Second winner was disqualified by regulation; third place went to Clay Dermint, Gentilly Terrace School; and fourth place to Lenora Hennigan, Merryville High School fourth grade student. The highest ranking poster will be used by a seven-state outdoor advertising agency to carry out the safety slogan.

Thirteen board chairmen were elected at a post - convention meeting. The new chairmen include: Mrs. J. H. Eshner, of Marksville, rural services; Mrs. J. W. Ward, Shreveport, national P.T.A. magazine; Mrs. R. D. Cloninger, Lafayette, home and family life; Mrs. Melvin C. Helbig, New Orleans, character and spiritual education; Mrs. W. H. NEW YORK, April 21 —UP— Editor-in-chief Grover C. Hall Jr. of The Montgomery, Ala., Advertiser said tonight that discrimination against Negroes is an American problem rather than just a southern problem.

"There is an exasperating failure of the American press," he charged, "to present a faithful, unsparing picture of American race disharmony from New York to Los Angeles.

"It is a sorrowful but evident fact — not yet adequately grasped or reported by the press — that wherever the Negro migrates in significant numbers, he encounters rejection, overtly and legally in the South, covertly and illegally in the North."

WASHINGTON, April 21—UP—The American Society of Newspaper Editors Saturday elected Jenkin Lloyd Jones, editor of the Tulsa Tribune, president of the organization for the coming year.

Election of the 44-year-old editor came during the final day of ASNE's annual convention which closed with a foreign policy speech by President Eisenhower.

Autos Are Damaged In Collision Here

An automobile accident at the intersection of Hall and Oak streets at 7:10 a.m. yesterday caused car damages estimated at $500, but no personal injuries, according to the Monroe Police Department traffic division.

A 1954 Studebaker driven by Ray A. Boyd, 55, Fairbanks, was traveling west, the wrong way, on one-way Oak street, when it ran into the side of a 1949 Plymouth sedan operated by Delbert A. Rightsell, 106 Texas Avenue, who was driving north on Hall street, according to the police report. Rightsell was thrown from his car to the blacktop and his car ran into the corner of the Louisiana Public Welfare Department office located at 410 Hall street, the report stated.

ing account of last night's escape.

Prisoners on the third-floor tier with Caesar began shouting and stomping their feet. When deputies went to investigate the cause of the noise, they were told by prisoners that Caesar had taken poison.

A bottle containing 27 pills was found in Caesar's cell.

Caesar was taken to the infirmary and Diket was called.

Dr. Varnell Brown, Charity Hospital physician assigned to the prison, began an examination of the Negro, who apparently was faking about the poison.

Diket, deputy Salvadore Sansone and several other deputies stood nearby.

When Diket stepped into the hallway to get a glass of water, Caesar raised up and pulled a gun.

Diket said Caesar came out of the infirmary yelling, "give me the keys, you white so-and-so."

"It took me by surprise, and before I had really had a chance to get a good look at the gun, I lunged toward him. Then he fired. It knocked me right straight down to the floor," the warden said.

Good news from State Farm Mutual
"the careful driver insurance company"

STATE FARM INSURANCE (Auto, Life, Fire)

New! Low-cost auto insurance plan

Lowest renewal rates available to the general public in Louisiana...
25% lower than the rates charged by most other companies.

NEW LOW RATES:

In recognition of its streamlined, money-saving operating methods, State Farm Mutual is now permitted to sell auto insurance to its present members at 25% less than the rates fixed for most other companies by the State. And this 25% saving is pocketed by members in advance. It is not paid afterwards in the form of a dividend.

For present members, these new rates become effective with their first renewal after May 13, 1956.

NEW MEMBERSHIP FEE:

This is a slightly higher premium paid once only by new members for their first 6 months of insurance. This membership fee helps make low rates possible. It covers sales cost, such as sales commission and other sales costs of putting a new member's name on the books. It's charged once and only once—the first time you take out a coverage.

Present State Farm members are not required to pay membership fees for coverages they now carry.

Find out how much YOU can save!

was an increase of one case over the previous week.

The non - paralytic case was reported in West Baton Rouge parish while the others came from East Baton Rouge, Iberia, Orleans and Washington parishes.

LAKE CHARLES, La., April 21 —UP—Miss Margaret C. Moore of New Orleans was elected president of the Louisiana Public Health Association in the closing session of the annual convention here.

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP) —Editor-in-chief Grover C. Hall Jr. of The Montgomery, Ala., Advertiser said tonight that discrimination against Negroes is an American problem rather than just a southern problem.

"There is an exasperating failure of the American press," he charged, "to present a faithful, unsparing picture of American race disharmony from New York to Los Angeles.

"It is a sorrowful but evident fact — not yet adequately grasped or reported by the press — that wherever the Negro migrates in significant numbers, he encounters rejection, overtly and legally in the South, covertly and illegally in the North."

WASHINGTON, April 21—UP—The American Society of Newspaper Editors Saturday elected Jenkin Lloyd Jones, editor of the Tulsa Tribune, president of the organization for the coming year.

Election of the 44-year-old editor came during the final day of ASNE's annual convention which closed with a foreign policy speech by President Eisenhower.

WASHINGTON, April 21 —UP— Edward B. Lawson, American ambassador to Israel, arrived Saturday for consultations at the State Department.

Autos Are Damaged In Collision Here

An automobile accident at the intersection of Hall and Oak streets at 7:10 a.m. yesterday caused car damages estimated at $500, but no personal injuries, according to the Monroe Police Department traffic division.

A 1954 Studebaker driven by Ray A. Boyd, 55, Fairbanks, was traveling west, the wrong way, on one-way Oak street, when it ran into the side of a 1949 Plymouth sedan operated by Delbert A. Rightsell, 106 Texas Avenue, who was driving north on Hall street, according to the police report. Rightsell was thrown from his car to the blacktop and his car ran into the corner of the Louisiana Public Welfare Department office located at 410 Hall street, the report stated.

ing account of last night's escape.

Prisoners on the third-floor tier with Caesar began shouting and stomping their feet. When deputies went to investigate the cause of the noise, they were told by prisoners that Caesar had taken poison.

A bottle containing 27 pills was found in Caesar's cell.

Caesar was taken to the infirmary and Diket was called.

Dr. Varnell Brown, Charity Hospital physician assigned to the prison, began an examination of the Negro, who apparently was faking about the poison.

Diket, deputy Salvadore Sansone and several other deputies stood nearby.

When Diket stepped into the hallway to get a glass of water, Caesar raised up and pulled a gun.

Diket said Caesar came out of the infirmary yelling, "give me the keys, you white so-and-so."

"It took me by surprise, and before I had really had a chance to get a good look at the gun, I lunged toward him. Then he fired. It knocked me right straight down to the floor," the warden said.

Good news from State Farm Mutual
"the careful driver insurance company"

STATE FARM Auto Life Fire INSURANCE

New! Low-cost auto insurance plan

Lowest renewal rates available to the general public in Louisiana... 25% lower than the rates charged by most other companies.

NEW LOW RATES:

In recognition of its streamlined, money-saving operating methods, State Farm Mutual is now permitted to sell auto insurance to its present members at 25% less than the rates fixed for most other companies by the State. And this 25% saving is pocketed by members in advance. It is not paid afterwards in the form of a dividend.

For present members, these new rates become effective with their first renewal after May 13, 1956.

NEW MEMBERSHIP FEE:

This is a slightly higher premium paid once only by new members for their first 6 months of insurance. This membership fee helps make low rates possible. It covers sales cost, such as sales commission and other sales costs of putting a new member's name on the books. It's charged once and only once—the first time you take out a coverage.

Present State Farm members are not required to pay membership fees for coverages they now carry.

Find out how much YOU can save!

Rites Set Today For 3-Month Old Suffocation Victim

A verdict of death by accidental suffocation, pending an autopsy report, was given yesterday by Dr. J. T. French, Ouachita parish coroner, in the death of John Garry Golson, three-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Golson of 208 Pelican Drive, West Monroe.

The infant died early yesterday morning. It was apparently lying face down in bed when death occurred.

He is survived by his parents; a brother, Glen Golson, Jr.; three sisters, Teeri, Susan and Linda Golson; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Golson of West Monroe; and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Mildred Voorhees, of Monroe.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. today at the Mulhearn Funeral Home chapel here with the Rev. Father Vitus Duschinsky of St. Paschal's Catholic church officiating. Interment will follow in Hasley cemetery under the direction of Mulhearn Funeral Home.

Ferriday Beauty Named To Reign As Parish Queen

FERRIDAY, April 21 (Special)—Miss Joan Crawford of Ferriday toady was reigning as "Miss Concordia Parish" after being selected for that honor from a group of eight contestants in ceremonies at the high school Friday night.

Miss Crawford is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Crawford of Ferriday. Miss Barbara Clanton was the runner-up in the contest.

Miss Crawford will represent Concordia parish in the "Miss Louisiana" contest to be held at Lake Providence during the summer. Miss Patty Barnes was the winner in the "Junior Miss Concordia Parish" contest with Miss Sharon Brown the runner-up.

The other contestants in the "Miss Concordia Parish" were, Miss Bobby Nell Massey, Miss Gail Dean, Miss Dolly Sue Parent, Miss Marie Berry, Miss Barbara Sandifer all of Ferriday and Miss Becky Chisolm of Vidalia.

In the junior miss contest were, Miss Suzanne DeLaune, Miss Barbara Freund, Miss Carol Calvert, Miss Louis Alexander, Miss Carole Watts, Miss Doris Falkenheiner, Miss Carole Clayton, Miss Patsy Price, Miss Gladys Walker, Miss Grace Serio, Miss Carolyn Alwood, Miss Harriette Ganey, Miss Carolyn Byrd, Miss Jannette DeLaune, Miss Carolyn Rosenberg, Miss Penny Dean and Miss Carolyn Newman.

Drive Continues For Seal Funds

The Easter Seal drive, conducted annually by the Ouachita Parish Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., will end April 30.

A. F. "Tony" Canizaro, president of the Ouachita Society, said that the drive had been extended from the original closing date, April 10, until the 30th because only half of the $8,500 goal had been reached.

Canizaro urged all citizens to do their part to insure future operation of the society. The society president said that at the present time, with the assurance of federal and matching funds to build the Carolyn Rose Strauss Rehabilitation Center, the drive has paramount importance.

Authorities in Washington last week assured the Ouachita society of receiving $60,000 in federal funds to build the center. The Carolyn Rose Strauss Foundation, under the administration of Clifford Strauss, will match the federal funds.

Total cost of the center will be $120,000.

Canizaro asked that all persons who received Easter Seals through the mail return their contributions at once to insure the future operation of the crippled children's organization.

in the north side of Monroe and one of his neighbors in a well known professor in Northeast State College.

The other day he strolled over to the nearby professor's home and in dejected mood declared: "Confound it I have lots of time and I want to make it earn money for me. Your are a man of wide education tell me how I can start on the trial to make money, please!"

This sincere request caused the professor to open up the fountains of knowledge.

"Well, son," the professor began, "when I was a boy I mowed lawns, I split wood, I ran errands, but you live in a new age. Times are revolutionized. If I lived today as a boy I'd get a pail and a brush and some soap and go after cars to wash!"

"That's the very idea, professor, I'm out to do it!" declared the young man.

Two days later he returned full of pep. "I've got it all lined up. I have four teams and we are to start Saturday at 1 p.m. and each hour we are to wash a car."

The youngster set forth, he had his teams headed by his playmates, and with soap and brush and pails they set forth. The schedule was carried out and at nightfall all reported. Their total earnings was $18. Now, dear reader, you've worried over identities, the ambitious youth who started the gang to get business was the small son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wyatt. The others were his playmates in the neighborhood.

Seems like this was a good idea and could be well followed by many others, If the young sprouts could be made to take up something to keep them busy there would be no problem of youthful delinquency. Its the idle ones who fall into mischief.

A Quaker, of course he was like his brothers mild mannered, was proceeding down the road behind his mule. Then with no reason one could imagine, the animal became balky and halted his progress.

His driver jumped out of the cart and pulled at the collar of the steed which was lying now in the highway, In vain were his pleas to resume his progress. The animal was a member of the balky animals.

At the end of his patience, his driver declared in mellifious tones "Mule, thou knowest that I as a Quaker can not beat or curse thee. But let me tell you if I can't do these things, nothing will prevent me from selling you to some Methodist!"

Be sure to attend the morning or evening service of Memorial Methodist Church in the college area. Your presence will be such as to lend encouragement to this thriving group of enthusiastic people who have carried through their campaign to erect a handsome sanctuary. It will be in use today and it deserves to receive the commendation of all members who have sacrificed to erect this tructure at a cost of more than $120,000.

The pastor, Rev. Ralph Cain, and the membership, will be delighted to see guests from other churches showing sincere interest by their presence on this auspicious event.

Inflamed by mounting arrests, several thousand surged toward Stalin park and milled around a 50-foot statue of the son of Georgia.

"These were young people," one informant said. "They didn't know what they wanted. By this time provocateurs were inciting them."

It was close to midnight when, like a human sea, the demonstrators poured out of the park and headed for the central post office on the main street.

Facing them on the steps of the Council of Ministers building, next to the post office, machineguns were mounted.

"As the crowd came over a rise the troops fired over their heads," the informant said. "The crowds kept coming and the troops then turned their guns on them."

The Air Force said the plane was assigned to the U.S. Military Assistance Group in Iran and was en route from Beirut to Cairo.

A State Department spokesman in Washington said the Egyptians believed the transport to be "off course." He said the C-47 was permitted to take off and resume its flight after a delay of about 45 minutes.

The passengers at Tehran said Israeli pilots had warned the transport pilot that he might have trouble when he flew across the Egyptian border.

38 PERSONS KILLED

SANTIAGO, Chile, April 21 — UP—At least 38 persons were reported killed Saturday when a truck loaded with workers plunged down a mountain bridge in northern Chile.

Authorities said the truck was carrying 40 workmen when it crashed off the bridge and tumbled about 100 yards down the side of a mountain.

Northeast Senior Given Scholarship For Higher Study

MISS DORIS BACON

Miss Doris Bacon, Northeast State senior, has been awarded a Louisiana State University Honorary Scholarship to do graduate study at the university.

The recipient is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abbie Lloyd Bacon of West Monroe.

The honorary scholarship consists of a $270 stipend for an academic year and exemption from tuition and university fees. It is awarded annually by LSU to a student in each of the state colleges on the basis of scholarship and ability.

Miss Bacon is a candidate for the bachelor's degree at the close of summer school. She is majoring in social studies education and minoring in library science. Presently she is doing student teaching in civics at Ouachita Parish High School.

She hopes to become a high school teacher of American history, and she plans to use the scholarship to continue study in the field of history.

A 1953 graduate of Ouachita Parish High School, Miss Bacon won many high school honors and held membership in several scholastically rated organizations. She was in the top ten of her graduating class, and she was a member of the honorary history organization, the Jeffersonian Club, the national Honor Society, and the Lionettes, pep squad.

Activities at Northeast in which she has participated include membership in the Debate Club, Honor Society, Social Science Club and Gold Jackets, pep squad.

Among Miss Bacon's most recent honors was her selection as one of the two coeds to represent the college at the Louisiana Library Association Convention book dinner in Alexandria.

ports near Cairo because the Egyptian pilots believed the plane was flying "over a prohibited area."

The Air Force said the plane was assigned to the U.S. Military Assistance Group in Iran and was en route from Beirut to Cairo.

A State Department spokesman in Washington said the Egyptians believed the transport to be "off course." He said the C-47 was permitted to take off and resume its flight after a delay of about 45 minutes.

The passengers at Tehran said Israeli pilots had warned the transport pilot that he might have trouble when he flew across the Egyptian border.

38 PERSONS KILLED

SANTIAGO, Chile, April 21 — UP—At least 38 persons were reported killed Saturday when a truck loaded with workers plunged down a mountain bridge in northern Chile.

Authorities said the truck was carrying 40 workmen when it crashed off the bridge and tumbled about 100 yards down the side of a mountain.

MISS DORIS BACON

Miss Doris Bacon, Northeast State senior, has been awarded a Louisiana State University Honorary Scholarship to do graduate study at the university.

The recipient is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abbie Lloyd Bacon of West Monroe.

The honorary scholarship consists of a $270 stipend for an academic year and exemption from tuition and university fees. It is awarded annually by LSU to a student in each of the state colleges on the basis of scholarship and ability.

Miss Bacon is a candidate for the bachelor's degree at the close of summer school. She is majoring in social studies education and minoring in library science. Presently she is doing student teaching in civics at Ouachita Parish High School.

She hopes to become a high school teacher of American history, and she plans to use the scholarship to continue study in the field of history.

A 1953 graduate of Ouachita Parish High School, Miss Bacon won many high school honors and held membership in several scholastically rated organizations. She was in the top ten of her graduating class, and she was a member of the honorary history organization, the Jeffersonian Club, the national Honor Society, and the Lionettes, pep squad.

Activities at Northeast in which she has participated include membership in the Debate Club, Honor Society, Social Science Club and Gold Jackets, pep squad.

Among Miss Bacon's most recent honors was her selection as one of the two coeds to represent the college at the Louisiana Library Association Convention book dinner in Alexandria.

'Lum' Of Humor Team To Address Oil Marketers

SHREVEPORT, April 21 —(Special) — Chester H. Lauck, executive assistant to the president of Continental Oil Company and better known as the beloved "Lum" of the nationally famous radio and motion picture team of "Lum and Abner" will be the principal speaker at the 5th annual Louisiana Oil Marketers Association Convention in New Orleans, May 13-14.

Lauck will speak at the annual LOMA luncheon in the Blue Room of the Roosevelt Hotel at noon on May 14, according to Curtis Parker, of Shreveport, president of LOMA.

Although known primarily as a radio and movie personality, Lauck was first successful as a banker and businessman. A native of Alene, Ark., he attended grade and high schools in Mena, Ark., and was graduated from the University of Arkansas, where he majored in journalism and edited the school's humor magazine.

He formed the team of "Lum and Abner" in 1931, with his boyhood friend, Norris Goff. They began their radio career in Hot Springs, Ark., and in less than two months had signed a network contract.

Since becoming associated with Conoco, Lauck has traveled extensively through the company's 27-state marketing area, speaking at annual chambers of commerce dinners, business meetings and state and national conventions.

Another highlight of the LOMA Convention will be a panel discussion of marketing problems with members of the panel composed of Eads Poitevent, senior vice-president of the National Bank of Commerce of New Orleans George Wheelis, Magnolia Petroleum Company, Alexandria; Kirk Dyson, regional manager of Cities Service, Shreveport Mark Richard, Cameron, and A. J. Lambert of De-Ridder.

The first day of the convention will be devoted to committee meetings. Officers for 1956-57 will be elected at the final business session and the convention will close with the annual LOMA dinner in the Grand Ball Room of the Roosevelt.

State Producers Pay $67,430,668 Severance Taxes

BATON ROUGE, April 21 —(Special) — Louisiana producers paid severance taxes totaling $67,430,668 on oil, gas and distillate produced during the 1955 calendar year for an all-time tax and production record.

Department of Revenue figures show oil production amounted to 239,907,491 barrels and gas 1,519,265,480,00 cubic feet, the Louisiana-Arkansas Division of Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association said today in analyzing the 1955 tax and production figures.

The department collected $57,156,266 in severance taxes on oil; $5,716,11 on distillate and $4,558,300 on gas.

Plaquemines parish continued well in front in oil production with 50,160,927 barrels, or 20 per cent of the state's total. Lafourche was next with 26,962,903 barrels, Terrebonne third at 19,749,315, Iberia fourth with 14,197,070, St. Mary fifth with 10,921, 836, and Caddo sixth at 10,070,830.

Acadia parish led in distillate production with 2,896,097 barrels; St. Landry has 2,732,363 barrels, Terrebonne 2,465,463, Vermillion 2,453,078, Webster 1,744,312, Cameron 1,771,332 and Jefferson Davis 1,771,171.

Terrebonne was the leading gas producer with 167 billion cubic feet, followed by Cameron with 117 Acadia at 108, St. Martin 83.4, Vermillion 79.2 and Jefferson Davis 76.4 billion.

Stock Market Backs And Fills In Hesitant Way

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—The stock market backed and filled in a hesitant manner all week and then flared up in a rally in the final session.

Railroads, enjoying their best business in five years, spearheaded the final drive ahead. It left brokers and traders bullish.

The Associated Press average lost 20 cents for the week and closed at $188.70.

The average was up a trifle Monday with railroads strong. It dipped quietly the next three sessions. On Friday the railroads in a strong upward move helped the market to make its best showing in a little more than a month.

Two weeks ago the average reached its record high of $191.50. Since then the market has gone down in a soggy manner. Many believed an unexpected piece of bad news could tumble prices quickly. However, one piece of news after another brushed past the market without apparent effect.

The five most active issues this week were Royal Dutch Petroleum up 5, Fruehauf Trailer up 1⅞, National Distillers up 1, General Motors off ½ and Studebaker off 1.

Quiet Ceremony At Independence

Margaret Truman Weds Newsman

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., April 21 (AP)—Margaret Truman was married today to Clifton Daniel Jr. in the same small red brick Trinity Episcopal church where her parents were wed 37 years ago.

The church was beautifully decorated in green fern and white flowers.

Only Margaret's parents, former President and Mrs. Harry S. Truman; Daniel's parents from Zebulon, N. C.; and other immediate members of the families — plus a few others, including Vietta, the Truman cook—were present as guests.

It was the kind of wedding ceremony that Margaret insisted upon. It was the same kind of wedding ceremony that any small town girl in any small town, U. S. A., could have.

Margaret resisted — "and we Trumans can be stubborn," she often has said—the natural trend resulting from the big influx of reporters, photographers, radio-TV commentators — to turn the event into a gala event.

In her days in the White House, she became accustomed to public attention, and as a concert singer and radio-TV star she has courted public applause. But from the day last month her engagement was announced, she had firmly said her marriage would be private.

Her attitude is that marriage is sacred. She once said she would never marry as long as her father was in the White House because she didn't want the attention that would go with such an event.

But Margaret finally agreed to a limited number of news reporters on a pooled basis at the ceremony and at the small reception afterward in the Trumans' big old-fashioned home.

This is the first marriage for Margaret and Clifton. She is 32 and he 43.

A handsome chap, with wavy graying hair and dark eyes, he started out as a $5 a week reporter in North Carolina. He is now assistant foreign editor of the New York Times.

Margaret, who has never though she looked well in white, wore a wedding gown of 17th century beige Venetian lace and 25 yards of matching pleated tulle.

It was ankle length and had three-quarter sleeves.

The gown was designed by Micol Fontana of Rome, who personally brought the dress to this country. She was one of the few guests outside the family at the wedding ceremony. There was a special reason—

Margaret was wearing a dinner dress of light blue silk organoda, designed by Fontana, the night in New York last November when she first met Cliff.

Margaret wore a head dress of the same beige lace as in her gown and a shoulder length veil.

Instead of a bridal bouquet, she carried a small prayer book given her by her Grandmother Wallace when she was confirmed in 1940. Mrs. E. W. Wallace, Mrs. Truman's mother, died in 1952.

Mrs. Truman wore an embroidered gray Swiss silk dress.

Margaret had two attendants—Mrs. William Coleman Brandon of Kansas City, and Mrs. John Horton of Los Angeles, the former Drucie Snyder, daughter of John Snyder, secretary of the Treasury in the Truman administration.

Margaret had been a bridesmaid in both their weddings.

Daniel was attended by John Knox Barrow of Ahoskie, N.C., a lumber mill operator who grew up with Daniel in Zebulon, N.C. They were college roommates and fraternity brothers at the University of North Carolina.

The ushers were Turner Catledge, managing editor of the New York Times; and George Backer, a former president and editor of the New York Post. It was in the Backers' home that Margaret and Cliff met.

Margaret was given in marriage by her father, who with her mother, thoroughly approved of a wedding without fanfare—and also approved of their new son-in-law.

"The more I see of him, the better I like him," Truman said.

The Episcopal wedding ceremony, simple and reverent, was performed by the Rev. Patric Hutton. It was a single ring ceremony and the word "obey" was not used.

The Rev. Mr. Hutton wore his most festive vestments. The priestly robe, fashioned from an imported cloth of gold material, has an embroidered hood of pale gold french velvet. The embroidery was done by his wife. The robe fastens with handsome gold and jeweled ornament which the Rev. Mr. Hutton himself made.

Daniel wore an oxford gray jacket over a gray weskit and shepherd's plaid trousers with tiny black and white checks. His tie was gray.

Truman, the best man and the ushers were in semiformal daytime suits of striped pants, gray weskit and oxford gray jackets.

The 76-year-old church, which would be crowded with more than 150 people, had been redecorated recently but prior to announcement of Margaret's engagement. It has beamed ceilings, light gray walls and gray pews.

Margaret was baptized in this church, went to Sunday School there and sang in its choir.

For her marriage it was decorated with large pots of woodwardia fern and white chrysanthemums and white stock.

There were two large unlighted candles on the altar but no flowers. Candelabra with 18-inch white tapers were interspersed among the flowers. The pews were trimmed with ropes of green smilax.

Tech Engineers To Initiate 15 New Members

RUSTON, April 21 (Special)—Thirteen students and two professional engineers will be initiated into Louisiana Tech's Gamma chapter of Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering society, on Wednesday, April 25, at 6:30 p.m. in the library of Bogard hall here.

R. J. Rhinehart of Pine Bluff, Ark., who is vice-president and president-elect of the National Society of Professional Engineers, will be the speaker for the occasion.

Two professional engineers to be initiated are Dr. G. L. Corrigan, head of the department of petroleum and geological engineering at Louisiana Tech, and Rhinehart.

Undergraduate initiates will be James McBride, Ruston; John Landers, Ruston; Kenneth Royer, DeQuincy; Charles Connaughton, of Shreveport; Leo Wright, Shreveport.

John Barber, Homer; Ralph McMickle, Natchitoches; Bill Amis, Cullendale, Ark.; Ken Davis, Monroe; Charles Roberts, Minden; and Ronald Harrell, Magnolia, Ark.

Soldier's Medal Awarded To Hero At Training Base

FT. JACKSON, S. C., April 21 (AP)—A 22-year-old Verbena, Ala., soldier received the nation's highest award for heroism not involving conflict, the Soldier's Medal, in ceremonies today.

The honor went to Pfc. James L. Easterling for displaying "complete disregard for his own safety" in disposing of a live fragmentation hand grenade at a post training range Aug. 15, last year.

Easterling was giving instructions in throwing grenades when a trainee dropped one of the missiles and it rolled several feet behind a launching pit, "endangering the personnel in the adjoining pits."

Easterling pushed the trainee to the ground, picked up the grenade and threw it into the impact area where it exploded.

Making the award presentation was Maj. Gen. F. S. Bowen Jr., post commander.

Among those attending the ceremonies were Easterling's wife and two small boys, Robert and Darren.

The soldier's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Luthon H. Easterling of Rt. 1, Verbena.

Candidate For Commissioner of Finance and Utilities

First I want to thank the great number of Monroe citizens who suggested that I become a candidate for the important post of Commissioner of Finance and Utilities for our City. In seeking this office I'm completely aware of the tremendous responsibility that goes with the administration of the various phases of the finance and utilities department. I think you'll agree that the man for this position should have thorough business training and experience.

I feel I'm qualified on both counts. After graduating from the University of Ohio, where I specialized in accounting and business administration —and received a Bachelor of Science degree in commerce—I immediately went into accounting and sales work. My 15 years' experience in the business world includes general insurance, real estate, farming and cattle raising. Even my four years' service in the Air Force was spent in administrative work.

In addition to operating the entire department on a strict business-like and non-political basis, I have as a major mission that of providing year-round power throughout all sections of the city.

Let me assure you that I am an independent candidate with no political ties. I solicit your support and cooperation.

JOHN L. LUFFEY

- MASTERS DEGREE... BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION
- ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF ACCOUNTING. 6 YEARS AT NORTHEAST LOUISIANA STATE COLLEGE
- SUCCESSFULLY COMPLETED FIRST HALF OF CPA EXAM.

When I announced my candidacy to serve the citizens of Monroe as your commissioner, I stated that I would publish my platform.

I am running as an independent candidate with no strings attached. I have made no private promises to individuals or groups except the promise to give Monroe the best administration of which I am capable. I believe that with my training and knowledge of financial matters and familiarity with Monroe and its problems, qualifies me for the post. As your commissioner, I shall serve as a businessman administrator. My Purpose is to work to build a greater Monroe.

1. Businesslike management of the city's utilities.
2. NO INCREASE IN CITY TAXES. Additional revenues to be derived from proper management of the city's utilities and services.
3. Constant protection of the city's ownership of its facilities.
4. Definite long range planning for the city's future growth.
5. Expansion of our power plant to meet the present and future needs of our city.
6. Appointment of an advisory committee for the operation of the city's facilities.
7. Increase salaries of city personnel to meet increased living cost and insure all security through a retirement plan.
8. Co-operation with the other members of the City Council for the best interest of Monroe.

I realize the problems facing the next Commissioner of Finance and Utilities and I have given much thought and study to the present and future needs of this department if Monroe is to be given the facilities which such a progressive, modern and growing community should have.

RUSTON, April 21 (Special)—Thirteen students and two professional engineers will be initiated into Louisiana Tech's Gamma chapter of Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering society, on Wednesday, April 25, at 6:30 p.m. in the library of Bogard hall here.

R. J. Rhinehart of Pine Bluff, Ark., who is vice-president and president-elect of the National Society of Professional Engineers, will be the speaker for the occasion.

Two professional engineers to be initiated are Dr. G. L. Corrigan, head of the department of petroleum and geological engineering at Louisiana Tech, and Rhinehart.

Undergraduate initiates will be James McBride, Ruston; John Landers, Ruston; Kenneth Royer, DeQuincy; Charles Connaughton, of Shreveport; Leo Wright, Shreveport.

John Barber, Homer; Ralph McMickle, Natchitoches; Bill Amis, Cullendale, Ark.; Ken Davis, Monroe; Charles Roberts, Minden; and Ronald Harrell, Magnolia, Ark.

Soldier's Medal Awarded To Hero At Training Base

FT. JACKSON, S. C., April 21 (AP)—A 22-year-old Verbena, Ala., soldier received the nation's highest award for heroism not involving conflict, the Soldier's Medal, in ceremonies today.

The honor went to Pfc. James L. Easterling for displaying "complete disregard for his own safety" in disposing of a live fragmentation hand grenade at a post training range Aug. 15, last year.

Easterling was giving instructions in throwing grenades when a trainee dropped one of the missiles and it rolled several feet behind a launching pit, "endangering the personnel in the adjoining pits."

Easterling pushed the trainee to the ground, picked up the grenade and threw it into the impact area where it exploded.

Making the award presentation was Maj. Gen. F. S. Bowen Jr., post commander.

Among those attending the ceremonies were Easterling's wife and two small boys, Robert and Darren.

The soldier's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Luthon H. Easterling of Rt. 1, Verbena.

Candidate For Commissioner of Finance and Utilities

First I want to thank the great number of Monroe citizens who suggested that I become a candidate for the important post of Commissioner of Finance and Utilities for our City. In seeking this office I'm completely aware of the tremendous responsibility that goes with the administration of the various phases of the finance and utilities department. I think you'll agree that the man for this position should have thorough business training and experience.

I feel I'm qualified on both counts. After graduating from the University of Ohio, where I specialized in accounting and business administration —and received a Bachelor of Science degree in commerce—I immediately went into accounting and sales work. My 15 years' experience in the business world includes general insurance, real estate, farming and cattle raising. Even my four years' service in the Air Force was spent in administrative work.

In addition to operating the entire department on a strict business-like and non-political basis, I have as a major mission that of providing year-round power throughout all sections of the city.

Let me assure you that I am an independent candidate with no political ties. I solicit your support and cooperation.

JOHN L. LUFFEY

- MASTERS DEGREE... BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION
- ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF ACCOUNTING. 6 YEARS AT NORTHEAST LOUISIANA STATE COLLEGE
- SUCCESSFULLY COMPLETED FIRST HALF OF CPA EXAM.

When I announced my candidacy to serve the citizens of Monroe as your commissioner, I stated that I would publish my platform.

I am running as an independent candidate with no strings attached. I have made no private promises to individuals or groups except the promise to give Monroe the best administration of which I am capable. I believe that with my training and knowledge of financial matters and familiarity with Monroe and its problems, qualifies me for the post. As your commissioner, I shall serve as a businessman administrator. My Purpose is to work to build a greater Monroe.

1. Businesslike management of the city's utilities.
2. NO INCREASE IN CITY TAXES. Additional revenues to be derived from proper management of the city's utilities and services.
3. Constant protection of the city's ownership of its facilities.
4. Definite long range planning for the city's future growth.
5. Expansion of our power plant to meet the present and future needs of our city.
6. Appointment of an advisory committee for the operation of the city's facilities.
7. Increase salaries of city personnel to meet increased living cost and insure all security through a retirement plan.
8. Co-operation with the other members of the City Council for the best interest of Monroe.

I realize the problems facing the next Commissioner of Finance and Utilities and I have given much thought and study to the present and future needs of this department if Monroe is to be given the facilities which such a progressive, modern and growing community should have.

Man of the Week

J. E. WOOD, Mgr.

Everyone should know this friendly, local business man. As manager of Aetna Finance Co., he is literally "man of the week" to the many persons who seek and benefit from his helpful financial counsel and service.

"I like people," he said, "and like to help folks with loans of $20 to $1500 when they need extra cash."

A "Get-Acquainted" Loan of $50, $75 or $100 may be obtained on name only by any steadily employed person. The total cost of $50 for 30 days is only $1.75.

Other loans are offered for any worthy purpose or to consolidate bills, with monthly payments often reduced as much as 50%. The Aetna manager is the man to see to solve your money problems. The Aetna office is at 204 North Second St., Phone 3-6634.—Adv.

Cotton Futures Erratic; Close Week Well Mixed

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—Cotton futures prices followed erratic trends this week and closed mixed. At week end, nearby deliveries were down while the distant months finished higher.

Active futures contracts on the New York Cotton Exchange closed at prices ranging from $1.75 a bale lower to $2.15 higher.

At the start of the week, the market drew considerable support from expectations that the secretary of agriculture would announce a parity loan rate of 84 to 85 per cent on the 1956 crop. When he finally announced a loan rate of only 82½ per cent, disappointed traders were inclined to sell.

Nearby July was under strong selling pressure at one time. Many dealers feared dumping of inferior cotton on that contract under the substitution proviso of the government's new export program. It would allow persons buying cotton from the government for export to substitute the same volume of cotton from their own stocks, regardless of differences in quality. These fears were allayed, however, when the government announced the new program would not go into effect until August.

Following President Xisenhower's veto of the farm bill, Agriculture Secretary Benson announced a support price level of 28.85 cents per pound on 1956 crop middling 15-16-inch upland cotton. That amounts to 82½ per cent of the mid-March parity price of 34.97 cents.

Following President Eisenhow-Service Bureau pointed out that if historic preliums are maintained on middling one-inch cotton over ⅞-inch staple, the loan rate on middling one-inch cotton next season should be about 32.25 cents a pound. That would compare with the current support level of 34.55 cents.

The Census Bureau reported this week domestic consumption of cotton for March averaged 36,700 bales per day, vs. 38,000 a month earlier and 35,700 a year ago. The New York Cotton Exchange Service Bureau said that if the daily rate for April through July is in line with the trend for the past five years, a full-season use of 9,150,000 bales would be in prospect. Domestic consumption last season totaled 8,841,000 bales.

The bureau noted that total distribution of U. S. cotton continues to lose ground despite increased mill use, because exports have been lagging. For the current season through March, domestic consumption showed a gain of 323,-000 bales over the like period a year ago. Exports, however, showed a decline of 1,537,000 bales.

Exports in the week ended Tuesday totaled 75,000 bales, against 58,000 the previous week and 35,-000 in the like week last year, according to an estimate by the Service Bureau. This brings the total for the season through Tuesday to 1,359,000 bales, compared to shipments of 2,785,000 bales at approximately the same time last season.

Texas Completes 361 Wells In Week

AUSTIN, April 21 (AP)—The Railroad Commission said today Texas oil well drillers brought in 361 wells this week, lifting the total this year to 5,144. For this period last year, 4,576 wells were finished.

Of the 361 wells, 8 were completed on unproven land. This made 191 wildcats for the year compared to 159 a year ago.

Bulls Ride High In Grain Market

CHICAGO, April 21 (AP) — The bulls rode high, wide and handsome on the Board of Trade this week.

In a series of strong and at times active markets cereals scored wide gains, in some cases the sharpest for the year. Many new seasonal highs were set in corn, oats and old crop soybeans.

Probably the old crop soybeans gave the outstanding performance, although their claims might be disputed by corn. In any case July soybeans hit 3.07¾, top price for any bean delivery in nearly two years.

Wheat closed the week 4⅞-7¼ higher, corn 7⅜-9¾ higher, oats 3¼-5¾ higher, rye 2¾-5¼ higher, old crop soybeans 14¼-14B higher, new crop soybeans 6 to 6½ higher and lard 15 to 33 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Cotton Carnival Royalty Chosen

MEMPHIS, April 21 (AP)—A pretty debutante and a Mississippi plantation owner will rule over the 1956 Memphis cotton carnival.

Oscar Clark Carr Jr., 32, of Clarksdale, Miss., and Miss Clare Mallory, 19, of Memphis, were named today as the king and queen of cotton for next month's gala carnival.

Miss Mallory, a green - eyed brownette, is the daughter of Barton Lee Mallory, the 1941 king. She's a student at Bennett Junior College in Millbrook, N.Y.

Carr and members of his family operate Mascot Plantation near Clarksdale. He is married and the father of three young children.

King Oscar and Queen Clare will officially begin their reign with the arrival of their royal barge at the Mississippi River waterfront the night of May 15. Five days of pomp, pageantry and play will follow.

"Your husband's trouble is dyscrasia of the pocketbook"

Mrs. Brown: I'm not sure I understand just what you mean, doctor.

Doctor: Heart's sound. Digestion's perfect. No pain anywhere. Says he's making more money than ever before. Yet he can't sleep. Why?

Mrs. Brown: That's what I need to know, doctor.

Doctor: Simple. Frittering away his money. Got nothing to show for it. When money leaves the pocketbook, air rushes in. Upsets balance. Dyscrasia. Man can't sleep.

Mrs. Brown: What should he do for it?

Doctor: I'd say stop frittering. But don't ask me. I'm a doctor. Ask a stockbroker.

Mrs. Brown: Why a stockbroker?

Doctor: Broker I go to says if a man's got his bills paid and a reserve put by for emergencies, maybe he's ready to invest extra money to get income from securities — like bonds and good common stocks.

Mrs. Brown: But you have to be rich to buy stocks.

Doctor: Nonsense. My broker said 75 percent of people who own stocks have incomes under ten thousand. Many under five. Tell Henry not to try to get rich quick or fall for tips or any of that rubbish. Idea is to get income from dividends and grow with the company.

Mrs. Brown: But do companies always pay dividends?

Doctor: Certainly not. Depends on the company. But I understand last year 90 percent of the stocks on the New York Stock Exchange paid dividends. And about 300 have paid 'em every year for 25 up to 100 years. Thing to do is pick stocks carefully by getting all the facts you can get. Broker I go to is stuffed with 'em.

Mrs. Brown: You know something, doctor? I don't even know what common stock is.

Doctor: Didn't know myself until recently. You buy stock and that makes you part owner of the company. I practice medicine but I'm part owner of these companies I own stock in. They pay me dividends out of their profits. Not bad, eh? This is for your husband.

Mrs. Brown: But doctor, that's not a prescription — it's just somebody's name!

Doctor: Name of broker I go to. Tell your husband to ask him for that wonderful new booklet called "Dividends Over the Years." Goodbye, Mrs. Brown.

"DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS—a Basic Guide for Common Stock Investment" is packed with information. It gives dividend records and earnings of more than 300 stocks that have paid dividends every year for 25 years or more. These stocks are also grouped to show:

Stocks which have paid progressively higher dividends over the past 10 years

Stocks with yields of 5% to 6% at recent prices

Companies not reporting a deficit for 45 years

plus other useful information including — stocks most favored by financial institutions, facts about the convenient Monthly Investment Plan. For a free copy of this booklet send in the coupon.

Cotton Futures Erratic; Close Week Well Mixed

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—Cotton futures prices followed erratic trends this week and closed mixed. At week end, nearby deliveries were down while the distant months finished higher.

Active futures contracts on the New York Cotton Exchange closed at prices ranging from $1.75 a bale lower to $2.15 higher.

At the start of the week, the market drew considerable support from expectations that the secretary of agriculture would announce a parity loan rate of 84 to 85 per cent on the 1956 crop. When he finally announced a loan rate of only 82½ per cent, disappointed traders were inclined to sell.

Nearby July was under strong selling pressure at one time. Many dealers feared dumping of inferior cotton on that contract under the substitution proviso of the government's new export program. It would allow persons buying cotton from the government for export to substitute the same volume of cotton from their own stocks, regardless of differences in quality. These fears were allayed, however, when the government announced the new program would not go into effect until August.

Following President Xisenhower's veto of the farm bill, Agriculture Secretary Benson announced a support price level of 28.85 cents per pound on 1956 crop middling 15-16-inch upland cotton. That amounts to 82½ per cent of the mid-March parity price of 34.97 cents.

Following President Eisenhow-Service Bureau pointed out that if historic preliums are maintained on middling one-inch cotton over ⅞-inch staple, the loan rate on middling one-inch cotton next season should be about 32.25 cents a pound. That would compare with the current support level of 34.55 cents.

The Census Bureau reported this week domestic consumption of cotton for March averaged 36,700 bales per day, vs. 38,000 a month earlier and 35,700 a year ago. The New York Cotton Exchange Service Bureau said that if the daily rate for April through July is in line with the trend for the past five years, a full-season use of 9,150,000 bales would be in prospect. Domestic consumption last season totaled 8,841,000 bales.

The bureau noted that total distribution of U. S. cotton continues to lose ground despite increased mill use, because exports have been lagging. For the current season through March, domestic consumption showed a gain of 323,-000 bales over the like period a year ago. Exports, however, showed a decline of 1,537,000 bales.

Exports in the week ended Tuesday totaled 75,000 bales, against 58,000 the previous week and 55,-000 in the like week last year, according to an estimate by the Service Bureau. This brings the total for the season through Tuesday to 1,359,000 bales, compared to shipments of 2,785,000 bales at approximately the same time last season.

Texas Completes 361 Wells In Week

AUSTIN, April 21 (AP)—The Railroad Commission said today Texas oil well drillers brought in 361 wells this week, lifting the total this year to 5,144. For this period last year, 4,576 wells were finished.

Of the 361 wells, 8 were completed on unproven land. This made 191 wildcats for the year compared to 159 a year ago.

Cotton Carnival Royalty Chosen

MEMPHIS, April 21 (AP)—A pretty debutante and a Mississippi plantation owner will rule over the 1956 Memphis cotton carnival.

Oscar Clark Carr Jr., 32, of Clarksdale, Miss., and Miss Clare Mallory, 19, of Memphis, were named today as the king and queen of cotton for next month's gala carnival.

Miss Mallory, a green - eyed brownette, is the daughter of Barton Lee Mallory, the 1941 king. She's a student at Bennett Junior College in Millbrook, N.Y.

Carr and members of his family operate Mascot Plantation near Clarksdale. He is married and the father of three young children.

King Oscar and Queen Clare will officially begin their reign with the arrival of their royal barge at the Mississippi River waterfront the night of May 15. Five days of pomp, pageantry and play will follow.

Bulls Ride High In Grain Market

CHICAGO, April 21 (AP) — The bulls rode high, wide and handsome on the Board of Trade this week.

In a series of strong and at times active markets cereals scored wide gains, in some cases the sharpest for the year. Many new seasonal highs were set in corn, oats and old crop soybeans.

Probably the old crop soybeans gave the outstanding performance, although their claims might be disputed by corn. In any case July soybeans hit 3.07¾, top price for any bean delivery in nearly two years.

Wheat closed the week 4⅞-7¼ higher, corn 7⅜-9¾ higher, oats 3¼-5¾ higher, rye 2¾-5¼ higher, old crop soybeans 14¼-14B higher, new crop soybeans 6 to 6½ higher and lard 15 to 33 cents a hundred pounds higher.

"Your husband's trouble is dyscrasia of the pocketbook"

Mrs. Brown: I'm not sure I understand just what you mean, doctor.

Doctor: Heart's sound. Digestion's perfect. No pain anywhere. Says he's making more money than ever before. Yet he can't sleep. Why?

Mrs. Brown: That's what I need to know, doctor.

Doctor: Simple. Frittering away his money. Got nothing to show for it. When money leaves the pocketbook, air rushes in. Upsets balance. Dyscrasia. Man can't sleep.

Mrs. Brown: What should he do for it?

Doctor: I'd say stop frittering. But don't ask me. I'm a doctor. Ask a stockbroker.

Mrs. Brown: Why a stockbroker?

Doctor: Broker I go to says if a man's got his bills paid and a reserve put by for emergencies, maybe he's ready to invest extra money to get income from securities – like bonds and good common stocks.

Mrs. Brown: But you have to be rich to buy stocks.

Doctor: Nonsense. My broker said 75 percent of people who own stocks have incomes under ten thousand. Many under five. Tell Henry not to try to get rich quick or fall for tips or any of that rubbish. Idea is to get income from dividends and grow with the company.

Mrs. Brown: But do companies always pay dividends?

Doctor: Certainly not. Depends on the company. But I understand last year 90 percent of the stocks on the New York Stock Exchange paid dividends. And about 300 have paid 'em every year for 25 up to 100 years. Thing to do is pick stocks carefully by getting all the facts you can get. Broker I go to is stuffed with 'em.

Mrs. Brown: You know something, doctor? I don't even know what common stock is.

Doctor: Didn't know myself until recently. You buy stock and that makes you part owner of the company. I practice medicine but I'm part owner of these companies I own stock in. They pay me dividends out of their profits. Not bad, eh? This is for your husband.

Mrs. Brown: But doctor, that's not a prescription – it's just somebody's name!

Doctor: Name of broker I go to. Tell your husband to ask him for that wonderful new booklet called "Dividends Over the Years." Goodbye, Mrs. Brown.

"DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS—a Basic Guide for Common Stock Investment" is packed with information. It gives dividend records and earnings of more than 300 stocks that have paid dividends every year for 25 years or more. These stocks are also grouped to show:

Stocks which have paid progressively higher dividends over the past 10 years

Stocks with yields of 5% to 6% at recent prices

Companies not reporting a deficit for 45 years

plus other useful information including – stocks most favored by financial institutions, facts about the convenient Monthly Investment Plan. For a free copy of this booklet send in the coupon.

Monroe Nabs 5th In Row As New Iberia Falls, 10-7

Sports Shoot For No. 6 In Scramble With Tribe Today

Lusty hitting and the help of New Iberia errors fired the Monroe Sports to their fifth straight Evangeline League triumph here last night as they tagged the Indians, 10-7, in the opener of a two-game series. The clubs meet here again this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Legion Memorial Stadium, and Manager Ed Head has named Don Short, the lefthander who hurled a season-opening two-hitter at Alexandria Tuesday, to make his second start for the Sports today.

After spotting New Iberia four runs in the first inning, the Sports banged across five runs in the second to take a lead they never relinquished. The big Monroe frame was featured by three successively longer extra base hits, a double by Jack George, a triple by Bill McGuckin, and an out-of-the-park homer by Bill Carr.

Donald Longfellow was the victiim of the Sports' big inning and was charged with the defeat. He was followed on the mound by Bud Clark and Jim Orr.

Jim Birkefer hurled the victory for Monroe, but he needed help from Tony Cimino in the seventh inning when the Tribe threatened a rally that counted two runs in shaving the Sports' lead to single tally.

The Indians got away to a fast start with four runs in the first inning. Jim Hoelsher and Marty Delaune walked. Vic Comolli forced Delaune, but Glen Rediger singled Hoelsher across, Van Hill Drove Comolli home with a single. A passed balo advanced Hill who scored with Rediger on a hit by Jim Mulby.

Errors helped the Sports to a when Bill McGuckin's fly to right was dropped, allowing him to gain second. Longfellow's wide throw on a pickoff attempt sent McGuckin to third from where he scored on Bill Carr's fly to center.

Monroe shelled Longfellow from the mound with a heavy-hitting second inning that fashioned four runs and sent the Sports ahead. "Blackie" Millet opened with a single and was at second when Disk Folk dropped the force throw from Hoelsher on Ron Paul's Grounder. Don Pierce walked. With one out and the bases full, Jack George poled a double high off the left field fence, scoring Millet and Paul. Folks relax throw to third with nobody covering, sent Pierce across. McGucken tripled into right center, scoring George, but McGuckin was out at the plate trying for an inside-the-park homer. Carr promptly cleared the left field fence at the 335-foot distance to send his team ahead and Longfellow to the showers.

New Iberia scored one in the fifth when DeLaune, forcing Hoelsher, who had singled, went to third on Comolli's single and scored on Rediger's fly to center.

Two runs in the fifth sent the Sports into an 8-5 lead. Carr walked, Herman Creasey singled, Millet forced Creasey, sending Carr to third from where he counted on an error. A double by Pierce scored Millet.

The Indians got two in the seventh. Lynn Henry was safe on an error, Hoelsher doubled, and Fred Swick finished Birkofer with a single, scoring Henry. Comoli greeted Cimino with a single counting Hoelsher.

But a double by Millet, a free pass to Pierce, and a single by Cimino, plus a boot in left field added two more Monroe runs.

Rebels Wallop Bears, 15-0

The West Monroe Rebels, seeking to revenge a previous loss of this season, let their bats speak out yesterday afternoon as they gave the Bolton Bears a 15-0 trouncing. The Rebelists logged out 15 hits on the Neville diamond to give starter L. C. Crawford a victory in his first hill assignment.

The visitors threated only in the seventh and final inning when two Bears singled. Other than this stanza the B.H.S. club was not able to advance a player further than second base.

West Monroe took a 7-0 lead in the first frame and never let their bats become silent.

Crawford handed the Alexandria organization only three hits during the battle. Seven strikeouts also aided the lanky righthander in placing another triumph in the W. M. win ledger. The Westsiders who now exhibit a 13-2 record for the season are slated to journey to Farmerville Monday for another encounter.

EZZARD CHARLES WINS

11-Hit Offensive Shoots Senators Past Orioles, 8-4

BALTIMORE, April 21 (AP)— The Washington Senators exploded with an 11-hit barrage today, chased the Orioles' Bill Wight off the mound in the first inning and earned an 8-4 victory over Baltimore. Dean Stone limited the Birds to seven hits.

Ed Fitzgerald, veteran National's catcher, sponsored Washington's hitting offensive against southpaw Wight, George Zuverink and Don Ferrarese.

Cards Rally To Plaster Braves With First Loss

ST. LOUIS, April 21 (AP)—Bonus pitcher Lindy McDaniel shut out the Milwaukee Braves the last five innings today while the Cardinals rallied to hand the Braves their first defeat of the season, 6-5.

The 20-year-old Hollis, Okla., righthander held the Braves to just two safeties, one an infield hit, to get his first major league victory.

Wally Moon's two-out single in the seventh, scoring Stan Musial from second, won the game.

The Braves battered Cardinal starter Willard Schmidt for three home runs and five runs in his four-inning stretch.

LAWRENCE, Kans., April 21 (Special) — Louisiana Tech won first place in relays here today in the 31st annual Kansas Relays. The triumphiant Louisiana team was Gene Jantz, and Russel Rainbolt. Relay officials presented each member of the team an electric clock with a gold inscription reading, "Kansas Relays—1956."

In the sprint medley the Tech team placed fourth.

Tribe Halts Demons, 10-6

The Northeast Indians encouraged by their Friday afternoon win over Louisiana College returned to their home diamond yesterday afternoon to slap the Northwestern Demons with a, 10-6, defeat. This was the second G.S.C. Conference loss of the season for the Demons.

Northwestern jumped off to a 5-0 fielder Rayburn. Cook, a roaring with two singles, a triple by right fielder ayburn. Cook, a roaring home run by Kemp Gordon, a sacrifice, and a pair of errors. Initial Indian hurler James Mock gave way to moundsman "Bo" Laird during the frame and it looked as if the Redskins and Laird were in for a dark afternoon.

The Northeast athletics nibbled back, picking up two runs in their half of the first inning, adding another in the second, and when the third stanza arrived the Tribe exploded for five big runs to take an 8-5 lead. Laird, taking up his own cause kicked off the runfest with a triple that scored third baseman Harold Davis who had walked. Another hit, an error, and a wild pitch accounted for the run-producing affair.

This was the second conference victory for the Indians against three setbacks. Their seasons slate now shows a six and five score.

Billy Hughes Sets 3 Track Records At Haynesville

HAYNESVILLE, La., April 21 (Special) — West Monroe High School's Billy Hughes received the outstanding Athletic Award here today in the Haynesville Invitational Track Meet.

Hughes who competed with his teammates against organizations from eight other schools from Louisiana and Arkansas set three new records for the annual meet.

The young Rebel made a new mark with a 21' 6¾" broad jump. In the hop-step and jump contest Hughes broke the standing score with a 44 feet, 1⅛ inch showing. A 10.05 seconds was sufficient to put Hughes in the 100 yard dash book.

'Pokes Increase G.S.C. Lead With, 7-3, SLI Beating

HAMMOND La., April 21 (AP) — McNeese State College beat Southeastern Louisiana 7-3 today to take a firm hold on second place in Gulf States Conference standings.

The game left McNeese with a 4-2 record and SLC with a 3-3 mark.

McNeese overcame an early 2-0 lead in the third inning and tied the game. Two runs came in on two straight walks and a double by James Moss.

Two more runs in the fourth gave McNeese the lead for good. They scored on a hit batsman, a walk, a sacrifice fly and Charley Decker's single.

A's Post 13 Runs In 2nd To Rout White Sox, 15-1

KANSAS CITY, April 21 (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics scored 13 runs in the second inning after two men were out today and then coasted to a 15-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Art Ditmar pitched a 1-hitter giving up only a single to Earl Battey, substitute Chicago catcher in the fourth.

The second inning was sweet revenge for the Athletics who were humiliated by the Sox a year ago when Chicago scored a 29-6 victory to tie the modern major league records for runs scored in a single game.

The 13 scored today was high for the majors this year and fell four short of the modern major league record for one inning—17 set by the Boston Red Sox in 1953.

Ole Miss Lines Up Houston Date On Jackson Grid

JACKSON, Miss., April 21 (AP)—Athletic Director C. M. Smith of the University of Mississippi signed an agreement today that will bring the Ole Miss-University of Houston football game to Jackson this fall.

Johnny Vaught's defending Southeastern Conference champions defeated the Houston eleven at Jackson's Memorial Stadium last fall. The Rebs went on to win the SEC and the Cotton Bowl classic at Dallas over TCU.

La. Tech Crushes Wildcats, 20-1, In G.S.C. Clash

RUSTON, La., April 21 (AP) — Louisiana Tech used a 20-hit attack today to swamp Louisiana College 20-1 in a Gulf States Conference baseball game.

Tech scored in every inning but two on 15 singles, four doubles and a home run. The homer was by Dudley Trigg with the bases empty in the eighth.

Heavy hitters for the winners were third baseman Wade Scott and catcher Clyde Hunt, with three for each. Two of Scott's were doubles. Jim Limbaugh, Louisiana College first baseman, led his team with three hits in four trips.

Jesse Mercer went five innings and was the winning pitcher. He gave up three hits. Milford Andrews relieved and gave up two hits. Losing pitch was Sonny Clark, who started and went two innings. He gave up eight runs and seven hits.

Tech now has a 4-2 GSC record, while the losers have a 1-5 mark.

Sports Shoot For No. 6 In Scramble With Tribe Today

Lusty hitting and the help of New Iberia errors fired the Monroe Sports to their fifth straight Evangeline League triumph here last night as they tagged the Indians, 10-7, in the opener of a two-game series. The clubs meet here again this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Legion Memorial Stadium, and Manager Ed Head has named Don Short, the lefthander who hurled a season-opening two-hitter at Alexandria Tuesday, to make his second start for the Sports today.

After spotting New Iberia four runs in the first inning, the Sports banged across five runs in the second to take a lead they never relinquished. The big Monroe frame was featured by three successively longer extra base hits, a double by Jack George, a triple by Bill McGuckin, and an out-of-the-park homer by Bill Carr.

Donald Longfellow was the victiim of the Sports' big inning and was charged with the defeat. He was followed on the mound by Bud Clark and Jim Orr.

Jim Birkefer hurled the victory for Monroe, but he needed help from Tony Cimino in the seventh inning when the Tribe threatened a rally that counted two runs in shaving the Sports' lead to single tally.

The Indians got away to a fast start with four runs in the first inning. Jim Hoelsher and Marty Delaune walked. Vic Comolli forced Delaune, but Glen Rediger singled Hoelsher across. Van Hill Drove Comolli home with a single. A passed balo advanced Hill who scored with Rediger on a hit by Jim Mulby.

Errors helped the Sports to a when Bill McGuckin's fly to right was dropped, allowing him to gain second. Longfellow's wide throw on a pickoff attempt sent McGuckin to third from where he scored on Bill Carr's fly to center.

Monroe shelled Longfellow from the mound with a heavy-hitting second inning that fashioned four runs and sent the Sports ahead. "Blackie" Millet opened with a single and was at second when Disk Folk dropped the force throw from Hoelsher on Ron Paul's Grounder. Don Pierce walked. With one out and the bases full, Jack George poled a double high off the left field fence, scoring Millet and Paul. Folks relax throw to third with nobody covering, sent Pierce across. McGucken tripled into right center, scoring George, but McGuckin was out at the plate trying for an inside-the-park homer. Carr promptly cleared the left field fence at the 335-foot distance to send his team ahead and Longfellow to the showers.

New Iberia scored one in the fifth when DeLaune, forcing Hoelsher, who had singled, went to third on Comolli's single and scored on Rediger's fly to center.

Two runs in the fifth sent the Sports into an 8-5 lead. Carr walked. Herman Creasey singled. Millet forced Creasey, sending Carr to third from where he counted on an error. A double by Pierce scored Millet.

The Indians got two in the seventh. Lynn Henry was safe on an error, Hoelsher doubled, and Fred Swick finished Birkofer with a single, scoring Henry. Comoli greeted Cimino with a single counting Hoelsher.

But a double by Millet, a free pass to Pierce, and a single by Cimino, plus a boot in left field added two more Monroe runs.

Rebels Wallop Bears, 15-0

The West Monroe Rebels, seeking to revenge a previous loss of this season, let their bats speak out yesterday afternoon as they gave the Bolton Bears a 15-0 trouncing. The Rebelists logged out 15 hits on the Neville diamond to give starter L. C. Crawford a victory in his first hill assignment.

The visitors threated only in the seventh and final inning when two Bears singled. Other than this stanza the B.H.S. club was not able to advance a player further than second base.

West Monroe took a 7-0 lead in the first frame and never let their bats become silent.

Crawford handed the Alexandria organization only three hits during the battle. Seven strikeouts also aided the lanky righthander in placing another triumph in the W. M. win ledger. The Westsiders who now exhibit a 13-2 record for the season are slated to journey to Farmerville Monday for another encounter.

EZZARD CHARLES WINS

11-Hit Offensive Shoots Senators Past Orioles, 8-4

BALTIMORE, April 21 (AP)— The Washington Senators exploded with an 11-hit barrage today, chased the Orioles' Bill Wight off the mound in the first inning and earned an 8-4 victory over Baltimore. Dean Stone limited the Birds to seven hits.

Ed Fitzgerald, veteran National's catcher, sponsored Washington's hitting offensive against southpaw Wight, George Zuverink and Don Ferrarese.

Fitz scored one run and had three hits in four appearances at the plate.

HAMMOND La., April 21 (AP) — McNeese State College beat Southeastern Louisiana 7-3 today to take a firm hold on second place in Gulf States Conference standings.

The game left McNeese with a 4-2 record and SLC with a 3-3 mark.

McNeese overcame an early 2-0 lead in the third inning and tied the game. Two runs came in on two straight walks and a double by James Moss.

Two more runs in the fourth gave McNeese the lead for good. They scored on a hit batsman, a walk, a sacrifice fly and Charley Decker's single.

A's Post 13 Runs In 2nd To Rout White Sox, 15-1

KANSAS CITY, April 21 (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics scored 13 runs in the second inning after two men were out today and then coasted to a 15-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Art Ditmar pitched a 1-hitter giving up only a single to Earl Battey, substitute Chicago catcher in the fourth.

The second inning was sweet revenge for the Athletics who were humiliated by the Sox a year ago when Chicago scored a 29-6 victory to tie the modern major league records for runs scored in a single game.

The 13 scored today was high for the majors this year and fell four short of the modern major league record for one inning—17 set by the Boston Red Sox in 1953.

La. Tech Crushes Wildcats, 20-1, In G.S.C. Clash

RUSTON, La., April 21 (AP) — Louisiana Tech used a 20-hit attack today to swamp Louisiana College 20-1 in a Gulf States Conference baseball game.

Tech scored in every inning but two on 15 singles, four doubles and a home run. The homer was by Dudley Trigg with the bases empty in the eighth.

Heavy hitters for the winners were third baseman Wade Scott and catcher Clyde Hunt, with three for each. Two of Scott's were doubles. Jim Limbaugh, Louisiana College first baseman, led his team with three hits in four trips.

Jesse Mercer went five innings and was the winning pitcher. He gave up three hits. Milford Andrews relieved and gave up two hits. Losing pitch was Sonny Clark, who started and went two innings. He gave up eight runs and seven hits.

Tech now has a 4-2 GSC record, while the losers have a 1-5 mark.

Cards Rally To Plaster Braves With First Loss

ST. LOUIS, April 21 (AP)—Bonus pitcher Lindy McDaniel shut out the Milwaukee Braves the last five innings today while the Cardinals rallied to hand the Braves their first defeat of the season, 6-5.

The 20-year-old Hollis, Okla., righthander held the Braves to just two safeties, one an infield hit, to get his first major league victory.

Wally Moon's two-out single in the seventh, scoring Stan Musial from second, won the game.

Tech Places 1st In Kansas Relay 880 Spike Event

LAWRENCE, Kans., April 21 (Special) — Louisiana Tech won first place in relays here today in the 31st annual Kansas Relays. The triumphiant Louisiana team was Gene Jantz, and Russel Rainbolt. Relay officials presented each member of the team an electric clock with a gold inscription reading, "Kansas Relays—1956."

In the sprint medley the Tech team placed fourth.

Tribe Halts Demons, 10-6

The Northeast Indians encouraged by their Friday afternoon win over Louisiana College returned to their home diamond yesterday afternoon to slap the Northwestern Demons with a, 10-6, defeat. This was the second G.S.C. Conference loss of the season for the Demons.

Northwestern jumped off to a 5-0 fielder Rayburn. Cook, a roaring with two singles, a triple by right fielder ayburn. Cook, a roaring home run by Kemp Gordon, a sacrifice, and a pair of errors. Initial Indian hurler James Mock gave way to moundsman "Bo" Laird during the frame and it looked as if the Redskins and Laird were in for a dark afternoon.

The Northeast athletics nibbled back, picking up two runs in their half of the first inning, adding another in the second, and when the third stanza arrived the Tribe exploded for five big runs to take an 8-5 lead. Laird, taking up his own cause kicked off the runfest with a triple that scored third baseman Harold Davis who had walked. Another hit, an error, and a wild pitch accounted for the run-producing affair.

This was the second conference victory for the Indians against three setbacks. Their seasons slate now shows a six and five score.

Neville Golfers Win 4-Way Meet; Nash Cops Medal

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 21 (Special) — Neville High School of Monroe swept top honors in a four-team golf tournament here today with a low foursome score of 311. Byrd of Shreveport was runner-up with 323, Bolton of Alexandria came in with 332, and West Monroe finished fourth with 364.

Roy Nash, Neville, was tourney medalist with a one-under-par 33-38—71.

Other low scorers were Doug Farr, Bolton, 37-35—72; Eddie Watkins, West Monroe, defending state champion, 37-36—73; Joe Thomas, Neville, 37-40—77; and Jimmy Hughes, Byrd, 40-37—77.

Foursome totals over the Alexandria Golf and Country Club course were:

Neville, 71-78-77-85—311; Byrd, 77-81-79-86—323; Bolton, 72-83-84-103—332; and West Monroe, 73-98-99-94—364.

Neville next Saturday appears in the district tournament at Ruston next Saturday, the Tri-State with Byrd at Shreveport the following Saturday, and the state tournament attracts all rivals at Baton Rouge May 11.

Robinson Blasts Pinch Single For Payoff In Eighth

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—Veteran Eddie Robinson, making his first appearance of the season, pinch singled home the winning run in the eighth inning today as the New York Yankees whipped the fumbling Boston Red Sox 14-10 in a long, exciting and loosely played game.

It was the Yanks' second straight win over the Red Sox and sent them into first place with a 4-1 record. Boston is 3-2.

The Yanks blew an 8-0 lead and trailed 10-9 going into the last of the eighth. Then they crashed through the leading Boston defense for five runs to sew the wild game in which everything happened, including seven home runs, walks, errors by two Boston outfielders, hit batsmen and a passed ball.

Fighting from behind all afternoon, the Red Sox scored three runs in the fifth inning, four in the seventh and finally seemed to have the Yanks on the ropes with a dramatic three-run splurge in the eighth for a 10-9 margin.

With two away, Jim Piersall homered to left off Jim Konstanty, fourth Yankee pitcher. Then Don Buddin walked. Pete Daley, second string Sox catcher who came into the game in the seventh inning with relief pitcher Tom Hurd, clouted the first homer of his major league career to nudge the Sox in front 10-9. It was Daley's first time at bat this year.

It was up to Hurd, fourth Boston pitcher, to hold the lead but he couldn't. Yogi Berra, first up in the Yankee eighth, tied the score with a smash into the lower right field stands for his second homer of the year.

New Officers Take Over Wildlife Unit This Week

The first regular meeting of the Ouachita unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation under its new officers is scheduled for Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock on the roof of Hotel Virginia with a varied program to be offered.

Taking office will be O. N. McNeil, president; Arthur "Bud" Tidell, vice president; E. D. Elmore secretary-treasurer; and the new board members, Jake Benton, McNeil, A. E. Jones, Otis Woods, and J. C. Lolley.

A special guest will be Charles D. Phillips Jr., member of the education department of the Louisisna Wild Life and Fisheries, who will bring along a wildlife movie, "Wildlife in Revie," which is being described as the best of its nature ever offered for public viewing.

The unit will formulate plans for an extensive membership campaign, discuss new projects for the parish of particular interest to sportsmen of the area, and appoint committee chairmen for the year.

"We believe this will be one of our most interesting meetings," reported "Bud" Tidell. "It promises to be a gathering of interest to all, and we're inviting all Ouachita sportsmen and those from neighboring parishes to visit with us, bring their wives and children, and help make the session a sucess. The children will particularly enjoy the wildlife movie. Then, we'll have door prizes for a man and woman."

Larsen, Forbes Take Paris Doubles Title

PARIS, April 21 (AP)—Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., and Gordon Forbes of South Africa, today won the men's doubles title in the Parisian International Tennis Championships.

They defeated the French team of Paul Remy and Marcel Bernard, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, 5-7, 12-10.

Larsen will meet Budge Patty, Los Angeles and Paris, in the men's singles final tomorrow.

Curtis Boys Take Relay Match With Laye, Larsen

Louisiana Senior Golf Tournament Due Record Field

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 21 (Special)—The senior golf tournament here next Thursday through Sunday, is expected to draw a record field of entrants.

T. S. Fontenot, host chairman of the tournament sponsored annually by the Louisiana Senior Golf Association, said the course at the Alexandria Golf and Country Club is in tip-top condition.

"We're expecting more than 100 men from all over the state to enter," said Fontenot. "We're making preparations to entertain that many—and we have a full four days of activities planned."

The tournament is open to golfers 50 years of age and over. There will be 54 holes of match play.

The 18-hole qualifying round for all entrants will be Thursday. Friday will be 18 holes of match play all fights. Saturday all fights will be 18 holes of match play and 18 holes consolations. Sunday will be 18 holes finals all flights and consolations, followed by the presentation of the prizes.

Engraved silver trays and silver pitchers will be awarded winners and runner-ups all flights.

Advance entries are not required, but Fontenot said all those participating should plan to be on hand early.

Social events will include a buffet supper Thursday night and a chicken barbecue Saturday night for entrants and their wives.

Tag team wrestling takes the spotlight again at Gus Kallio's Arena here Tuesday night with Vicksburg's Curtis brothers, Jack and George, teaming against the challenge of Charley Laye, Knoxville, Tenn., and Herb Larsen, Hamilton, Ont.

Larsen will be making his first appearance on a Kallio program, the Canadian moving in after a countryman, Red Scarr, was unmasked following defeat by Jack Curtis in a Louisiana heavyweight championship match last week and identified as Jules LaRance of Montreal. The card will be without the villainous Scarr for the first time in several weeks.

The relay main event will be over a 90-minute time limit distance with two falls to win.

A pair of one-fall preliminaries match George Curtis against Laye or Larsen, and Jack Curtis against the rival his brother fails to draw.

Neville Golfers Win 4-Way Meet; Nash Cops Medal

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 21 (Special) — Neville High School of Monroe swept top honors in a four-team golf tournament here today with a low foursome score of 311. Byrd of Shreveport was runner-up with 323, Bolton of Alexandria came in with 332, and West Monroe finished fourth with 364.

Roy Nash, Neville, was tourney medalist with a one-under-par 33-38—71.

Other low scorers were Doug Farr, Bolton, 37-35—72; Eddie Watkins, West Monroe, defending state champion, 37-36—73; Joe Thomas, Neville, 37-40—77; and Jimmy Hughes, Byrd, 40-37—77.

Foursome totals over the Alexandria Golf and Country Club course were:

Neville, 71-78-77-85—311; Byrd, 77-81-79-86—323; Bolton, 72-83-84-103—332; and West Monroe, 73-98-99-94—364.

Neville next Saturday appears in the district tournament at Ruston next Saturday, the Tri-State with Byrd at Shreveport the following Saturday, and the state tournament attracts all rivals at Baton Rouge May 11.

Robinson Blasts Pinch Single For Payoff In Eighth

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—Veteran Eddie Robinson, making his first appearance of the season, pinch singled home the winning run in the eighth inning today as the New York Yankees whipped the fumbling Boston Red Sox 14-10 in a long, exciting and loosely played game.

It was the Yanks' second straight win over the Red Sox and sent them into first place with a 4-1 record. Boston is 3-2.

The Yanks blew an 8-0 lead and trailed 10-9 going into the last of the eighth. Then they crashed through the leading Boston defense for five runs to sew the wild game in which everything happened, including seven home runs, walks, errors by two Boston outfielders, hit batsmen and a passed ball.

Fighting from behind all afternoon, the Red Sox scored three runs in the fifth inning, four in the seventh and finally seemed to have the Yanks on the ropes with a dramatic three-run splurge in the eighth for a 10-9 margin.

With two away, Jim Piersall homered to left off Jim Konstanty, fourth Yankee pitcher. Then Don Buddin walked. Pete Daley, second string Sox catcher who came into the game in the seventh inning with relief pitcher Tom Hurd, clouted the first homer of his major league career to nudge the Sox in front 10-9. It was Daley's first time at bat this year.

It was up to Hurd, fourth Boston pitcher, to hold the lead but he couldn't. Yogi Berra, first up in the Yankee eighth, tied the score with a smash into the lower right field stands for his second homer of the year.

New Officers Take Over Wildlife Unit This Week

The first regular meeting of the Ouachita unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation under its new officers is scheduled for Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock on the roof of Hotel Virginia with a varied program to be offered.

Taking office will be O. N. McNeil, president; Arthur "Bud" Tidell, vice president; E. D. Elmore secretary-treasurer; and the new board members, Jake Benton, McNeil, A. E. Jones, Otis Woods, and J. C. Lolley.

A special guest will be Charles D. Phillips Jr., member of the education department of the Louisisna Wild Life and Fisheries, who will bring along a wildlife movie, "Wildlife in Revie," which is being described as the best of its nature ever offered for public viewing.

The unit will formulate plans for an extensive membership campaign, discuss new projects for the parish of particular interest to sportsmen of the area, and appoint committee chairmen for the year.

"We believe this will be one of our most interesting meetings," reported "Bud" Tidell. "It promises to be a gathering of interest to all, and we're inviting all Ouachita sportsmen and those from neighboring parishes to visit with us, bring their wives and children, and help make the session a sucess. The children will particularly enjoy the wildlife movie. Then, we'll have door prizes for a man and woman."

Larsen, Forbes Take Paris Doubles Title

PARIS, April 21 (AP)—Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., and Gordon Forbes of South Africa, today won the men's doubles title in the Parisian International Tennis Championships.

They defeated the French team of Paul Remy and Marcel Bernard, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, 5-7, 12-10.

Larsen will meet Budge Patty, Los Angeles and Paris, in the men's singles final tomorrow.

Curtis Boys Take Relay Match With Laye, Larsen

Louisiana Senior Golf Tournament Due Record Field

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 21 (Special)—The senior golf tournament here next Thursday through Sunday, is expected to draw a record field of entrants.

T. S. Fontenot, host chairman of the tournament sponsored annually by the Louisiana Senior Golf Association, said the course at the Alexandria Golf and Country Club is in tip-top condition.

"We're expecting more than 100 men from all over the state to enter," said Fontenot. "We're making preparations to entertain that many—and we have a full four days of activities planned."

The tournament is open to golfers 50 years of age and over. There will be 54 holes of match play.

The 18-hole qualifying round for all entrants will be Thursday. Friday will be 18 holes of match play all fights. Saturday all fights will be 18 holes of match play and 18 holes consolations. Sunday will be 18 holes finals all flights and consolations, followed by the presentation of the prizes.

Engraved silver trays and silver pitchers will be awarded winners and runner-ups all flights.

Advance entries are not required, but Fontenot said all those participating should plan to be on hand early.

Social events will include a buffet supper Thursday night and a chicken barbecue Saturday night for entrants and their wives.

Tag team wrestling takes the spotlight again at Gus Kallio's Arena here Tuesday night with Vicksburg's Curtis brothers, Jack and George, teaming against the challenge of Charley Laye, Knoxville, Tenn., and Herb Larsen, Hamilton, Ont.

Larsen will be making his first appearance on a Kallio program, the Canadian moving in after a countryman, Red Scarr, was unmasked following defeat by Jack Curtis in a Louisiana heavyweight championship match last week and identified as Jules LaRance of Montreal. The card will be without the villainous Scarr for the first time in several weeks.

The relay main event will be over a 90-minute time limit distance with two falls to win.

A pair of one-fall preliminaries match George Curtis against Laye or Larsen, and Jack Curtis against the rival his brother fails to draw.

Miss Hard Captures Surry Tennis Crown

SUTTON, England, April 21 (AP)—Despite an injured ankle, Darlene Hard, Long Beach, Calif., today defeated England's Angela Buxton, 11-9, 6-3, in the final of the Surrey Hard Court Tennis Championships.

After twisting an ankle early in the first set, the 20-year-old American player abandoned her aggressive game and adopted the same careful tactics of her opponent, a veteran member of the Wightman Cup squad.

Pirates Halt Bums, 3 To 1

Friend Breezes Through Brooks With Three Hits

PITTSBURGH, April 21 (AP)—Righthander Bob Friend, who led the National League in earned run average last year, stopped the champion Brooklyn Dodgers 3-1, today on a nifty three-hitter for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Friend, making his second start of the season after dropping a five-hit 4-3 decision to the New York Giants on opening day, struck out three and walked only two.

Homers figured in all of the scoring. Chuck Neal, the Dodger's rookie second sacker, homered in the third for the Dodgers lone run. Frank Thomas belted a two-run smash in the third and Dale Long hit one in the seventh for the Pirates.

Neal's homer, a single by Gil Hodges in the second and a double by Duke Snider off the left field wall in the sixth were the only hits of the 25-year-old Friend.

The blast by Thomas—his third of the year—sailed over the left field score board. Last year Thomas didn't hit his third homer until the 44th game. Long's rifle blast into the right field stands also was his third roundtripper of the year.

Southpaw Ken Lehman started for the Dodgers but was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the fifth. Ed Roebuck and Jim Hughes followed him to the mound.

Lehman, making his first major league start since Sept. 13, 1952, allowed two runs and five hits and was charged with the loss. He logged a 22-9 record at Montreal last year.

Head Man Uses Foul Claim To Win Wood Race

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—Winding Way farm's Golf Ace caused a first class rhubarb today when he sped home first in the $61,000 Wood Memorial at Jamaica, but was disqualified for fouling Head Man, the odds-on favorite and C.V. Whitneys big Kentucky Derby hope. Head Man was declared the winner.

It was a neat slice, just like on the links, that impeded Head Man and Eddie Arcaro just as they were moving up on the leader's heels an eighth of a mile from home.

The crowd of 39,673 waited impatiently as the stewards studied the films for 10 minutes before taking down Golf Ace's number and moving Head Man to the top spot on the board. Golf Ace a non-Derby eligible, went off at 7-1. Under the new foul rule which went into effect only yesterday, he was shunted only down to second instead of last place as called for previously. They were the only two horses involved in the incident since Head Man finished four and a half lengths ahead of the third horse, Mrs. Wallace Gilroy's Oh Johnny. Oh Johnny also is not eligible for the Derby.

The foul was not decided until five minutes after the nationally televised race was off the air and the many viewers did not learn that Golf Ace was disqualified until much later.

Head Man paid $3.90, $2.90 and $2.50. Golf Ace returned $4.90 and $3.40 and Oh Johnny $3.80. The time was 1:50 1-5.

Recheck Ailing Arm For Conley Tuesday

MILWAUKEE, April 21 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves said today ailing righthander Gene Conley is due for another examination Tuesday and they expect to learn at that time when he will be able to pitch again.

General Manager John Quinn today talked by phone with the 6-8 pitcher, who was left behind by the Braves in Jacksonville, Fla., after a recurrence of tendonitis—inflamed tendon—in his pitching shoulder.

Conley said he had made an appointment with Dr. Michael Di Cosola, Sarasota, Fla., orthopedic surgeon, for Tuesday noon.

Giants Sell Gardner

PHILADELPHIA, April 21 (AP)—The New York Giants today sold utility infielder Billy Gardner to the Baltimore Orioles and catcher Ray Murray to Dallas of the Texas League.

Gardner, a 28-year-old six-footer from New London, Conn., will report to the Orioles immediately.

City Loop Will Start Softball Play April 30

The Monroe Recreation department will open its summer softball program in eight days with the City League for men and older boys kicking off the season Monday night, April 20. The Civic League, composed of members of various civic clubs of the Twin Cities, will start play the following Tuesday night, and the Church League, to be divided into two divisions, will be in operation the following Thursday and Friday.

Director Jack Hesketh has listed the following clubs for each of the three leagues:

City — McKenzie Sports Shop, Southern Bell, Outlaws, and Independents.

Civic — West Monroe Lions, Optimist Club, Progressive Men, Exchange Club, Jaycees, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and North Monroe Lions.

Church — Stone Avenue Methodist, Latter Day Saints, Brownville Methodist, Emanuel Baptist, Lakeshore Baptist, Gordon Avenue Methodist, L.T.I. Chapel, Trinity Baptist, West Monroe Baptist, Monroe First Baptist, Memorial Methodist, Temple Baptist, Cleft Rock Baptist, and Sterlington Baptist.

Three other leagues for boys will be organized by the department to start play as soon as school is out for the summer. These will be the Senior League for boys 18 years old and under, Junior League for boys 15 and under, and Midget League for boys 13 and under.

Bream Hitting Good At Lake Providence

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La. April 21 (Special) — Blue gill Bream are hitting crickets, worms and cockroaches steadily on Lake Providence, and during the early morning hours and just before dark, the "blues" are taking topwater popping bugs. Although it's considered early for fly fishing, many good catches have been made.

Felton Johnson took the limit of blue gills just before dark recently. Jerry Bayles and party have brought out many nice strings in recent days.

Reports from Greer's Boat Dock mentions several good catches of bass during the early morning, with the average running large.

Miss Hard Captures Surry Tennis Crown

SUTTON, England, April 21 (AP)—Despite an injured ankle, Darlene Hard, Long Beach, Calif., today defeated England's Angela Buxton, 11-9, 6-3, in the final of the Surrey Hard Court Tennis Championships.

After twisting an ankle early in the first set, the 20-year-old American player abandoned her aggressive game and adopted the same careful tactics of her opponent, a veteran member of the Wightman Cup squad.

Pirates Halt Bums, 3 To 1

Friend Breezes Through Brooks With Three Hits

PITTSBURGH, April 21 (AP)—Righthander Bob Friend, who led the National League in earned run average last year, stopped the champion Brooklyn Dodgers 3-1, today on a nifty three-hitter for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Friend, making his second start of the season after dropping a five-hit 4-3 decision to the New York Giants on opening day, struck out three and walked only two.

Homers figured in all of the scoring. Chuck Neal, the Dodger's rookie second sacker, homered in the third for the Dodgers lone run. Frank Thomas belted a two-run smash in the third and Dale Long hit one in the seventh for the Pirates.

Neal's homer, a single by Gil Hodges in the second and a double by Duke Snider off the left field wall in the sixth were the only hits of the 25-year-old Friend.

The blast by Thomas—his third of the year—sailed over the left field score board. Last year Thomas didn't hit his third homer until the 44th game. Long's rifle blast into the right field stands also was his third roundtripper of the year.

Southpaw Ken Lehman started for the Dodgers but was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the fifth. Ed Roebuck and Jim Hughes followed him to the mound.

Lehman, making his first major league start since Sept. 13, 1952, allowed two runs and five hits and was charged with the loss. He logged a 22-9 record at Montreal last year.

Head Man Uses Foul Claim To Win Wood Race

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—Winding Way farm's Golf Ace caused a first class rhubarb today when he sped home first in the $61,000 Wood Memorial at Jamaica, but was disqualified for fouling Head Man, the odds-on favorite and C.V. Whitneys big Kentucky Derby hope. Head Man was declared the winner.

It was a neat slice, just like on the links, that impeded Head Man and Eddie Arcaro just as they were moving up on the leader's heels an eighth of a mile from home.

The crowd of 39,673 waited impatiently as the stewards studied the films for 10 minutes before taking down Golf Ace's number and moving Head Man to the top spot on the board. Golf Ace a non-Derby eligible, went off at 7-1. Under the new foul rule which went into effect only yesterday, he was shunted only down to second instead of last place as called for previously. They were the only two horses involved in the incident since Head Man finished four and a half lengths ahead of the third horse, Mrs. Wallace Gilroy's Oh Johnny. Oh Johnny also is not eligible for the Derby.

The foul was not decided until five minutes after the nationally televised race was off the air and the many viewers did not learn that Golf Ace was disqualified until much later.

Head Man paid $3.90, $2.90 and $2.50. Golf Ace returned $4.90 and $3.40 and Oh Johnny $3.80. The time was 1:50 1-5.

Recheck Ailing Arm For Conley Tuesday

MILWAUKEE, April 21 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves said today ailing righthander Gene Conley is due for another examination Tuesday and they expect to learn at that time when he will be able to pitch again.

General Manager John Quinn today talked by phone with the 6-8 pitcher, who was left behind by the Braves in Jacksonville, Fla., after a recurrence of tendonitis—inflamed tendon—in his pitching shoulder.

Conley said he had made an appointment with Dr. Michael Di Cosola, Sarasota, Fla., orthopedic surgeon, for Tuesday noon.

Giants Sell Gardner

PHILADELPHIA, April 21 (AP)—The New York Giants today sold utility infielder Billy Gardner to the Baltimore Orioles and catcher Ray Murray to Dallas of the Texas League.

Gardner, a 28-year-old six-footer from New London, Conn., will report to the Orioles immediately.

City Loop Will Start Softball Play April 30

The Monroe Recreation department will open its summer softball program in eight days with the City League for men and older boys kicking off the season Monday night, April 20. The Civic League, composed of members of various civic clubs of the Twin Cities, will start play the following Tuesday night, and the Church League, to be divided into two divisions, will be in operation the following Thursday and Friday.

Director Jack Hesketh has listed the following clubs for each of the three leagues:

City — McKenzie Sports Shop, Southern Bell, Outlaws, and Independents.

Civic — West Monroe Lions, Optimist Club, Progressive Men, Exchange Club, Jaycees, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and North Monroe Lions.

Church — Stone Avenue Methodist, Latter Day Saints, Brownville Methodist, Emanuel Baptist, Lakeshore Baptist, Gordon Avenue Methodist, L.T.I. Chapel, Trinity Baptist, West Monroe Baptist, Monroe First Baptist, Memorial Methodist, Temple Baptist, Cleft Rock Baptist, and Sterlington Baptist.

Three other leagues for boys will be organized by the department to start play as soon as school is out for the summer. These will be the Senior League for boys 18 years old and under, Junior League for boys 15 and under, and Midget League for boys 13 and under.

Bream Hitting Good At Lake Providence

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La. April 21 (Special) — Blue gill Bream are hitting crickets, worms and cockroaches steadily on Lake Providence, and during the early morning hours and just before dark, the "blues" are taking top-water popping bugs. Although it's considered early for fly fishing, many good catches have been made.

Felton Johnson took the limit of blue gills just before dark recently. Jerry Bayles and party have brought out many nice strings in recent days.

Reports from Greer's Boat Dock mentions several good catches of bass during the early morning, with the average running large.

Galveston Opens Vacation Season Early Next Month

GALVESTON Texas, April 21 (AP) The vacation season opens here May 5-6 parades, two water skiing shows and a big fireworks display.

A beach parade May 6 will be headed by the University of Texas Longhorn Band and the Jeep sion at Ft. Polk, La.

Twelve muscle men, each a champion, will compete May 5 for the title of "Mr. Texas Splash Day."

The Splash Day beauties, armed with tape measures, will try unofficially their hand at picking the man with the best form, poise and muscular uniformity. Immediately after the selection of the unofficial winner by the bathing beauties, the official "Mr. Texas Splash Day" contest will be held with a panel of expert male judges.

The beauties, too, will compete twice in contests, but both will be official. The "Miss Texas Splash Day" contest will be held May 5.

In following the Splash Day theme of "Texas Against the World," the "Miss Texas" winner will compete May 6 against beauties of foreign extraction for the title of "Miss World Splash Day."

Sophie Tucker, who will open the new Balinese Room May 3, has been named "Sweetheart of Splash Day."

Galveston Opens Vacation Season Early Next Month

GALVESTON Texas, April 21 (AP) The vacation season opens here May 5-6 parades, two water skiing shows and a big fireworks display.

A beach parade May 6 will be headed by the University of Texas Longhorn Band and the Jeep sion at Ft. Polk, La.

Twelve muscle men, each a champion, will compete May 5 for the title of "Mr. Texas Splash Day."

The Splash Day beauties, armed with tape measures, will try unofficially their hand at picking the man with the best form, poise and muscular uniformity. Immediately after the selection of the unofficial winner by the bathing beauties, the official "Mr. Texas Splash Day" contest will be held with a panel of expert male judges.

The beauties, too, will compete twice in contests, but both will be official. The "Miss Texas Splash Day" contest will be held May 5.

In following the Splash Day theme of "Texas Against the World," the "Miss Texas" winner will compete May 6 against beauties of foreign extraction for the title of "Miss World Splash Day."

Sophie Tucker, who will open the new Balinese Room May 3, has been named "Sweetheart of Splash Day."

PARGOUD BLVD.
Southern Colonial Brick Home. Over 3300 Sq. Feet Living Area, Over 900 Sq. Feet Garage and Servant's Area.
This home rambles over a large tree shaded corner lot, size 200x150 feet—handsome live oaks, white oaks, pin oaks, flowering trees—exquisite roof — high fine camellias banked with many varieties of azaleas, formal rose gardens. Brick patio, barbecue houses with bath facilities, tool room, storage, private alley. Servant's house with full bath, utility room. 2 car garage attached. Main part of residence consists of 8 wonderful rooms and 2 beautiful spacious tile baths with all the extras. 10 foot ceilings in living room with fireplace, separate dining room, large breakfast room. Hot Point kitchen with dishwasher, disposal. Beautiful library paneled in natural Louisiana gum with fireplace. Sunken den, very large, with wood burning fireplace. Game room, completely sound proofed and equipped with pool and ping pong tables. Completely air conditioned, central heating, all drapes and carpets included. All wall papers are fine imports, and entire interior's designed and installed by Friend Piper Decorating Studio, and house designed by Monroe's own King Stubbs. Many more items included, such as 4 ceiling fans, extra air conditioning units, etc. Owners are moving to a distant city — the only reason such a perfect home would be offered for sale at one-third the cost to replace it. Easy to buy — Shown by appointment only. I & S Realty. Phone 3-1679, 2-0228.

NORTHSIDE. New listing. Comfortable 3 bedroom family home. Only 2 or 3 blocks from both grade and high schools. SOLUTION TO TODAY'S PUZZLE

Business Group To Take Part In College Program

Representatives from business firms of the Twin Cities will participate in Northeast State's Business Men's and Women's Day scheduled Monday and Tuesday.

The special event is under sponsorship of Northeast's Business Administration and Commerce Department headed by W. L. Perkins.

About one hundred persons from various industries will visit classes where regular work will be used during the two days of visitors. The group will be divided into panels of two persons and each panel plans to meet one class for a period. This procedure will be used uring the two days of visitation and instruction on the part of the experienced businessmen and women.

They will emphasize in their discussion: How to become a successful business employee. Pertinent factors which will be stressed in their class work with students will include: educational training, the value of personality in business, and the question regarding service attitude and its importance in helping an employee to succeed.

The group expected to participate in the two-day business event include: Robert S. Turner, CPA; Walter Savage, accountant; Edwin W. Cole's Attackers Freed On Bail Of $1,000 In Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 21 (AP)—Two Anniston men were free on $1,000 bond each today while awaiting grand jury action on charges that they attacked Negro singer Nat (King) Cole with intent to murder.

The Jefferson County grand jury meeting the first week in May will consider the assault with intent to murder charges against Kenneth Adams, 35, and W. R. Vinson, 23. They waived preliminary hearing yesterday.

Six men were arrested after Cole was rushed by a gang of white men while singing at the Municipal Auditorium here April 10.

The other four were sentenced to six months in jail on misdemeanor counts but have appealed the recorders' court verdicts.

Adams and Vinson both are members of a White Citizens Council organization which is campaigning against be-bop, rock-and-roll and so-called "Negro music." It's leaders charge such music is degrading to white teen-agers.

A statement allegedly made to officers by Orliss Wade Clevinger, 18, said the attack on Cole was planned the week before he appeared here.

Detectives said they were informed it had been planned for more than 100 men to take over the auditorium and stage a pro-segregation demonstration.

The handful of men who showed up ere quickly overpoered by police alerted for some incident.

Bolton starter Michiels was moved from the hill during the first stanza ralley but was charged with the loss.

Miss Jackie Walker Feted At Parties

Bayou DeSiard Country Club and the Lotus Club provided settings for two of the week's outstanding social events. The occasions were a beautiful tea given by Mrs. E. S. Girault Wednesday afternoon at the Country Club and a luncheon hosted by Mrs. Carl McHenry and Mrs. David I. Garrett yesterday at the Lotus club in honor of Miss Jackie Walker, bride - elect of Harold Woods, Jr.

Mass arrangements of roses and pale iris lent a spring air to the country club corridor where Mrs. David I. Garrett, Jr., Mrs. Jack Rogers and Mrs. S. E. Huey greeted around 300 guests between 4 and 6 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

In the receiving line with the honoree, who wore a becoming blue linen model featuring a white beaded neckline, were the hostesses, Mrs. Girault, in a striking green figured cotton, Mrs. William E. McDowell, Mrs. Harold L. Woods, Mrs. W. A. Walker, Mrs. R. C. Limerick of Little Rock, Ark., Mrs. James A. Noe and Mrs. Bridger Thornhill.

A picturesque bouquet of pink roses was placed near the receiving line. Of focal interest on the piano was a large vase of white gladioli and white daisies.

A composition of white majestic daisies and mock orange centered a round table behind the sofa and of unusual beauty by the sunporch was a silver bowl of pale pink peonies.

Airy white arrangements of stock, candytuft, iris and white fern centered the punch and tea tables. Tall white tapers in five-branched silver candelabras complemented the silver services placed at each end of the table.

Alternating at the punch bowl were Mrs. Carl McHenry, Mrs. Joseph Durrett, Mrs. Henry Guerriero and Mrs. Richard Kellogg.

Pouring at the tea services were Mrs. David Garrett, Mrs. Dewitt Milam, Mrs. Robert Layton, Mrs. T. O. Bancroft, Mrs. A. E. Montgomery and Mrs. E. T. Lamkin.

Serving and assisting with the courtesies were Mrs. D. V. Loflin, Miss Bunny Girault, Mrs. Wayne Woods, Miss Carolyn Cordell, Mrs. Lee Edwards, Mrs. Fred Sartor and Mrs. Stewart Scott.

Prenuptial Luncheon

Corsages of sweetpeas marked guests' places in the library at the Lotus club yesterday when Mrs. Garrett and Mrs. McHenry entertained for Miss Walker.

Centering the luncheon table was a beautiful mass arrangement of sweet peas. A variety of pastel iris were placed at other points of interest in the lounge and library.

Guests enjoying the luncheon with the hostesses and honor guest were Mrs. W. A. Walker, Mrs. Harold Woods, Mrs. James A. Noe, Jr., Mrs. DeWitt Milam, Mrs. Lee Edwards, Mrs. William McDowell, Mrs. Fred Sartor.

bles in the library held large bouquets of roses, tulips, iris and stock.

The guests calling during the hours of the party were; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rosenhein, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Sugar, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Sugar, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvian Masur, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Masur, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Silverstein, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Glazer, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fink, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Davis, Dr. and Mrs. William Bendel, Sr., Dr. and Mrs. William Bendel, Jr., Mrs. Rose Bendel, Mrs. Sig Masur, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gorn, Mr. and Mrs. David Marx, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Marx, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. David Aron, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Masur, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Zipke, Mr. and Mrs. Donel Weil, Mrs. William Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Levi.

Also, Mrs. H. Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. David Masur, Mrs. Clara Tanenbaum, Mrs. Carrie Hymen, Mr. and Mrs. Sackman Marx, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Marks, Mr. and Mrs. David Silverstein, Mr. Philip Fishman, Mrs. Charles Saltzman, Mr. and Mrs. Josh Bodan, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Abrams, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Liebowitz, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ansell, Mr. Jack Ansell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Alan Sugar, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Herman Masur, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haas, Jr., Mrs. Alfred Brin, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Glaser, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Masur, Jr., Mrs. Louis Masur.

And Dr. and Mrs. Bert Heinberg, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kern, Mr. and Mrs. Milton King, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Jaffe.

J. Hunter Thatcher Home Setting For Beautiful Tea

Yellow and white spring flowers decorated the home of Mrs. J. Hunter Thatcher, on Speed Drive, Friday afternoon, when she gave a beautiful tea honoring Miss Martha Clayton Sparks, the bride - elect of Dent Tisdale, Jr.

Mrs. Robert Layton greeted the guests, and presented them to the receiving line: Mrs. Thatcher, Miss Sparks, her mother, Mrs. R. C. Sparks and Mrs. A. D. Tisdale and Mrs. Charles Nunnally, of Alexandria, mother and sister of the bridegroom - elect. Miss Sparks was wearing a white afternoon frock of white shantung printed with yellow poppies and a corsage of yellow blossoms.

A white cloth covered the tea table, where a crystal epergne held exquisite yellow roses, and white candles burned in crystal candelabra at either side. A second tea table was placed on the terrace, also carrying out the yellow and white theme.

Presiding at alternate hours were Mrs. James A. Noe, Mrs. Thomas Munholland, Mrs. Vernon Maish, and Mrs. Ben Downing. They were assisted by Mrs. C. E. McKenzie, Mrs. Aubrey Boyd, Mrs. Allen Gruthrie, of Ruston, Mrs. Henry Guerriero, Mrs. Arthur Emerson and Mrs. James Sparks. During the afternoon, about 300 guests called.

Rosalind Eberts Is Complimented

Miss Rosalind Eberts, who will become the bride of Dewey Albritton on April 28, was entertained at a tea shower in the home of Mrs. Ed Hislop, Jr., with Mrs. John M. Parker, the co-hostess.

Exquisite arrangements of pale pink camellias and other pink flowers were used in the reception rooms of the Hislop home for the occasion, and the honoree, wearing a sheath pique dress, was presented a corsage in harmonizing shades and stood with her hostesses and Mrs. Albritton, to receive the guests.

Miss Glenda Ann Smith welcomed the guests at the door, and Miss Faye Parker presided at the guest book.

Mrs. W. O. Smith, Mrs. R. P. McKay and Mrs. Evelyn Bledsoe presided in the gift room where the lovely items were displayed after having been received by Misses Millie Hislop and Bettye Carter.

Providing the central decor for the tea table was an arrangement of pink camellias, flanked with candelabra supporting slender pink tapers, surrounded with miniature bridesmaids which were caught with pink streamers leading to the candelabra.

Mrs. A. J. Lester and Mrs. Delma Carter alternated at the punch bowl.

Tea Honors Miss Eppinette

Among the many lovely courtesies extended Miss Loretta Eppinette, bride-elect of Julius Wink, was the tea shower given by Mrs. Johnny M. Parker and her daughter, Miss Faye Parker, at the Baptist Student Center at Northeast College.

Purple iris and pink radiance roses were used with effect in the lounge, and the tea table held a centerpiece of pink flowers, with pink tapers entwined with greenery and violets, and supported by candelabra, for illumination.

The honoree was attractive in a turquoise sheath dress with pink accents and complimented by the corsage of white Dutch Iris, presented by the hostesses.

Miss Parker was wearing a floral polished cotton with blue accessories, and Mrs. Parker wore beige lace with darker accents. Mrs. Eppinette, mother of the bride-elect chose grey lace, while Mrs. Wink, mother of the prospective bridegroom, wore blue. Mrs. Eppinette's corsage was of yellow Dutch iris and Mrs. Wink was presented a corsage of red roses, for lovely contrast.

Miss Millie Hislop presided at the bride's book, and Mrs. Ed Hislop, Jr., and Miss Lallage Feazel alternated at the punch service.

Among the guests included with Miss Eppinette were, Mesdames Quinton McLemore, C. H. Wiltshire, Robert Lowe, J. F. Jones, Sr., J. D. Wink, Jr., Webb Goodlett, J. F. White, James Eppinette, W. A. Wright, R. C. Harper, W. D. Albritton, E. N. Camp, Sr. E. V. Gould, A. G. Gaston, R. E. Mathis, Earl Ferguson, A. G. Hicks, S. J. Womack, W. M. Rasbury, W. H. May, J. W. Miss Rosalind Eberts, who will become the bride of Dewey Albritton on April 28, was entertained at a tea shower in the home of Mrs. Ed Hislop, Jr., with Mrs. John M. Parker, the co-hostess.

Exquisite arrangements of pale pink camellias and other pink flowers were used in the reception rooms of the Hislop home for the occasion, and the honoree, wearing a sheath pique dress, was presented a corsage in harmonizing shades and stood with her hostesses and Mrs. Albritton, to receive the guests.

Miss Glenda Ann Smith welcomed the guests at the door, and Miss Faye Parker presided at the guest book.

Mrs. W. O. Smith, Mrs. R. P. McKay and Mrs. Evelyn Bledsoe presided in the gift room where the lovely items were displayed after having been received by Misses Millie Hislop and Bettye Carter.

Providing the central decor for the tea table was an arrangement of pink camellias, flanked with candelabra supporting slender pink tapers, surrounded with miniature bridesmaids which were caught with pink streamers leading to the candelabra.

Mrs. A. J. Lester and Mrs. Delma Carter alternated at the punch bowl.

Tea Honors Miss Eppinette

Among the many lovely courtesies extended Miss Loretta Eppinette, bride-elect of Julius Wink, was the tea shower given by Mrs. Johnny M. Parker and her daughter, Miss Faye Parker, at the Baptist Student Center at Northeast College.

Purple iris and pink radiance roses were used with effect in the lounge, and the tea table held a centerpiece of pink flowers, with pink tapers entwined with greenery and violets, and supported by candelabra, for illumination.

The honoree was attractive in a turquoise sheath dress with pink accents and complimented by the corsage of white Dutch Iris, presented by the hostesses.

Miss Parker was wearing a floral polished cotton with blue accessories, and Mrs. Parker wore beige lace with darker accents. Mrs. Eppinette, mother of the bride-elect chose grey lace, while Mrs. Wink, mother of the prospective bridegroom, wore blue. Mrs. Eppinette's corsage was of yellow Dutch iris and Mrs. Wink was presented a corsage of red roses, for lovely contrast.

Miss Millie Hislop presided at the bride's book, and Mrs. Ed Hislop, Jr., and Miss Lallage Feazel alternated at the punch service.

Among the guests included with Miss Eppinette were, Mesdames Quinton McLemore, C. H. Wiltshire, Robert Lowe, J. F. Jones, Sr., J. D. Wink, Jr., Webb Goodlett, J. F. White, James Eppinette, W. A. Wright, R. C. Harper, W. D. Albritton, E. N. Camp, Sr. E. V. Gould, A. G. Gaston, R. E. Mathis, Earl Ferguson, A. G. Hicks, S. J. Womack, W. M. Rasbury, W. H. May, J. W. McCarty, Parker Humble, James Nelson and Misses Linda Bledsoe and Carole Eady.

Olive oil gives chicken special flavor. Use the oil, along with minced parsley, for basting a broiling chicken. Or fry chicken pieces (dipped in seasoned flour) in a little olive oil, then use the drippings in the pan for a mushroom gravy.

Twin Cities Symphony Will Be Feted At Garden Party Following Final Concert

Miss Emy-Lou Biedenharn and the Board of Directors of the Symphony Association of Monroe and West Monroe, will honor the Twin Cities Symphony with a Garden Party on Sunday afternoon, April 29. This is the first of the parties planned by the directors to climax each concert season.

Symphonic music, through special wiring, will fill the air of the gardens, which have long been a source of interest and inspiration to Monroe. The music-filled afternoon starts with the Grotto at the entrance to the garden. This grotto is a charming and intriguing structure depicting the lyrical satyrs in their mossy caverns and their musical evolvement to sweet-voiced cherubs and continues to the Musician's Gallery, from which vantage point, the mystical Shadow Garden, with its ever changing patterns, is seen to best advantage. Music will be heard along the exquisitely bordered walks that lead to the more formal Water Garden, where time stands still in the beauty of old world charm. Here a Water Ballet will be presented for the entertainment of the guests.

Climaxing the afternoon will be the tea party held in the Chinese Garden, with its moon gate and Lotus pool.

Mrs. A. B. Colmer Presides At Club

Mrs. C. E. Coe was hostess to the Monroe Literary Club in her home on North Fifth Street. The reception suite was attractively decorated with spring flowers.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Van Odom reading the club collect. Then Mrs. A. B. Colmer, president, took charge of the business session. It was announced at this time that this club has donated to the following organizations during the current club year —Salvation Army, Y. W. C. A., Cancer, Cerebral Palsy, Heart, and Polio. The Red Cross is supported in several projects each year. A letter was read from the VA Hospital in Alexandria thanking this group for sponsoring the Easter cookie project for this hospital.

Mrs. D. A. Altick introduced Mrs. Archie Dickerson who gave an informative talk on flower arrangement. She illustrated each portion of her discourse with different containers of flowers. Mrs. Dickerson also explained the importance of preparing the blooms before arranging them, by submerging them up their heads in water for several hours.

The following members were present: Mrs. J. W. Womack, Mrs. Sylvian Masur, Mrs. H. Clifford Miller, Mrs. Morris Phillips, Mrs. Alvin Andrews, Mrs. A. B. Colmer, Mrs. J. E. Shannon, Mrs. Guy DuPriest, Mrs. J. H. Drake, Mrs. T. D. Boaz, Mrs. Van Odom, Mrs. Barney Pate, Mrs. D. A. Altick, Mrs. C. E. Coe, Mrs. J. D. Kelly, Mrs. Arthur Kite, and Mrs. Archie Dickerson, guest.

Church Vows Unite Couple

The McClendon Baptist Church was the setting for the recent wedding of Miss JoAnn Dye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Jowers and O. R. Beavers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Beavers, both families of West Monroe.

The Reverend E. A. Burgess officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white stock and white gladioli. Mrs. Joe Lamb furnished the nuptial music and accompanied Miss Francine Jowers, soloist.

The bride entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage. Her dress was of nylon lace over satin and she carried an orchid mounted on a white Bible with streamers of white chrysanthemums. Her veil was of nylon net.

Mrs. Herbert Sims, aunt of the bride served as her matron of honor. She was wearing a dress of light blue net and a corsage of white carnations.

Mr. Beavers had as his best man, Mr. Herbert Sims, uncle of the bride. The ushers were D. L. Crowson and Miss Patsey Crowson.

A reception followed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sims. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Jowers was wearing a dress of navy lace with white accessories. Mrs. Beavers was also dressed in navy blue. They both wore corsages of pink carnations.

The bride's table covered with a lace cloth held the tiered wedding cake and crystal punch bowl. Assisting were, Mrs. Percy Goldman, Mrs. Milton Jowers, Miss Mae Scoggins and Miss Shirley Harrell.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Beavers will be at home at 103 Ouachita Drive, West Monroe.

Mrs. D. E. Bivens Entertains La Vingt Club

Mrs. D. E. Bivins, Jr. entertained members of the La Vingt Club when they met for their regular meeting on Wednesday afternoon, April 18, 1956. Mrs. A. Petrus, president, led the members in the reading of the club collect and conducted a short business meeting. A report was made by those who worked on the Cancer Fund Drive.

Mrs. T. H. Scott introduced Mrs. Margaret Vanderford who talked on interior decorating, which she said was a matter of common sense and told of the latest trends in decorating.

The hostess served refreshments to the guest speaker, and the following members: Mrs. Bruce Brooks, Mrs. Ralph Caldwell, Mrs. R. L. Carson, Mrs. William Crow, Mrs. W. T. Goward, Mrs. A. Petrus, Mrs. George Phebus, Mrs. L. D. Ritter, Mrs. T. H. Scott and Mrs. Joe Gorman.

East Carroll Garden Club Plans Show

LAKE PROVIDENCE — Mrs. Mary Jardine, of the Monroe Garden Center, spoke on staging flower shows at the East Carroll Parish Garden Club this week, in the home of Mrs. W. B. Cone. Mrs. W. J. Grossman Jr. and Mrs. H. H. Howington, Jr., were co-hostesses.

Mrs. E. D. Schneider, president, presided over the business session. The group favored petitioning legislators to vote favorably on the bill in May to provide a home economics building and facilities at L. S. U.

The president appointed Mrs. C. D. Purdy and Mrs. O. S. Brown to serve as a committee to draw up the necessary resolutions in connection with such legislation.

Date for the annual flower show was set for May 8th, at 8 p.m. in the recreation room of the city hall. Committees were appointed. Since the flower show falls on the regular meeting date of the club, it was decided to have a special meeting in May for the transaction of business and installation of officers.

Palns were made to attend the Third Annual Flower Show of the Eudora Garden club.

Mrs. W. Y. Bell and Mrs. C. R. Brown were appointed to attend the Civil Defense meeting May 1 on "Emergency Feeding of Infants," which will be under the direction of Miss Anna Tatum, public health nurse of East Carroll parish.

At the conclusion of the program, the hostesses served refreshments to the following members and guests: Mesdames W. Y. Bell, C. R. Brown, O. S. Brown John Burns, J. C. Hamley, R. K. Howard, J. L. Kennedy, W. P. Key, O. L. Kruse, W. H. Maben, C. A. Marlette, K. Mangum, Jesse Johnson, Maude Van Fossen, J. E. Peeler, J. C. Purdy, Jr., E. D. Schneider, Kirby Tyrone, H. L. Van, M. M. Walsworth, B. MRS. SAM LANE BROTHERS

Sam Lane Brothers Takes Bride In Richmond, Va.

Of interest to friends in Monroe was the marriage of Miss Myrtle Ellen Tyler and Sam Lane Brothers, which was celebrated April 14, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, in the chapel of the First Baptist Church, in Richmond, Va. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Jenkins Tyler, of Richmond, and Mr. Brothers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Brothers of this city.

Tall baskets of calla lilies illuminated by white cathedral tapers decorated the chapel.

The bride entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a ballerina length gown of snow white Chantilly lace over ice - blue moire taffeta. The matching bolero jacket was fashioned with long sleeves and Juliet collar. Her princess waistline was caught at the back with a bow of matching taffeta. She carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid and streamers of stephanotis. Her shoulder length veil was caught by a wreath of blue tulle forget-me-nots.

Mrs. James K. Brothers, Jr., of Tyler, Texas, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. Her gown was ballerina length, made of blush pink lace and fashioned with a bustle of lace tiers. Her bouquet and head dress were of mixed flowers in shades of pink and white.

James K. Brothers, Jr., served his brother as best man and the ushers included Lt. John P. Joyce, of Butte, Montana, and Capt. Paul M. Stark, Greenwich, Conn.

A reception followed immediately at the Downtown Club, of the Country club of Virginia, in the Raleigh Hotel, which was decorated for the occasion with bouquets of white and green blossoms.

Mrs. Tyler chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of sandalwood beige eyelet lace, with which she wore matching accessories and a corsage of brown throated, avocado green cymbidium orchids. She was assisted by Mrs. Brothers, the bridegroom's mother, who wore a navy blue lace dress with ashes of roses hat and a purple orchid.

Later in the evening, Mr. Brothers and his bride left on a wedding trip to Florida. For traveling the bride wore a gray dress with small white hat and white accessories. On their return they will make their home in Monroe.

Mrs. Brothers graduated from Washington and Henry High school Ellerson, Va., and from Smithdeal-Massey College, in Richmond.

Mr. Brothers was a graduate of Ouachita Parish High school and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Ruston. His fraternity was Lambda Chi Alpha.

Among the many out of town guests were Mrs. J. K. Brothers, of this city, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Brothers, Jr., Tyler, Texas and Mrs. G. C. Meaux of Oberlin, an aunt of the bridegroom.

MRS. JACK L. VARNADO, the former Miss Jessie Louise Mundo, was married in Popularville, Miss., early in March. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Mundo, Jr., of Rayville and the granddaughter of Mrs. William Wood and Mrs. F. J. Mundo, of this city. Mr. Varnado's parents are Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Varnado of Emon. The young couple are residing at 216 Alabama St. in Bogalusa.

News From The Public Library

The new books of fiction added to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library this week are very varied in nature and will appeal to a great variety of readers. No matter what your reading taste, there is certain to be something here for you. One of the outstanding modern writers in the field of fantasy is John R. R. Tolkien, who wrote a perfectly delightful book several years ago which he called "The Hobbit." Now he has written a trilogy which he calls "The Lord of The Rings". The first book is called "The Fellowship of The Ring," the second, "The Two Towers" and the third "The Return of The King." If you like fine writing dealing with the world of make-believe you will surely want to read these books.

Nothing could be more different from the previous books than "Forbidden Area" by Pat Frank. This is a thundering suspense story of the race to prepare for atomic war. It has its scene in Washington and Florida and is the kind of book which makes one do some serious thinking. It is a story of adventure and high romance in the world of tomorrow. Stories set in far away places are popular with many of our readers. Such a title is "Remember The House" by Santha Rama Rau. This is a story of a young girl growing up in India and on the threshold between two worlds. It is the story of young Indians and the problems they face and the future they share. It is a well-written book and should be very popular.

In spite of the many changes in our world today, many readers still enjoy historical novels and there are three new ones in this week's offerings. "Marjorie of Scotland" by Pamela Hill takes us back to Scotland in the early years of the 14th century. It is the story of unlucky Marjorie, daughter of Robert Bruce. Miss Hill brings her heroine vividly to life and recaptures with great skill the feel of the past. "Another Sky" by Naomi Land Badson is the story of two girls, Annis and Quincy, who left their comfortable home in New England to go to the Sandwich Islands where Annis planned to wed the Reverend William Cushing a missionary. The time is the 1820's and there is a wealth of detail about the period as well as love and romance. This book will be especially popular with young women. "Gallant Captain" by Frye is a novel based on the life of John Paul Jones, founder of the American Navy. We have all read his immortal words, "I have not begun to fight," but few of us know the details of his personal life, how he loved the beautiful Dorothea Dandridge and of his struggle to make a name for himself. This is an exciting and well-written story of the man who did so much to win independence for our country. Pearl Frye writes well and this is a story which will not soon be forgotten.

Mystery readers will be happy to know that we have another story by Earl Stanley Gardner. It is called "The Case of The Demure Defendant". It is the 50th Perry Mason Mystery and they seem to gain in popularity all of the time.

Do you like to read short stories? If you do you will want to see "The Fallen Angel" and other stories by William T. Polk. Mr. Polk was one of the most perceptive and understanding of Southern editors and his book "Southern Accent" is considered a classic exposition of the modern southern attitude toward life. This collection of short stories published after his death deals with yesterday and today in the South. The tone of the stories ranges from the uproarious to the poignant, but all of them are notable in the warmth and sympathy with which the individual characters are treated.

A very valuable addition to our book collection is "The selected novels of Henry James". It contains his four great international novels, "The American," "The Europeans," "Daisy Miller" and "International Episode". We have had many calls from college students for these titles and we are happy that they are again in print. A very interesting addition is a two volume set of the works of Kipling. It contains a selection of his stories and poems and should be widely read and enjoyed.

Are you a patron of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. If not, we give you a hearty invitation to register with us as soon as possible.

East Carroll Garden Club Plans Show

LAKE PROVIDENCE — Mrs. Mary Jardine, of the Monroe Garden Center, spoke on staging flower shows at the East Carroll Parish Garden Club this week, in the home of Mrs. W. B. Cone. Mrs. W. J. Grossman, Jr. and Mrs. H. H. Howington, Jr., were co-hostesses.

Mrs. E. D. Schneider, president, presided over the business session. The group favored petitioning legislators to vote favorably on the bill in May to provide a home economics building and facilities at L. S. U.

The president appointed Mrs. C. D. Purdy and Mrs. O. S. Brown to serve as a committee to draw up the necessary resolutions in connection with such legislation.

Date for the annual flower show was set for May 8th, at 8 p.m. in the recreation room of the city hall. Committees were appointed. Since the flower show falls on the regular meeting date of the club, it was decided to have a special meeting in May for the transaction of business and installation of officers.

Palns were made to attend the Third Annual Flower Show of the Eudora Garden club.

Mrs. W. Y. Bell and Mrs. C. R. Brown were appointed to attend the Civil Defense meeting May 1 on "Emergency Feeding of Infants," which will be under the direction of Miss Anna Tatum, public health nurse of East Carroll parish.

At the conclusion of the program, the hostesses served refreshments to the following members and guests: Mesdames W. Y. Bell, C. R. Brown, O. S. Brown John Burns, J. C. Hamley, R. K. Howard, J. L. Kennedy, W. P. Key, O L. Kruse, W. H. Maben, C A. Marlette, K. Mangum, Jesse Johnson, Maude Van Fossen, J. E. Peeler, J. C. Purdy, Jr., E. D. Schneider, Kirby Tyrone, H. L. Van, M. M. Walsworth, B. W. Waxman, W. B. Cone, H. H. Howington, Jr., W. J. Grossman, Jr., and Misses Peggy Callari and Eunyce Howard.

MRS. SAM LANE BROTHERS

Sam Lane Brothers Takes Bride In Richmond, Va.

Of interest to friends in Monroe was the marriage of Miss Myrtle Ellen Tyler and Sam Lane Brothers, which was celebrated April 14, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, in the chapel of the First Baptist Church, in Richmond, Va. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Jenkins Tyler, of Richmond, and Mr. Brothers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Brothers of this city.

Tall baskets of calla lilies illuminated by white cathedral tapers decorated the chapel.

The bride entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a ballerina length gown of snow white Chantilly lace over ice - blue moire taffeta. The matching bolero jacket was fashioned with long sleeves and Juliet collar. Her princess waistline was caught at the back with a bow of matching taffeta. She carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid and streamers of stephanotis. Her shoulder length veil was caught by a wreath of blue tulle forget-me-nots.

Mrs. James K. Brothers, Jr., of Tyler, Texas, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. Her gown was ballerina length, made of blush pink lace and fashioned with a bustle of lace tiers. Her bouquet and head dress were of mixed flowers in shades of pink and white.

James K. Brothers, Jr., served his brother as best man and the ushers included Lt. John P. Joyce, of Butte, Montana, and Capt. Paul M. Stark, Greenwich, Conn.

A reception followed immediately at the Downtown Club, of the Country club of Virginia, in the Raleigh Hotel, which was decorated for the occasion with bouquets of white and green blossoms.

Mrs. Tyler chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of sandalwood beige eyelet lace, with which she wore matching accessories and a corsage of brown throated, avocado green cymbidium orchids. She was assisted by Mrs. Brothers, the bridegroom's mother, who wore a navy blue lace dress with ashes of roses hat and a purple orchid.

Later in the evening, Mr. Brothers and his bride left on a wedding trip to Florida. For traveling the bride wore a gray dress with small white hat and white accessories. On their return they will make their home in Monroe.

Mrs. Brothers graduated from Washington and Henry High school Ellerson, Va., and from Smithdeal-Massey College, in Richmond.

Mr. Brothers was a graduate of Ouachita Parish High school and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Ruston. His fraternity was Lambda Chi Alpha.

Among the many out of town guests were Mrs. J. K. Brothers, of this city, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Brothers, Jr., Tyler, Texas and Mrs. G. C. Meaux of Oberlin, an aunt of the bridegroom.

MRS. JACK L. VARNADO, the former Miss Jessie Louise Mundo, was married in Popularville, Miss., early in March. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Mundo, Jr., of Rayville and the granddaughter of Mrs. William Wood and Mrs. F. J. Mundo, of this city. Mr. Varnado's parents are Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Varnado of Emon. The young couple are residing at 216 Alabama St. in Bogalusa.

News From The Public Library

The new books of fiction added to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library this week are very varied in nature and will appeal to a great variety of readers. No matter what your reading taste, there is certain to be something here for you. One of the outstanding modern writers in the field of fantasy is John R. R. Tolkien, who wrote a perfectly delightful book several years ago which he called "The Hobbit." Now he has written a trilogy which he calls "The Lord of The Rings". The first book is called "The Fellowship of The Ring," the second, "The Two Towers" and the third "The Return of The King." If you like fine writing dealing with the world of make-believe you will surely want to read these books.

Nothing could be more different from the previous books than "Forbidden Area" by Pat Frank. This is a thundering suspense story of the race to prepare for atomic war. It has its scene in Washington and Florida and is the kind of book which makes one do some serious thinking. It is a story of adventure and high romance in the world of tomorrow. Stories set in far away places are popular with many of our readers. Such a title is "Remember The House" by Santha Rama Rau. This is a story of a young girl growing up in India and on the threshold between two worlds. It is the story of young Indians and the problems they face and the future they share. It is a well-written book and should be very popular.

In spite of the many changes in our world today, many readers still enjoy historical novels and there are three new ones in this week's offerings. "Marjorie of Scotland" by Pamela Hill takes us back to Scotland in the early years of the 14th century. It is the story of unlucky Marjorie, daughter of Robert Bruce. Miss Hill brings her heroine vividly to life and recaptures with great skill the feel of the past. "Another Sky" by Naomi Land Badson is the story of two girls, Annis and Quincy, who left their comfortable home in New England to go to the Sandwich Islands where Annis planned to wed the Reverend William Cushing a missionary. The time is the 1820's and there is a wealth of detail about the period as well as love and romance. This book will be especially popular with young women. "Gallant Captain" by Frye is a novel based on the life of John Paul Jones, founder of the American Navy. We have all read his immortal words, "I have not begun to fight," but few of us know the details of his personal life, how he loved the beautiful Dorothea Dandridge and of his struggle to make a name for himself. This is an exciting and well-written story of the man who did so much to win independence for our country. Pearl Frye writes well and this is a story which will not soon be forgotten.

Mystery readers will be happy to know that we have another story by Earl Stanley Gardner. It is called "The Case of The Demure Defendant". It is the 50th Perry Mason Mystery and they seem to gain in popularity all of the time.

Do you like to read short stories? If you do you will want to see "The Fallen Angel" and other stories by William T. Polk. Mr. Polk was one of the most perceptive and understanding of Southern editors and his book "Southern Accent" is considered a classic exposition of the modern southern attitude toward life. This collection of short stories published after his death deals with yesterday and today in the South. The tone of the stories ranges from the uproarious to the poignant, but all of them are notable in the warmth and sympathy with which the individual characters are treated.

A very valuable addition to our book collection is "The selected novels of Henry James". It contains his four great international novels, "The American," "The Europeans," "Daisy Miller" and "International Episode". We have had many calls from college students for these titles and we are happy that they are again in print. A very interesting addition is a two volume set of the works of Kipling. It contains a selection of his stories and poems and should be widely read and enjoyed.

Are you a patron of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. If not, we give you a hearty invitation to register with us as soon as possible.

Mrs. Roland Brown Hostess To Fort Miro Chapter DAR

The Fort Miro Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution held its April meeting at the lovely home of Mrs. Roland Brown on Deborah Drive on Saturday, April 14. In the absence of the Regent, Mrs. H. Flood Madison, who is attending Continental Congress in Washington, Mrs. Fagan Cox, the first vice-regent presided. The meeting was opened with the chapter ritual led by the chaplain, Mrs. Barlow Inabnet and was followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the American flag, led by Mrs. S. Shelby Meek.

Mrs. Cox introduced the speaker of the afternoon Dr. Frank P. Rizzo, who spoke on the subject of "Socialized Medicine" Dr. Rizzo gave the historical steps by which our government had become ever more powerful and the people had come to depend on it for all things. He quoted the arguments used by the proponents of socialized medicine and exposed their fallicies and urged a return to true Americanism. His talk was well-received by the group.

In the business session which followed Mrs. Meek read resolutions on the loss of two members, Mrs. W. B. Clarke and Mrs. T. O. Brown. May 5th was selected as the day when markers would be placed on the graves of the members who had departed this life within the last two years. They are Mrs. T. O. Brown, Mrs. Georgia Stubbs Barringer, Miss Olivia Scott, Mrs. C. R. Russell, Mrs. Stanley Blower and Mrs. W. B. Clarke. All members are urged to meet at the Catholic Cemetery at 3 p.m. on that date. From there the next graves marked will be those in the Old City Cemetery and then those at Riverside.

Miss Eleona Brinsmade gave an interesting talk on National Defense after which the membership voted to send telegrams to Senators Ellender and Long asking their support of the Dirkson version of the Bricker amendment.

A nominating committee composed of the following members was elected: Mrs. Shelby Meek, Mrs. A. E. Montgomery, Miss Frances Flanders, Mrs. R. T. Armstrong and Mrs. W. C. Oliver. It was announced that the May meeting would be held at the Covenant Presbyterian Church and that the C. A. R. members would assist with the program.

After the adjournment of the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and cohostess, Mrs. W. C. Oliver, Mrs. Lela Loe Herndon, Miss Frances Flanders, Mrs. C. P. Gray, Jr., and Mrs. C. P. Gray.

Those attending the meeting were: Mrs. S. W. McLean, Mrs. Ivy McDonald, Mrs. George Hemphill, Mrs. W. A. Whitfield, Jr., Mrs Fagan Cox, Mrs. Barlow Inabnet, Mrs. Duncan Cook, Mrs. Emma Alexander, Mrs. James R. Cain, Mrs. R. L. Carson, Mrs. Shelby Meek, Mrs. J. W. Standley, Mrs. W. B. Matthew's, Mrs. O. C. Roddey, Mrs. Lee Hodges, Miss Eleona Brinsmade, Mrs. Blossom Butler, Miss Mary Buckner, Mrs. Harry Frazer, Miss Ina Merle Thomas, Mrs. Robert Layton, Mrs. A. E. Montgomery and Mrs. John Coon.

Heat a half cup of ready-prepared mayonnaise with a quarter cup of cream and a half teaspoon of lemon juice over hot water. Add a dash of salt with white pepper and serve over vegetables.

Marinate thin rounds of onion in olive oil and vinegar and sandwich each round between two thin hamburger patties. Fry or broil as usual.

MRS. NELSON WOODEY, Mrs. Vincent Nunez and Mrs. Donald Wattley, of New Orleans, are shown in the garden of the George M. Snellings, Jr., home on Country Club Road, prior to the coffee party given by Mrs. Snellings and Mrs. Allan Sholars for members and guests of the Colonial Dames on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Z. Fitzgerald, Jr., of West Monroe, are parents of a daughter, Vickie Lou Fitzgerald, born April 14 at the St. Francis Hospital. Mrs. Fitzgerald is the former Bettie Jean Pringle of this city. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. L. Z. Fitzgerald and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pringle. The baby's great grandparents are Mrs. Sisley Barnes of DeVille, Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Pringle and Mrs. Lettie L. Flynn, all of West Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Crew announce the arrival of their first child, Debra Lynn, born April 15. The grandparents are Mrs. H. D. Crew and Mr. and Mrs. Vertis J. Rawls, both of West Monroe.

Dr. Holloway Mangham Club Speaker

Mangham Literary Club held its monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. W. T. Sartor with Mrs. L. Lyles and Mrs. Edmund Williamson, co-hostesses.

The president, Mrs. Yvonne DeVille, presided during the business meeting.

Mrs. W. T. Sartor, program leader, presented Dr. Ernest Holloway who spoke on Judaism. Dr. Holloway explained that Judaism is a system of religious belief and practice representing the development of the religion of Israel which began with the reorganization of Jewish life after the Babylonian Exile in 444 B. C.

It took over from the religion of Israel a basic body of sacred teachings, he said.

Mrs. Annie Boles read the minutes of the preceeding meeting and Mrs. L. Lyles gave the treasurer's report.

Plans were made for the annual barbecue when members entertain for their husbands and friends. Committees were appointed for the barbecue.

Mrs. DeVille also appointed a committee of Mrs. Jo Ann McKay, Mrs. Marion Lyles, Mrs. Gladys Jones, and Mrs. Annette Coolidge to purchase a filing cabinet for the club.

The club was represented at the district meeting by Mrs. Gladys Jones, Mrs. Annette Coolidge and Mrs. Marguerite Marlowe. Mrs. Jones gave a report of the conference. Mrs. Annette Coolidge was elected first vice-president of the fifth district.

Mrs. Bob Bell, Jr. and Mrs. Yvonne DeVille represented the Mangham Literary Club at the state convention held in Alexandria. Mrs. DeVille reported on this meeting.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. J. F. Boughton, Mrs. R. B. Boughton, Mrs. Otis Coolidge, Miss Ola Cooper, Mrs. Odelle DeVille, Mrs. Theo Jones, Mrs. E. Landrum, Mrs. L. Lyles, Mrs. Dan McKat, Jr., Mrs. Woodford Marlowe, Mrs. W. T. Sartor, Mrs. Charles Tillman, Mrs. Edmund Williamson, Mrs. Fanny Welch and Mrs. Carol Henkel.

It's easy to make turnovers filled with meat or fish, fruit or jam. Use a standard pastry-for-pie recipe based on 2¼ cups of sifted flour; cut out four-inch squares, put a dab of filling near the centre then fold into a triangle, seal and bake.

Dr. Holloway Mangham Club Speaker

Mangham Literary Club held its monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. W. T. Sartor with Mrs. L. Lyles and Mrs. Edmund Williamson, co-hostesses.

The president, Mrs. Yvonne DeVille, presided during the business meeting.

Mrs. W. T. Sartor, program leader, presented Dr. Ernest Holloway who spoke on Judaism. Dr. Holloway explained that Judaism is a system of religious belief and practice representing the development of the religion of Israel which began with the reorganization of Jewish life after the Babylonian Exile in 444 B. C.

It took over from the religion of Israel a basic body of sacred teachings, he said.

Mrs. Annie Boies read the minutes of the preceeding meeting and Mrs. L. Lyles gave the treasurer's report.

Plans were made for the annual barbecue when members entertain for their husbands and friends. Committees were appointed for the barbecue.

Mrs. DeVille also appointed a committee of Mrs. Jo Ann McKay, Mrs. Marion Lyles, Mrs. Gladys Jones, and Mrs. Annette Coolidge to purchase a filing cabinet for the club.

The club was represented at the district meeting by Mrs. Gladys Jones, Mrs. Annette Coolidge and Mrs. Marguerite Marlowe. Mrs. Jones gave a report of the conference. Mrs. Annette Coolidge was elected first vice-president of the fifth district.

Mrs. Bob Bell, Jr. and Mrs. Yvonne DeVille represented the Mangham Literary Club at the state convention held in Alexandria. Mrs. DeVille reported on this meeting.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. J. F. Boughton, Mrs. R. B. Boughton, Mrs. Otis Coolidge, Miss Ola Cooper, Mrs. Odelle DeVille, Mrs. Theo Jones, Mrs. E. Landrum, Mrs. L. Lyles, Mrs. Dan McKat, Jr., Mrs. Woodford Marlowe, Mrs. W. T. Sartor, Mrs. Charles Tillman, Mrs. Edmund Williamson, Mrs. Fanny Welch and Mrs. Carol Henkel.

It's easy to make turnovers filled with meat or fish, fruit or jam. Use a standard pastry-for-pie recipe based on 2¼ cups of sifted flour; cut out four-inch squares, put a dab of filling near the centre then fold into a triangle, seal and bake.

MRS. IRA J. SCHNEIDER, the former Miss Louise Bertha Coco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Coco of Marksville, became the bride of the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schneider of Monroe, in a ceremony celebrated at Nuptial Mass, St. Joseph's Catholic church, on April 14. The Rt. Rev. Monsignor H. Vander Putten officiated.

Miss Breckenridge Becomes Bride In Home Ceremony

Before an improvised altar of white stock and greenery, at 10:30 Saturday morning at the Breckenridge home on North Fifth street, Miss Barbara Gail Breckenridge became the bride of Carl David Johnson. Miss Breckenridge is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Colman Breckenridge and Mr. Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bernardo Johnson of this city.

The double ring ceremony was read by Dr. James T. Horton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, in the presence of the immediate families and close friends of the couple. The bride who was given in marriage by her father was wearing a waltz length dress of misty white nylon tulle, hand clipped chantilly lace over glowing satin with flattering square neckline. Her veil was a capulette of orange blossoms covered in shirred nylon tulle studded in pearls, finger tip length. She carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid and around it, Lilies of the Valley, and white satin streamers.

Miss Helen Johnson, sister of the groom, served as maid of honor. She was wearing a patio length blue lace over taffeta on the princess lines, with blue velvet ribbon trim. A. C. Breckenridge, Jr. brother of the bride, served as best man.

Mrs. Breckenridge chose for her daughter's wedding, a blue lace dress and patent accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses. The mother of the bridegroom wore a Mauve lace dress with a corsage of white roses.

The bride's parents entertained with a reception following the ceremony. Artistic arrangements of yellow roses and white stock were at points of interest in the reception rooms.

Serving and assisting with the courtesies were Mrs. E. W. Stinson and Mrs. Mabel Spencer. Mrs. W. O. Smith presided over the bride's book.

When the couple departed on their wedding trip, the bride was wearing a light blue suit with which she wore pink accessories. And to her shoulder was pinned a white orchid from her bouquet.

On their return the couple will make their home at 502 Roselawn, Monroe.

Mrs. Johnson was graduated from Neville High School and Stephens College in Columbia Missouri. She was a member of Lambda Sigma Chi Sorority.

Mr. Johnson was graduated from Fortier High School in New Orleans and also attended La. Tech in Ruston. He was a member of Phi Kappa fraternity.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Eli Craig (paternal grandmother of the bride) of Little Rock Arkansas. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Leaverton, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Breckenridge, Jr. and children, Douglas and Pamela, Longview, Texas and Dr. and Mrs. D. O. Johnson and children, of Austin, Texas.

Weight-watchers will like this salad: cottage cheese mixed with drained canned minced clams and served on crisp greens with a low-fat tomato dressing.

Two whole baked fish make a good-looking and good-tasting company dish. Each fish will need to weigh about three pounds to serve six. Stuff and bake according to standard directions.

MISS JERRY YOUNG'S approaching marriage to Freddie Ray Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Hall, is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Young of West Monroe. The wedding will be solemnized June 1 at the Good Hope Baptist Church.

Phi Mu Chapter Installed At Northeast State

Installation of Gamma Zeta, local sorority at Northeast State, as the seventy-fifth chapter of Phi Mu was featured by a series of significant events. The ceremonies marked the first national sorority or fraternity to appear on the college campus.

Phi Mu was founded as the Philomathean Society in 1852 at Wesleyan College, Macon, Ga., the oldest chartered college for women in our country. The society was the second oldest secret organization for women. Since that time, Phi Mu has established alumnae and collegiate chapters throughout the United States, and is recognized in many sections for philanthropic work in hospitals and for scholarships to foreign students.

Installation here was held at the Virginia Hotel, where national officers and members of other college chapters participated in the afternoon ceremonies. National officers present for the occasion included Mrs. Landon Frecar, of Fort Worth, national panhellenic delegate; Mrs. Floyd Williamson of Baton Rouge, national fraternity education chairman; Miss Louise Horn of Georgia, executive office director; and Miss Susan Stiles of Georgia, field secretary.

Initiates were honored that evening with a banquet on the hotel roof, where Mrs. C. Prentice Gray, Jr., member of the local Phi Mu alumnae, served as mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. Frecar presented Miss Alice Mae Tarpley, chapter president, with the charter.

Mrs. Lewis C. Slater, honorary initiate, welcomed the chapter on behalf of the college, stating that it was appropriate that such a milestone in the growth of Northeast should occur during the college's silver anniversary. Such recognition should serve as an inspiration to new members of Phi Mu and also to other students on the campus, she said.

Guest speaker of the evening was Mrs. Floyd Williamson, Jr. who discussed Phi Mu's national convention in Gulfpark, Miss., in June, and spoke on the value of sorority life. The idea of fraternity was originated by those who desired to sweeten, enlarge and dignify life, she said. Fraternities are seeking as their ideal to love truth and use it for the benefit of young women, she continued.

Among the highlights of the evening was the presentation of a silver punch bowl and tray by the collegiate and alumnae chapters in the district, and a silver punch ladle by the Alumnae Club of Monroe. Music was sung by Miss Betty Spurlock, whose accompanist was Miss Jane Wallace.

Sunday afternoon the new chapter, Alpha Rho, was introduced to college officials, representatives of the faculty, officials and many other citizens of the Twin Cities. The presentation was at a lovely tea in the home of President and Mrs. Lewis C. Slater.

Guests were greeted by Miss Ann Flinn and Miss Elizabeth Leigh, both Phi Mu members. Receiving were Mrs. Frecar, Miss Stiles, Miss Louise Horn, Mrs. Helen Hawley, president of the local Alumnae Club, Miss Alice Mae Tarpley, president of the new chapter, and Mrs. Ruby Crawford, faculty adviser. They stood in the reception room where spring blossoms reflected a variety of shades in pink stock, iris, gladioli and daisies, which were arranged in antique epergnes and silver containers.

Background music was played by Mr. Eloy Fominaya, violinist, and Mrs. Eloise Calhoun Stanhope, pianist.

Extending courtesies in the music room were Mrs. James A. Noe, Miss Frances Flanders, Mrs. Gordon Cummings, Mrs. C. V. Flinn, Mrs. Joe Dawkins and Mrs. Henry Hinkle assisted in serving an assortment of sandwiches and confections.

Members of the local Phi Mu Alumnae Club who extended courtesies in the sun porch were Mrs. Lee Herron, Mrs. Jane Arnold, Mrs. Hays B. Clark, Jr., and Mrs. Clifford Johnson.

Northeast State students who were initiated into the new chapter were: Misses Frances Adams, Wilma Ann Adcock, Pat Barnes, Rita Barnes, Sandra Jean Brinson, Mickey Brown, Marianne Buce, Mildred Louise Burford, Billy Jo Cook, Sarah Batton, Mary Louise Danna, Carole Eady, Emma Jean Hall.

Sally Ann Hayes, Charlotte Latham, Beverly Johnston, Faye Parker, Connie Pickering, Barbara Rogers, Nell Rogers, Betty Spurlock, Esther-Lyn Stilley, Alice Mae Tarpley, Beatrice Varino, and Jane Wallace. Alumnae initiates were Miss Joan McDonald and Miss Sylvia Jones.

Honorary members received into the chapter include: Mrs. Lewis C. Slater, Mrs. Ruby Crawford, Mrs. James A. Noe, Mrs. Gordon Cummings, Mrs. Joe Dawkins, Miss Frances Flanders, Mrs. C. V. Flinn and Mrs. Annie Lee West Stahl.

Girl Scout News

Registrations for day camp at Pine Wood are coming in at such a rate that there soon will be no room, our day camp chairman says. Girls and mamas had better plan soon before registration is closed.

The Caldwell parish neighborhood is planning a day camp for its girls this summer. We think that's a mighty good start for a new member of the Silver Waters council. Mrs. T. F. Wilson and Mrs. N. L. Huckabee, two of our camping people, met with a group in Columbia last week and found them most enthusiastic. By next summer, we ought to find day camps all over the Silver Waters Council.

Brownie Scouts of Troop 48 have bought an American flag, which they are giving to the office for the use of any troops that wish to borrow it. Troop 17 has given money for a gift to camp — maybe another water cooler — it hasn't been decided yet. And while we're mentioning gifts, we'd like to call your attention to the dogwoods and pines that were bought for camp by Troop 45.

Weren't we proud to read that Nancy Breard was chosen president of the Louisiana Senior conference of the next year? Nancy, daughter of the Harold Breards has been in Scouting since the second grade, first a member of Troop 28, then of Senior Troop 14. She belongs to a Scout-minded family, her mother and dad both being active in Girl and Boy Scouting. Nancy served as patrol leader for the Region 5 Patrol-troop encampment at Chicot State Park last summer.

Several of the Senior Scouts deserve credit for the help they have given at the office lately. Special mention should go to Sandra Lea and Anne McCarty for their faithfulness and their competent help. It wasn't just to count hours of service, either. They've done more than that and been a real help when Annis was out of town and Yvonne had sickness in her family. For two days during school hours Lucy Huckabee held the fort. With such fine help we made it through a couple of emergencies.

Yesterday was another Brownie day at Pine Wood — for fourth graders who earned the trip by selling their quota of cookies. If they had as much fun as the younger Brownies two weeks ago, the day was a success. Also camping at Pine Wood this week end, sleeping in tents, cooking on charcoal stoves, are girls from Shreveport, Alexandria and our own girls who have been chosen to attend the Senior Roundup in Michigan next summer. The working and camping together in advance is almost as much fun as the real thing, the girls think.

Troop 34 had a week end at Pine Wood with leaders June Strausser and Doris Keller recently. These girls are old-time campers, many of whom are registering for Wawbansee for their third year. These are the campers: Billie Sue Dixon, Beth Fink, Gretcher Gulezou, Marilyn Hewitt, Helen Jackson, Linda Keller, Karen Kirste, Judy Neal, Nancy Clare Noland, Mary Jo Strausser, Rita Van Fossen, Tommie Sue Whitfield, Joan Williams, Dixie Williams, and Mary Jane Young.

American History Told In Song

General William Carroll chapter D. A. R. met with Mrs. H. T. Monroe as hostess early in April. After the opening by the regent, Mrs. E. D. Herr and prayer by Mrs. Mary Briggs Thompson, the pledge to the flag was led by Mrs. Robert L. May. Mrs. Robert L. May gave the National Defense News, using the speech of the state chairman, Mrs. Camilla Mays Frank, given at state conference, titled, "How Effective Is Our Greatest Weapon."

The program was turned over to the American music chairman, Mrs. B. J. Abney, who was accompanist for her guest vocalists, Miss Della Jane Edmonson, Miss Linda Edmonson and Miss Sarah Standifer of Forest. Mrs. Abney used the medium of song to give the history of our country, using the story of each author and the period of the song. The theme began with the Revolutionary war and it's famous song, "Yankee Doodle".

The War of 181, gave us our "Star Spangled Banner." The Mexican war brought forth "Columbia The Gem of the Ocean." Civil War: "Battle Hymn of the Republic." Sectional songs of this period with intense feeding were "Battle Cry of Freedom," "Tramp Tramp, Tramp the Boys are Marching," "The Vacant Chair," "Just Before the Battle, Mother, and "Just After the Battle," "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground" and "Dixie", the most famous and popular Civil war song.

Spanish American war came with a song so stirring that people have been known to rise and salute the flag, "The Stars and Stripes Forever," by John Philip Sousa. Theodore Hertz wrote an immensely popular hit in 1897, "There'll be a Hot Time In the Old Town Tonight." Katherine Lee Bates wrote "America the Beautiful" in the summer of 1893.

World War One brought us songs like "Over There" written by George M. Cohan and "Smiles." Others we remember, K-K-K-Katy, Pack Up Your Troubles In Your Old Kit Bag, Hail, Hail the Gangs All Here, Goodbye Broadway, Hello France and many more.

World War Two: Many songs have come from this period we now are in. The most outstanding is "The Marines Hymn" arranged by Luis Guzman.

Following the musical program refreshments were served to the members, Mrs. E. D. Herr, Mrs. R. L. May, Mrs. Mary B. Thompson, Mrs. W. S. Byargeon, Mrs. B. J. Abney, Mrs. C. H. Neely, and the guests, Mrs. Beryl P. Monroe of Venedocia, Ohio and Donna Gail Pulley, and Misses Linda, Della Jane Edmonson and Sarah Standifer.

Cooked small white onion rings look pretty served with cooked sliced carrots.

MISS JUANITA HOLMES' engagement and approaching marriage to Thomas B. Moore, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Moore of Crowville, is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay R. Holmes, also of Crowville. The wedding will take place June 2 at the First Baptist Church in Crowville at 8 p.m.

Corsages Are Made At Sylvan Garden Club

URANIA — Mrs. F. A. Thomas and Mrs. G. S. Walsh were hostesses at the April meeting of the Sylvan Garden Club held Wednesday afternoon in the Community Center.

Arrangements of purple and yellow iris, diasies and blue cornflowers were placed at vantage points.

The president, Mrs. R. L. Walsh presided at the meeting. She welcomed several new members. The secretary, Mrs. W. C. Hicks read the minutes and the treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Sessions gave a report.

It was announced that the Sylvan club will meet next month with the Home Demonstration club.

Mrs. J. H. Glidden was in charge of the program and gave a demonstration on making corsages from garden flowers. She demonstrated the basic methods of wiring flowers and taping them with floratape. Hints on where and how to wear a corsage were also given. She displayed four corsages which she had made at home. Six were made during the demonstration.

A dessert course was served to Mesdames C. M. Newsom, L. Volentine, O. M. Corley, J. H. Glidden, A. J. Session, Q. E. Cornwell, R. L. Walsh, C. E. Tannehill, M. H. Barnum, O. F. Matthews, W. C. Hicks, Harry Nichols, Walton Hixson, A. M. Johnston, Q. T. Hardtner and the new members were Mesdames Fred Minard, T. A. Cornett, E. M. Steely, William Tannehill, D. G. Bradford, M. C. Andrews, Jeff Glover and one guest Mrs. R. S. Walsh of Winnfield.

Appetizer kebabs? Thread cheddar cheese cubes, wedges of small tomatoes and chunks of cucumber on small skewers.

Tuck slivers of garlic among the leaves at the heart of an artichoke, then cook in salted boiling water as usual.

For epicures: poached fresh pears served with a soft custard sauce (made with cream) and topped with crushed almond brittle.

Girl Scout News

Registrations for day camp at Pine Wood are coming in at such a rate that there soon will be no room, our day camp chairman says. Girls and mamas had better plan soon before registration is closed.

The Caldwell parish neighborhood is planning a day camp for its girls this summer. We think that's a mighty good start for a new member of the Silver Waters council. Mrs. T. F. Wilson and Mrs. N. L. Huckabee, two of our camping people, met with a group in Columbia last week and found them most enthusiastic. By next summer, we ought to find day camps all over the Silver Waters Council.

Brownie Scouts of Troop 48 have bought an American flag, which they are giving to the office for the use of any troops that wish to borrow it. Troop 17 has given money for a gift to camp — maybe another water cooler — it hasn't been decided yet. And while we're mentioning gifts, we'd like to call your attention to the dogwoods and pines that were bought for camp by Troop 45.

Weren't we proud to read that Nancy Breard was chosen president of the Louisiana Senior conference of the next year? Nancy, daughter of the Harold Breards has been in Scouting since the second grade, first a member of Troop 28, then of Senior Troop 14. She belongs to a Scout-minded family, her mother and dad both being active in Girl and Boy Scouting. Nancy served as patrol leader for the Region 5 Patrol-troop encampment at Chicot State Park last summer.

Several of the Senior Scouts deserve credit for the help they have given at the office lately. Special mention should go to Sandra Lea and Anne McCarty for their faithfulness and their competent help. It wasn't just to count hours of service, either. They've done more than that and been a real help when Annis was out of town and Yvonne had sickness in her family. For two days during school hours Lucy Huckabee held the fort. With such fine help we made it through a couple of emergencies.

Yesterday was another Brownie day at Pine Wood — for fourth graders who earned the trip by selling their quota of cookies. If they had as much fun as the younger Brownies two weeks ago, the day was a success. Also camping at Pine Wood this week end, sleeping in tents, cooking on charcoal stoves, are girls from Shreveport, Alexandria and our own girls who have been chosen to attend the Senior Roundup in Michigan next summer. The working and camping together in advance is almost as much fun as the real thing, the girls think.

Troop 34 had a week end at Pine Wood with leaders June Strausser and Doris Keller recently. These girls are old - time campers, many of whom are registering for Wawbansee for their third year. These are the campers: Billie Sue Dixon, Beth Fink, Gretcher Gulezou, Marilyn Hewitt, Helen Jackson, Linda Keller, Karen Kirste, Judy Neal, Nancy Clare Noland, Mary Jo Strausser, Rita Van Fossen, Tommie Sue Whitfield, Joan Williams, Dixie Williams, and Mary Jane Young.

American History Told In Song

General William Carroll chapter D. A. R. met with Mrs. H. T. Monroe as hostess early in April. After the opening by the regent, Mrs. E. D. Herr and prayer by Mrs. Mary Briggs Thompson, the pledge to the flag was led by Mrs. Robert L. May. Mrs. Robert L. May gave the National Defense News, using the speech of the state chairman, Mrs. Camilla Mays Frank, given at state conference, titled, "How Effective Is Our Greatest Weapon."

The program was turned over to the American music chairman, Mrs. B. J. Abney, who was accompanist for her guest vocalists, Miss Della Jane Edmonson, Miss Linda Edmonson and Miss Sarah Standifer of Forest. Mrs. Abney used the medium of song to give the history of our country, using the story of each author and the period of the song. The theme began with the Revolutionary war and it's famous song, "Yankee Doodle".

The War of 181, gave us our "Star Spangled Banner." The Mexican war brought forth "Columbia The Gem of the Ocean." Civil War: "Battle Hymn of the Republic." Sectional songs of this period with intense feeding were "Battle Cry of Freedom," "Tramp Tramp, Tramp the Boys are Marching," "The Vacant Chair," "Just Before the Battle, Mother, and "Just After the Battle," "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground" and "Dixie", the most famous and popular Civil war song.

Spanish American war came with a song so stirring that people have been known to rise and salute the flag, "The Stars and Stripes Forever," by John Philip Sousa. Theodore Hertz wrote an immensely popular hit in 1897, "There'll be a Hot Time In the Old Town Tonight." Katherine Lee Bates wrote "America the Beautiful" in the summer of 1893.

World War One brought us songs like "Over There" written by George M. Cohan and "Smiles." Others we remember, K-K-K-Katy, Pack Up Your Troubles In Your Old Kit Bag, Hail, Hail the Gangs All Here, Goodbye Broadway, Hello France and many more.

World War Two: Many songs have come from this period we now are in. The most outstanding is "The Marines Hymn" arranged by Luis Guzman.

Following the musical program refreshments were served to the members, Mrs. E. D. Herr, Mrs. R. L. May, Mrs. Mary B. Thompson, Mrs. W. S. Byargeon, Mrs. B. J. Abney, Mrs. C. H. Neely, and the guests, Mrs. Beryl P. Monroe of Venedocia, Ohio and Donna Gail Pulley, and Misses Linda, Della Jane Edmonson and Sarah Standifer.

Cooked small white onion rings look pretty served with cooked sliced carrots.

MISS JUANITA HOLMES' engagement and approaching marriage to Thomas B. Moore, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Moore of Crowville, is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay R. Holmes, also of Crowville. The wedding will take place June 2 at the First Baptist Church in Crowville at 8 p.m.

Corsages Are Made At Sylvan Garden Club

URANIA — Mrs. F. A. Thomas and Mrs. G. S. Walsh were hostesses at the April meeting of the Sylvan Garden Club held Wednesday afternoon in the Community Center.

Arrangements of purple and yellow iris, diasies and blue cornflowers were placed at vantage points.

The president, Mrs. R. L. Walsh presided at the meeting. She welcomed several new members. The secretary, Mrs. W. C. Hicks read the minutes and the treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Sessions gave a report.

It was announced that the Sylvan club will meet next month with the Home Demonstration club.

Mrs. J. H. Glidden was in charge of the program and gave a demonstration on making corsages from garden flowers. She demonstrated the basic methods of wiring flowers and taping them with floratape. Hints on where and how to wear a corsage were also given. She displayed four corsages which she had made at home. Six were made during the demonstration.

A dessert course was served to Mesdames C. M. Newsom, L. Volentine, O. M. Corley, J. H. Glidden, A. J. Session, Q. E. Cornwell, R. L. Walsh, C. E. Tannehill, M. H. Barnum, O. F. Matthews, W. C. Hicks, Harry Nichols, Walton Hixson, A. M. Johnston, Q. T. Hardtner and the new members were Mesdames Fred Minard, T. A. Cornett, E. M. Steely, William Tannehill, D. G. Bradford, M. C. Andrews, Jeff Glover and one guest Mrs. R. S. Walsh of Winnfield.

Appetizer kebabs? Thread cheddar cheese cubes, wedges of small tomatoes and chunks of cucumber on small skewers.

Tuck slivers of garlic among the leaves at the heart of an artichoke, then cook in salted boiling water as usual.

For epicures: poached fresh pears served with a soft custard sauce (made with cream) and topped with crushed almond brittle.

National HD Week April 29-May 5th

National Home Demonstration Week begins Sunday, April 29th and ends Saturday, May 5th. During that time, women of town and country in our homes of today reaffirm their intention to uphold and carry to maintain a democratic culture in our homes of tomorrow.

Home Demonstration work, carried out by women of both town and country homes of today, will be especially recognized during National Home Demonstration Week, April 29th to May 5th. Members of home demonstration organizations in every parish, county and state of the nation make significant contributions to home life and community affairs so that out of the home of today will come the better world of tomorrow. One foreign visitor, Marie Miglio of Lima Peru, has this to say about women on American farms, "I have no fear in qualifying the American women as one of the most decisive factors in explaining the great agricultural development in America. The woman is the best machine the farmer has. A man who cares for 700 chickens and 100 acres should be applauded, but the woman who takes care of that man — chickens and all — is a person to be truly admired. It is easy to conclude that she is the corner-stone on which is built a special type of family which is difficult to find in any other country. A good part of the spiritual strength of the community, which so characterizes the farm population of the United States, is due to her." That's one visitor's viewpoint. Most of us here in America would agree with him in his tribute to the farm homemaker and farm family. We would include, also, homemakers who are not living on the farm because of their abilities to be good partners to their husbands.

DON'T BE A LITTERBUG

We are all urged to adopt the above slogan and help make a lovely Louisiana. As we travel over the state, we certainly feel the need of arousing the public's conscience and urging the cooperation of each one to participate in this work. Some of the habits of the "Litterbug" are: Have a snack in the car and then throw the left over parts (including paper cartons and bottles) along the road; gather up our debris around the home, then take a ride to the country and toss it out of the car along the roadside. We could name many other habits of the Litterbug but instead let's make this pledge and live up to it, "I will not be a litterbug, and this is what I mean; I'll keep my litter in my car and keep the State roads clean." Each home demonstration club is asked to secure the cooperation of its local community in making a "Lovely Louisiana". Louisiana has lots of natural beauty so let's not destroy it by being a litterbug. The Louisiana Home Demonstration Council and the Louisiana Home Demonstration Agents' Association are charter members of the Louisiana Associated Clubs for Roadside Development. Few people are deliberately malicious, but are thoughtless offenders — let's remind them to help keep our state clean and beautiful.

LANDSCAPE SUGGESTIONS

Miss Winona Chauffee, Garden Specialist of L.S.U. Extension Service, gives these suggestions. Watch for aphids on roses and spray weekly with an all purpose spray. Shallow cultivation will drive fine rootlets deeper in the soil and retain moisture. Where it is not practical to cultivate, mulch with grass clippings, leaves, sawdust,or peat moss to keep roots cool and retain moisture in the bed. Shear verbena beds, removing old flowers, plants will bloom fully again. Separate violet clumps into single stems after blooming. They like rich soil, plenty of water and prefer sun. Dust gladiolus weekly with 5 per cent DDT. DDT dust will also control webworms in mimosa and pecan trees. Fertilize shrubs also, prune those having completed the blooming period.

IRIS GARDENS TO VISIT

Mrs. George Flanigan, White Ferry road and Mr. G. B. Folds, 2607 Swiss Street, West Monroe invites you to visit their gardens. Mr. Golds stated his iris would be in full bloom today and he would be happy to have you see them.

IMPORTANT DATES

There will be a presidents planning meeting — May 1st. The Garden Tour being sponsored by the 10 and 25 Year Club April 24th — Home Demonstration Club Presidents' planning meeting at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, May 1st.

ENGLISH IS SPOKEN

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexican tourists are protesting that they have a hard time getting anything to eat in Acapulco unless they read English.

They complain to Mexican tourist officials that all menus of top hotels are in English. Further, they say employes give better service to Americans because they expect biggest tips from them.

Acapulco, on Mexico's Pacific coast, is a favorite winter resort usually packed with Americans.

TO WED — Miss Patricia Ann Honea will wed Keith Carter Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Perry, on June 2. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Honea of West Monroe.

W. A. ROBINSON

Shreveport Man Named To Head 'Y' Youth Work

Max L. Riley, president of the Twin Cities YMCA, announced yesterday that W. A. (Bill) Robinson, boys work secretary of the Shreveport YMCA, will join the local YMCA staff September 1, 1956. His title will be "Boys Work Secretary" and he will have the overall responsibility for the entire YMCA youth program in Monroe - West Monroe. This includes Indian Guides, Gra-Y, Jr. H-Y, Hi-Y, camping and other special interest groups.

Robinson is 27 years of age and was born in Shreveport. He graduated from Elm Grove High School, Elm Grove, La. in 1945. Robinson attended La. Tech in 1945-46. In June 1946 he enlisted in the U. S. Air Force and served until he was honorably discharged in May 1949. He entered Centenary College in Shreveport, in Sept. 1949 and graduated with a B. S. degree in business economics in 1953. He minored in social science and is certified to teach in Louisiana High Schools. Robinson attended Springfield College summer school courses at Blue Ridge, N.C. for the past three summers and has completed all requirements for certification as a YMCA secretary.

Robinson entered YMCA work in the summer of 1951 as camp director for the Shreveport YMCA. That fall he became a club leader for the Gra-Y and Hi-Y clubs in Shreveport. He became boys work secretary for the Shreveport YMCA on October 1, 1952, and has served in that capacity continuously since then.

He is married to the former Miss Betty Jane Black of Shreveport. She will graduate with a B. S. degree in education from Centenary College in May, 1956. She majored in elementary education, is a member of the Methodist church and has been married to Robinson for 1½ years.

Robinson is a member of the Kappa Alpha Order (college social fraternity) and is a member of the Centenary Alumni Association. He is on the board of stewards of the Methodist Church, serves as organist, and is a Sunday School teacher. Robinson was recently elected secretary of the southern area chapter of YMCA boys work secretaries.

Riley concluded his announcement by expressing the pleasure of the entire YMCA board of directors in securing a man of Robinson's caliber.

THAT GRAND OPENING

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Hervey's neighborhood is a friendly one in which folks see to it that news gets around.

A few days after becoming grandparents, the Herveys awoke one day to find in their front yard a sign reading:

"New Grandparents Live Here."

Riverview Will Induct Two New Deacons Sunday

Riverview Baptist church, South Seventh and Austin, West Monroe, will ordain two new deacons on Sunday.

The new deacons are to be Jason Whitlock and Norman H. Sheppard. Several well known ministers are to participate in the exercises.

The Rev. E. A. Burgess, pastor of McClendon church, will give the charge to the church. The Rev. S. W. Tullos, pastor of Liberty church, will give the charge to the new deasons, and the ordination sermon will be preached by the Rev. John Smith, pastor of Peniel church.

Music will be in charge of Charles Hogan and Sandy Lawn of Edgewood church.

There will be a period of fellowship following the program. Refreshments will be served, states the Rev. Edward C. Williams, pastor of Riverview church.

National Home Demonstration eek begins Sunday, April 29th id ends Saturday, May 5th. Dur- g that time, women of town and untry in our homes of today re- firm their intention to uphold and y to maintain a democratic cul- re in our homes of tomorrow.

Home Demonstration work, car- ed out by women of both town id country homes of today, will especially recognized during ational Home Demonstration eek, April 29th to May 5th. Mem- ers of home demonstration organ- ations in every parish, county id state of the nation make sig- ficant contributions to home life id community affairs so that out the home of today will come e better world of tomorrow. One reign visitor, Marie Miglio of ma Peru, has this to say about omen on American farms, "I ave no fear in qualifying the American women as one of the most decisive factors in explaining the great agricultural development in America. The woman is the best machine the farmer has. A man who cares for 700 chickens and 100 acres should be applauded, but the woman who takes care of that man — chickens and all — is a person to be truly admired. It is easy to conclude that she is the corner-stone on which is built a special type of family which is difficult to find in any other country. A good part of the spiritual strength of the community, which so characterizes the farm population of the United States, is due to her." That's one visitor's viewpoint. Most of us here in America would agree with him in his tribute to the farm homemaker and farm family. We would include, also, homemakers who are not living on the farm because of their abilities to be good partners to their husbands.

DON'T BE A LITTERBUG

We are all urged to adopt the above slogan and help make a lovely Louisiana. As we travel over the state, we certainly feel the need of arousing the public's conscience and urging the cooperation of each one to participate in this work. Some of the habits of the "Litterbug" are: Have a snack in the car and then throw the left over parts (including paper cartons and bottles) along the road; gather up our debris around the home, then take a ride to the country and toss it out of the car along the roadside. We could name many other habits of the Litterbug but instead let's make this pledge and live up to it, "I will not be a litterbug, and this is what I mean: I'll keep my litter in my car and keep the State roads clean." Each home demonstration club is asked to secure the cooperation of its local community in making a "Lovely Louisiana". Louisiana has lots of natural beauty so let's not destroy it by being a litterbug. The Louisiana Home Demonstration Council and the Louisiana Home Demonstration Agents' Association are charter members of the Louisiana Associated Clubs for Roadside Development. Few people are deliberately malicious, but are thoughtless offenders — let's remind them to help keep our state clean and beautiful.

LANDSCAPE SUGGESTIONS

Miss Winona Chauffee, Garden Specialist of L.S.U. Extension Service, gives these suggestions. Watch for aphids on roses and spray weekly with an all purpose spray. Shallow cultivation will drive fine rootlets deeper in the soil and retain moisture. Where it is not practical to cultivate, mulch with grass clippings, leaves, sawdust,or peat moss to keep roots cool and retain moisture in the bed. Shear verbena beds, removing old flowers, plants will bloom fully again. Separate violet clumps into single stems after blooming. They like rich soil, plenty of water and prefer sun. Dust gladiolus weekly with 5 per cent DDT. DDT dust will also control webworms in mimsa and pecan trees. Fertilize shrubs also, prune those having completed the blooming period.

IRIS GARDENS TO VISIT

Mrs. George Flanigan, White Ferry road and Mr. G. B. Folds, 2607 Swiss Street, West Monroe invites you to visit their gardens. Mr. Golds stated his iris would be in full bloom today and he would be happy to have you see them.

IMPORTANT DATES

There will be a presidents planning meeting — May 1st. The Garden Tour being sponsored by the 10 and 25 Year Club April 24th — Home Demonstration Club Presidents' planning meeting at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, May 1st.

ENGLISH IS SPOKEN

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexican tourists are protesting that they have a hard time getting anything to eat in Acapulco unless they read English.

They complain to Mexican tourist officials that all menus of top hotels are in English. Further, they say employes give better service to Americans because they expect biggest tips from them.

Acapulco, on Mexico's Pacific coast, is a favorite winter resort usually packed with Americans.

TO WED — Miss Patricia Ann Honea will wed Keith Carter Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Perry, on June 2. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Honea of West Monroe.

W. A. ROBINSON

Shreveport Man Named To Head 'Y' Youth Work

Max L. Riley, president of the Twin Cities YMCA, announced yesterday that W. A. (Bill) Robinson, boys work secretary of the Shreveport YMCA, will join the local YMCA staff September 1, 1956. His title will be "Boys Work Secretary" and he will have the overall responsibility for the entire YMCA youth program in Monroe - West Monroe. This includes Indian Guides, Gra-Y, Jr. H-Y, Hi-Y, camping and other special interest groups.

Robinson is 27 years of age and was born in Shreveport. He graduated from Elm Grove High School, Elm Grove, La. in 1945. Robinson attended La. Tech in 1945-46. In June 1946 he enlisted in the U. S. Air Force and served until he was honorably discharged in May 1949. He entered Centenary College in Shreveport, in Sept. 1949 and graduated with a B. S. degree in business economics in 1953. He minored in social science and is certified to teach in Louisiana High Schools. Robinson attended Springfield College summer school courses at Blue Ridge, N.C. for the past three summers and has completed all requirements for certification as a YMCA secretary.

Robinson entered YMCA work in the summer of 1951 as camp director for the Shreveport YMCA. That fall he became a club leader for the Gra-Y and Hi-Y clubs in Shreveport. He became boys work secretary for the Shreveport YMCA on October 1, 1952, and has served in that capacity continuously since then.

He is married to the former Miss Betty Jane Black of Shreveport. She will graduate with a B. S. degree in education from Centenary College in May, 1956. She majored in elementary education, is a member of the Methodist church and has been married to Robinson for 1½ years.

Robinson is a member of the Kappa Alpha Order (college social fraternity) and is a member of the Centenary Alumni Association. He is on the board of stewards of the Methodist Church, serves as organist, and is a Sunday School teacher. Robinson was recently elected secretary of the southern area chapter of YMCA boys work secretaries.

Riley concluded his announcement by expressing the pleasure of the entire YMCA board of directors in securing a man of Robinson's caliber.

TRAPPING DUCKS ON COULEE—George W. Files, employe of the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission, prepares to band a trap full of ducks on Coulee during the past waterfowl season. He carries two different rings of bands, one for drakes and one for hens in order that he can arrive at the number of each banded in a day by simply subtracting the missing rings. A Negro helper carries food for baiting the traps.

Coulee Refuge Designed To Improve Waterfowl Hunting In Northeast La.

(This is the fifth in a series of articles, based upon a Morning World staff members on-the-spot observation of work being done in District II of the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission under the supervision of Joe L. Herring, district supervisor and wildlife biologist. This week's article deals with the Coulee Waterfowl refuge and its double purpose: to improve waterfowl hunting in northeast Louisiana and to provide wildlife biologists with valuable information on the migration and habits of migratory waterfowl.)

The Coulee Waterfowl Refuge, located approximately five miles west of Oak Ridge in Morehouse parish, is the scene of a vigorous effort by wildlife biologists to improve waterfowl hunting in northeast Louisiana.

During the 1955-56 season, the Coulee refuge held in northeast Louisiana approximately 30,000 mallards, according to a Wildlife and Fisheries commission estimate. In addition to the duck program, on Coulee, the commission is now launching an effort there to bring migratory geese back between the gunsights of northeast Louisiana sportsmen.

The commission's project to bring back goose hunting began in the summer of 1955 with the construction of a dam in the refuge area, near the Oak Ridge road. The purpose of the dam is to hold water in the construction of a goose area. Fifteen acres of oats have been planted in that area of the refuge for the purpose of attracting migratory geese and the commission is also attempting to secure geese from some of the northern states during the winter months to put on this area. Geese obtained from these northern states would have their wing feathers pulled so that they would not be able to leave the area until spring, when they would join the general migration north to the breeding grounds. Since geese are in the habit of returning to the same wintering grounds each winter, it is hoped that goose hunting will be provided in the northeast Louisiana area by the offspring of these first geese held in the Coulee area. Commission personnel point out that goose hunting has been returned to other areas by this method and District II biologists are hopeful that the method will work here.

The purpose of the waterfowl management program on Coulee is two - fold: to improve waterfowl hunting in northeast Louisiana and to secure information for studies of migration and habits.

By providing a strategic resting place for ducks along the Mississippi flyway, Coulee is designed to give northeast Louisiana sportsmen more ducks to shoot and good season-long hunting. The ducks stop in the refuge to rest, whereas, otherwise, they would be pushed southward by northeast Louisiana hunting pressure to wintering quarters on the Gulf Coast. Then because the food in the refuge is exploited in several days by the vast concentration of ducks, the ducks leave the refuge in quest for food, feeding on Wham Brake, on the Shiloh Creek public hunting area and at other attractive places throughout the northeast Louisiana area.

The only food commission personnel carry into the refuge is that used in trapping for the purpose of tagging. It is necessary that there be a scarcity of food in the refuge in order for the trapping program to attain maximum success, because if there were an abundance of food in the area the ducks would not be drawn successfully into the traps.

The large number of ducks trapped in the Coulee refuge is an indication of Coulee's importance to the migration and habit studies conducted by wildlife biologists. One of the largest duck banding operations in the United States during the past season was carried out on the Coulee refuge, where George W. Files, resident of the area and employe of the Wildlife and Fisheries commission, banded a total of 3,615 ducks, most mallards, with the assistance of District II biologists.

Last season's figure boosted the three - year total of ducks banded on Coulee to 6,086. In the 1953-54 season, the first 731 ducks were banded, and 1740 were banded during the 1954-55 season.

In addition to providing wildlife biologists with information for habit studies to assist in better waterfowl management, trapping and banding helps the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the various states in the Mississippi flyway with information needed in regulating the hunting season.

The wide dispersion of ducks trapped on the Coulee refuge is indicated by bands recovered from mallards trapped there during the 1954-55 season. Twenty mallards banded on the refuge were killed in the immediate northeast Louisiana, south Arkansas area while 106 were bagged by hunters in south Louisiana and three in southeast Texas. On the northward flight, dispersion widened greatly with increased distance. One was killed in Illinois, one in Iowa, one in Wisconsin, one in Minnesota, two in South Dakota, three in North Dakota, three in Manitoba, five in Saskatchewan and one in Alberta, according to bands recovered.

The Coulee waterfowl refuge consists of 400 acres lying between Gallion and Coulee Creeks. Deepening and widening of Coulee and Gallion Creeks for drainage purposes created the spoil banks for the waterfowl area. When Coulee Creek was being dredged, the soil was thrown to the east side of the creek and when Gallion Creek was dredged, soil was thrown to the west side. This created a continuous line of spoil banks which could hold water when a dam was constructed on the southern end of the area.

In 1953, ducks were first located on Coulee Creek by Richard Yancey, waterfowl biologist. Yancey suggested that the dam be built for the purpose of holding water between the spoils in order that ducks may be trapped and banded in this area. The dam was constructed by the Wildlife and Fisheries Commission and the trapping and banding program in the area was an immediate success.

The duck trapping area, a 280-acre oak flat covered by water, is located at the opposite end of the refuge from the goose area which was created by construction of the second dam last summer. Fourteen traps were dispersed over the 280-acre area last season.

Once the duck trapping operation is started in the fall it is an all-weather job, for it is impossible to lose one day of trapping without losing two.

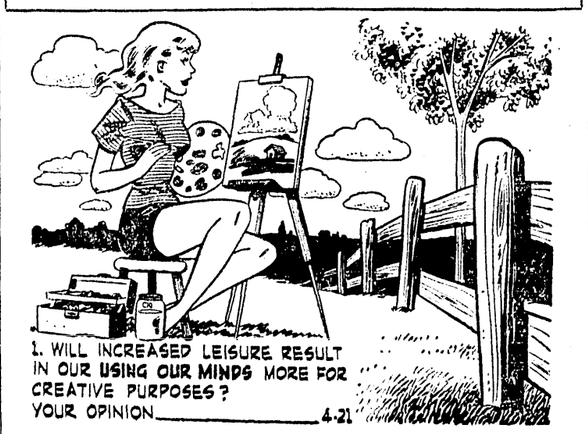
The Coulee refuge water supply is entirely rainwater. Two pipes 30 inches in diameter and 26 feet long with control gates have been installed for the purpose of controlling and regulating the rainwater supply. One pipe leads from the upper Coulee area, where the ducks are trapped, to the lower Coulee area, location of the proposed goose project.

The second pipe was installed to drain surplus water from the goose area into Coulee Creek.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.



Answer to Question No. 1

1. Doubtful. It was claimed that when we got the 8-hour day people would devote extra time to the art and peace. Output of peace and poetry has not visibly increased. Now electronic brains and guided machinery promise that all our bookkeeping, housework, and farming will be done by pressing a button. An alluring dream — I hope it comes true. But, whether we will use our minds for creative purposes or become lazy and go into a mental coma, is in the lap of the gods.

2. What do women like and dislike in others?

Your opinion——

A nation-wide "reader poll taken by a leading magazine found that women liked the following, both in themselves and others: Naturalness, sincerity, integrity, loyalty, good disposition, and friendliness. However, their dislikes differed. In themselves they dislike bad temper, self-consciousness, intolerance, impatience, and laziness. In others they disliked cattiness, hypocrisy, envy, snobbishness, and low moral standards. Do you wish you were like someone else?

Why? Make the most of your own attractive qualities! You will live and work more happily by following rules in booklet, "Develop Your Personality." Send 15 cents (coin only) and stamped, self-addressed envelope (name city and state) to Dr. A. E. Wiggam c-o this newspaper.

3. Are some faces easier to recall than others?

Yes —— No ——

Yes, and psychologists do not know why. Think of a dozen persons you know. Some faces will likely be clear cut, while some you can't see at all, or can see only for a flash. Some persons you have known for years you can't see, while others you have met only once are clearer. I fell in love once with a girl, but found I couldn't see her face when I wasn't with her. I wanted to see a dream walking, even when she was absent. So, I let her vanish altogether.

A TRIBUTE TO OUR HOSPITALS!

Someone once said that all well people should visit a hospital occasionally to see how fortunate they are! When a friend or loved one is being tenderly cared for in one of our hospitals, then we understand the great importance of these institutions. Staffed with doctors, nurses, internes and all manner of life saving equipment, the hospital is mercy headquarters for all who are suffering. We never cease to wonder at the modern miracles performed in our hospitals. Their works go largely unheralded. But their eagerness to bind up wounds and make men whole again goes on forever. What would we do without these havens of healing?

The large number of ducks trapped in the Coulee refuge is an indication of Coulee's importance to the migration and habit studies conducted by wildlife biologists. One of the largest duck banding operations in the United States during the past season was carried out on the Coulee refuge, where George W. Files, resident of the area and employe of the Wildlife and Fisheries commission, banded a total of 3,615 ducks, most mallards, with the assistance of District II biologists.

Last season's figure boosted the three - year total of ducks banded on Coulee to 6,086. In the 1953-54 season, the first 731 ducks were banded, and 1740 were banded during the 1954-55 season.

In addition to providing wildlife biologists with information for habit studies to assist in better waterfowl management, trapping and banding helps the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the various states in the Mississippi flyway with information needed in regulating the hunting season.

The wide dispersion of ducks trapped on the Coulee refuge is indicated by bands recovered from mallards trapped there during the 1954-55 season. Twenty mallards banded on the refuge were killed in the immediate northeast Louisiana, south Arkansas area while 106 were bagged by hunters in south Louisiana and three in southeast Texas. On the northward flight, dispersion widened greatly with increased distance. One was killed in Illinois, one in Iowa, one in Wisconsin, one in Minnesota, two in South Dakota, three in North Dakota, three in Manitoba, five in Saskatchewan and one in Alberta, according to bands recovered.

The Coulee waterfowl refuge consists of 400 acres lying between Gallion and Coulee Creeks. Deepening, and widening of Coulee and Gallion Creeks for drainage purposes created the spoil banks for the waterfowl area. When Coulee Creek was being dredged, the soil was thrown to the east side of the creek and when Gallion Creek was dredged, soil was thrown to the west side. This created a continuous line of spoil banks which could hold water when a dam was constructed on the southern end of the area.

In 1953, ducks were first located on Coulee Creek by Richard Yancey, waterfowl biologist. Yancey suggested that the dam be built for the purpose of holding water between the spoils in order that ducks may be trapped and banded in this area. The dam was constructed by the Wildlife and Fisheries Commission and the trapping and banding program in the area was an immediate success.

The duck trapping area, a 280-acre oak flat covered by water, is located at the opposite end of the refuge from the goose area which was created by construction of the second dam last summer. Fourteen traps were dispersed over the 280-acre area last season.

Once the duck trapping operation is started in the fall it is an all-weather job, for it is impossible to lose one day of trapping without losing two.

The Coulee refuge water supply is entirely rainwater. Two pipes 30 inches in diameter and 20 feet long with control gates have been installed for the purpose of controlling and regulating the rainwater supply. One pipe leads from the upper Coulee area, where the ducks are trapped, to the lower Coulee area, location of the proposed goose project.

The second pipe was installed to drain surplus water from the goose area into Coulee Creek.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Doubtful. It was claimed that when we got the 8-hour day people would devote extra time to the art and peace. Output of peace and poetry has not visibly increased. Now electronic brains and guided machinery promise that all our bookkeeping, housework, and farming will be done by pressing a button. An alluring dream — I hope it comes true. But, whether we will use our minds for creative purposes or become lazy and go into a mental coma, is in the lap of the gods.

2. What do women like and dislike in others?

Your opinion——

A nation-wide "reader poll taken by a leading magazine found that women liked the following, both in themselves and others: Naturalness, sincerity, integrity, loyalty, good disposition, and friendliness. However, their dislikes differed. In themselves they dislike bad temper, self-consciousness, intolerance, impatience, and laziness. In others they disliked cattiness, hypocrisy, envy, snobbishness, and low moral standards. Do you wish you were like someone else?

Why? Make the most of your own attractive qualities! You will live and work more happily by following rules in booklet, "Develop Your Personality." Send 15 cents (coin only) and stamped, self-addressed envelope (name city and state) to Dr. A. E. Wiggam c-o this newspaper.

3. Are some faces easier to recall than others?

Yes —— No ——

Yes, and psychologists do not know why. Think of a dozen persons you know. Some faces will likely be clear cut, while some you can't see at all, or can see only for a flash. Some persons you have known for years you can't see, while others you have met only once are clearer. I fell in love once with a girl, but found I couldn't see her face when I wasn't with her. I wanted to see a dream walking, even when she was absent. So, I let her vanish altogether.

Spring Meeting Of Cattlemen Thursday

LAKE PROVIDENCE, April 21 —(Special)— Dr. George Robertson, head of the A. I. Department at LSU, will be guest speaker at the annual spring meeting of the East Carroll Cattlemen's Association, according to an announcement by Russel Fleeman, President.

The meeting will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the American Legion Home. Fleeman said there would be a short business session to elect officers for the coming year, prior to the program.

R. Watkins Green, president of the state association, and A. P. Parham, secretary of the state association, will also be present for the occasion.

A TRIBUTE TO OUR HOSPITALS!

Someone once said that all well people should visit a hospital occasionally to see how fortunate they are! When a friend or loved one is being tenderly cared for in one of our hospitals, then we understand the great importance of these institutions. Staffed with doctors, nurses, internes and all manner of life saving equipment, the hospital is mercy headquarters for all who are suffering. We never cease to wonder at the modern miracles performed in our hospitals. Their works go largely unheralded. But their eagerness to bind up wounds and make men whole again goes on forever. What would we do without these havens of healing?

Tenor Jan Bart To Appear Here For Israel Bonds

Jan Bart, popular American lyric tenor and humorist will appear at Temple B'nai Israel Annex May 1 as guest entertainer for the celebration observing Israel's eighth anniversary, it was announced yesterday by Herman Masur, chairman.

The meeting sponsored by the Monroe Committee for Israel bonds also marks the fifth anniversary of the Israel bond campaign in the United States.

The European-born vocalist, who has sung before more than 122,000 persons at Soldiers' Field in Chicago, is a product of the "Borscht Belt," the summer resort area in New York State that has produced such stars as Danny Kaye, Milton Berle and Jackie Gleason. Perhaps his greatest thrill was singing "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning" to an audience at Brooklyn's Ebbets Field which included the late President Roosevelt, who commended Bart for his performance.

A staunch believer in an independent State of Israel, Bart visited the young nation in 1952, when he met with Prime Minister David Ben Gurion and other government officials.

Chairman Masur said, "the State of Israel Bond Issue provides the investment capital for Israel's historic program of economic development. Funds derived through the sale of Israel Bonds are making possible the growth of industry and agriculture, the expansion of irrigation, the construction of roads, harbors and railways, the increase of electric power, and the exploitation of natural resources. All of us in Monroe will do out part in helping strenghten economically this democratic country in the Middle East."

Members of the committee are Morris Blumenthal, Phillip S. Fishman, Henry Gerson, Meyer Glazer, David M. Kaplan, Louis Marcovitz, Mrs. Bernard I. Marcus, David Masur, Saul Mintz, Sam Orchard, Samuel Rubin, Sam Rubin, Jr., I. P. Sandman, Jacob Seligman, David Silverstein, Louis D. Smith, Sam Smith, Sampson Snyder, and Gerald Sugar.

Glittering Party Marks The End Of Social Season

NEW YORK —UP— American socialites and European nobility wound up the most glittering social season since World War II early Saturday by pelting each other with flowers and dancing until dawn at the April in Paris Ball.

In the last major fling of the $100 million Manhattan winter whirl, 1,000 members of the international set jammed the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel for nine hours of dining, dancing and top-notch entertainment. The ballroom was transformed into the Place de la Concorde, in Paris, with flowering trees, a multi-colored fountain and a vista of the Arc de Triomphe.

Even Elsa Maxwell, a member of the ball committee, was flabbergasted by the bejeweled spectacle.

"It's fabulous and all the most beautiful people in the world are here," said Miss Maxwell, who had competing party-giver Perle Mesta as one of her guests. "If only the men would get back to wearing white ties and tails instead of tuxedos, I'd say we have entered a new gilded age."

Miss Maxwell and other ball guests credited "Eisenhower prosperity" for the lavish outpouring of wealth represented at the ball. Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower, honorary chairman of the event, sat it out in the White House but sent a message with "very best wishes for a happy evening."

The ball was a must for New York-Europe commuters. A score of socialites who attended the royal wedding in Monaco Thursday made a rush trip back to New York to attend the ball although only 38 1-2 hours lapsed between events.

Graham Film To Be Shown Here Tonight

"Souls in Conflict," newest film release by Billy Graham Evangelistic Films, Inc., will be shown in Monroe on April 22 at 7:30 p.m. during the evening service of the Central Baptist Church, 3400 Lee Ave. The public is cordially invited.

"Souls in Conflict" was filmed during Graham's world-publicized London Crusade. It is a full feature-length film in color and it is through screen presentations such as the one scheduled for Monroe that the Graham organization anticipates surpassing the success of an earlier film, "Mr. Texas," described as "the world's first Christian Western," which played to more than 5,000,000 persons in its first two years of showings, and to which 135,000 "decisions for Christ" are attributed.

The story of "Souls in Conflict" encompasses the lives of three "typical" individuales, troubled with the present and completely confused about the future. Joan Winmill, star of the British TV thriller, "Epitaph for a Spy," plays an actress; Eric Micklewood and Charles Leno portray a jet pilot and a factory worker, respectively. Their need for a soul-satisfying religious experience is realized when each attends one of Graham's meetings in Harringay Arena, London's vast stadium.

Zone Rally For Lutherans Is Slated Here

The ladies of Trinity Lutheran Church will be hostesses to the Northern Louisiana Zone Rally of the Ladies Missionary League this afternoon and evening.

Guests from Jackson and Vicksburg, Miss., Alexandria and Shreveport, La., will join the ladies of Trinity Lutheran Church on D'Arbonne Ave., in a program of spiritual and social numbers beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Sr., and Mrs. William Hochstetler will receive the registrations from 2:30 to 3:00 o'clock in the chapel. At 3 p.m. a worship-service will be conducted with the local pastor, the Rev. Arthur Betz, as officiant and speaker. The subject of the pastor's discourses will be: "Making Our Life A Blessing to Others." Mrs. Eloy Fominaya will serve as organist. The Misses Mardel Reinhardt, Toni and Susie Hubka will serve as ushers.

Immediately following the service the customary business session will be conducted with Mrs. H. T. Keister and Miss L. Meisenhoelder of Jackson, Miss., serving as chairman and secretary respectively. Mrs. Vincel Hubka, president of the local ladies organization, will welcome the rally guests. Listed as one of the many items on the busy agenda will be the election of officers.

At the conclusion of the business session the ladies of Trinity Church will present a reading depicting the worldwide program as it is being carried on by the National Ladies Missionary League of The Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod. A number of the young ladies of the local congregation will appear in the native garb of the countries in which the Ladies Missionary League is doing extensive work. Mrs. Martin Schempf will present the reading while Mrs. Ed C. Reinhardt and Mrs. Arthur Betz will offer the vocal portions with Mrs. Eloy Fominaya at the piano. The ladies in charge of the program are the Mesdames Vincel Hubka and Arthur Betz.

Following the program an evening meal will be served to all guests in the parish house. The young ladies of the church will serve at the tables. Mrs. Gustave Miller and Mrs. Martin Schempf will be in charge.

The offerings of the National Ladies Missionary League of the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod have been instrumental in erecting many chapels throughout America and the world, and also for the erection of hospitals, sanitaria, and medical dispensaries on wheels in foreign countries.

Billy Graham's Film Will Be On At Central Church

The Central Baptist church will show a film of deep interest, one by Billy Graham, at the 7:30 p.m. meeting of this church Sunday night. Joan Winmill is seen at her best, in "Souls in Conflict."

Scarcely out of her teens, Joan had realized the dream of every young girl — a promising debut and bright prospects for mounting success in the theatre. Plays by and with greats of the theatrical world—Frederick Lonsdale, George Bernard Shaw, Bela Lugosi — had brought outstanding personal press notices. Stardom beckoned, but somewhere uncertainty tempered the joy.

From her early days in Wimbleton, Joan was recognized as a youngster who never did a thoughtless thing. Somewhere along the line she lost this admirable trait. The glitter of the all-new show worked, the never let-up drive toward the top, with its attendant treading on toes, had made the process of thinking it out first a slow-down nuisance and consideration for others a complete bore.

Eventually, blazing ambition took its toll. Joan suffered a series of nervous breakdowns, after the most recent of which she sat down to take stock of the situation. It seems that a long-ago-learned lesson starting, "What doth it profit a man," kept creeping into her consciousness. Soon this was to take a ominous shape as an insistent accuser. It was while in search of the answers to many perplexing questions that Joan one night found herself in Harringay Arena listening to the evangelist, Billy Graham.

What transpired that night only Joan and her counselor, who turned out to be none other than Mrs. Billy Graham herself, will ever know. Cynical acquaintances said Joan "got religion" to get a part in the proposed Graham evangelistic film, "Souls in Conflict." Others figured the persuasive Mr. Graham had caught her at her lowest ebb and more or less mesmerized her with a magic flow of words about a utopian existence in Christian service.

Naturally, this talk could not be kept from Joan. The meaner the insinuations, the more determined the girl became that what she was about to do was right. Long lines before casting offices seemed to trail off into the distance as she stood that eventful night in Harringay, one of the hundreds who "came forward" to openly profess their faith and dedicate their lives.

Here is where the switch in the script comes in. Joan Winmill is perhaps best known for her role as the American girl in the British TV thriller, "Epitath for a Spy" She also portrayed the role of an American millionairess on the stage in "The Chiltern Hundreds." But Joan's acquaintance with Americans and American girls was strictly limited to her work during the war as a secretary with the Canadian Legion Services. The farthest west she had ever ventured was an occasional holiday in Ireland and Scotland.

"Souls in Conflict" was produced for Billy Graham against the backdrop of his London Crusade by Great Commission Films, Hollywood, in association with Anglo-Scottish Pictures, London. Its story is a case history trilogy of three troubled lives, that of the actress and of a jet test pilot and a factory mechanic, played by Eric Mickelwood and Charles Leno, starred with Joan in the production. Dick Ross both wrote and directed the picture.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: Has a Christian any right to go in debt? Does not the Bible tell us to owe no man anything? A. S. L.

ANSWER: I am not sure as to the correct interpretation of the verse to which you refer but it would seem that we are told not to contract debts we cannot meet. In the economic world, of which we are a part, much of business is conducted on a credit basis. This is sound economy and it is also practical common sense. The monthly bills for telephone, water, lights, etc. are an illustration. Or one may buy a home, paying for it over the years in monthly installments. You have the home to enjoy long before you might have had the money to completely pay for it. But, in the event of some dire emergency, those owning the mortgage are protected by the mortgage itself. Our American economy has expanded the principle of buying on credit until it appears at times that it is too easy for people to buy. Because of this some buy more than they can afford and more than they have a reasonable hope of paying for. This is obviously wrong. There is also the inherent danger of buying on credit and later finding ourselves without a job. It would seem that the Christian's duty is to confine his indebtedness strictly so that he always has every reasonable hope of meeting payments when payments are due.

Today's YOUR GUIDING STAR Message:

0. Prov. 16:20. He who gives heed to the word will prosper.
1. Lao Tzu; Blakney: Poem 3. If those who are excellent find no preferment, The people will cease to contend for promotion.
2. Prov. 21:21. He who pursues kindness will find life and honor.
3. Lao Tzu; Blakney: Poem 5. Much talk means exhaustion; Better far it is to keep your thoughts!
4. Rom. 5:19. By one man's obedience many will be made righteous.

Clark Springs Will Have Big Program Held For Sunday

Clark Springs Baptist Church, located near Eros, which has been in existence for no less than seventy years, will have an all-day singing and fellowship meeting on Sunday, April 22.

There will be singing rather than long sermonizing and all are invited to come prepared to sing.

At the noon hour there will be dinner on the grounds, a custom that many little country churches follow each early spring.

All who are interested in a good congregational assemblage are cordially invited to attend.

Sunday Churches

Pictures for the Sunday church page and Sunday church programs should all be in by Thursday noon.

Some have been bringing church notices as late as Friday and even Saturday. It will greatly aid if we can have all these in this office by Thursday noon.

Zone Rally For Lutherans Is Slated Here

The ladies of Trinity Lutheran Church will be hostesses to the Northern Louisiana Zone Rally of the Ladies Missionary League this afternoon and evening.

Guests from Jackson and Vicksburg, Miss., Alexandria and Shreveport, La., will join the ladies of Trinity Lutheran Church on D'Arbonne Ave., in a program of spiritual and social numbers beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Sr., and Mrs. William Hochstetler will receive the registrations from 2:30 to 3:00 o'clock in the chapel. At 3 p.m. a worship-service will be conducted with the local pastor, the Rev. Arthur Betz, as officiant and speaker. The subject of the pastor's discourses will be: "Making Our Life A Blessing to Others." Mrs. Eloy Fominaya will serve as organist. The Misses Mardel Reinhardt, Toni and Susie Hubka will serve as ushers.

Immediately following the service the customary business session will be conducted with Mrs. H. T. Keister and Miss L. Meisenhoelder of Jackson, Miss., serving as chairman and secretary respectively. Mrs. Vincel Hubka, president of the local ladies organization, will welcome the rally guests. Listed as one of the many items on the busy agenda will be the election of officers.

At the conclusion of the business session the ladies of Trinity Church will present a reading depicting the worldwide program as it is being carried on by the National Ladies Missionary League of The Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod. A number of the young ladies of the local congregation will appear in the native garb of the countries in which the Ladies Missionary League is doing extensive work. Mrs. Martin Schempf will present the reading while Mrs. Ed C. Reinhardt and Mrs. Arthur Betz will offer the vocal portions with Mrs. Eloy Fominaya at the piano. The ladies in charge of the program are the Mesdames Vincel Hubka and Arthur Betz.

Following the program an evening meal will be served to all guests in the parish house. The young ladies of the church will serve at the tables. Mrs. Gustave Miller and Mrs. Martin Schempf will be in charge.

The offerings of the National Ladies Missionary League of the Lutheran Church -- Missouri Synod have been instrumental in erecting many chapels throughout America and the world, and also for the erection of hospitals, sanitaria, and medical dispensaries on wheels in foreign countries.

Billy Graham's Film Will Be On At Central Church

The Central Baptist church will show a film of deep interest, one by Billy Graham, at the 7:30 p.m. meeting of this church Sunday night. Joan Winmill is seen at her best, in "Souls in Conflict."

Scarcely out of her teens, Joan had realized the dream of every young girl — a promising debut and bright prospects for mounting success in the theatre. Plays by and with greats of the theatrical world—Frederick Lonsdale, George Bernard Shaw, Bela Lugosi — had brought outstanding personal press notices. Stardom beckoned, but somewhere uncertainty tempered the joy.

From her early days in Wimbleton, Joan was recognized as a youngster who never did a thoughtless thing. Somewhere along the line she lost this admirable trait. The glitter of the all-new show worked, the never let-up drive toward the top, with its attendant treading on toes, had made the process of thinking it out first a slow-down nuisance and consideration for others a complete bore.

Eventually, blazing ambition took its toll. Joan suffered a series of nervous breakdowns, after the most recent of which she sat down to take stock of the situation. It seems that a long-ago-learned lesson starting, "What doth it profit a man," kept creeping into her consciousness. Soon this was to take a ominous shape as an insistent accuser. It was while in search of the answers to many perplexing questions that Joan one night found herself in Harringay Arena listening to the evangelist, Billy Graham.

What transpired that night only Joan and her counselor, who turned out to be none other than Mrs. Billy Graham herself, will ever know. Cynical acquaintances said Joan "got religion" to get a part in the proposed Graham evangelistic film, "Souls in Conflict." Others figured the persuasive Mr. Graham had caught her at her lowest ebb and more or less mesmerized her with a magic flow of words about a utopian existence in Christian service.

Naturally, this talk could not be kept from Joan. The meaner the insinuations, the more determined the girl became that what she was about to do was right. Long lines before casting offices seemed to trail off into the distance as she stood that eventful night in Harringay, one of the hundreds who "came forward" to openly profess their faith and dedicate their lives.

Here is where the switch in the script comes in. Joan Winmill is perhaps best known for her role as the American girl in the British TV thriller, "Epitath for a Spy" She also portrayed the role of an American millionairess on the stage in "The Chiltern Hundreds." But Joan's acquaintance with Americans and American girls was strictly limited to her work during the war as a secretary with the Canadian Legion Services. The farthest west she had ever ventured was an occasional holiday in Ireland and Scotland.

"Souls in Conflict" was produced for Billy Graham against the backdrop of his London Crusade by Great Commission Films, Hollywood, in association with Anglo-Scottish Pictures, London. Its story is a case history trilogy of three troubled lives, that of the actress and of a jet test pilot and a factory mechanic, played by Eric Mickelwood and Charles Leno, starred with Joan in the production. Dick Ross both wrote and directed the picture.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: Has a Christian any right to go in debt? Does not the Bible tell us to owe no man anything? A. S. L.

ANSWER: I am not sure as to the correct interpretation of the verse to which you refer but it would seem that we are told not to contract debts we cannot meet. In the economic world, of which we are a part, much of business is conducted on a credit basis. This is sound economy and it is also practical common sense. The monthly bills for telephone, water, lights, etc. are an illustration. Or one may buy a home, paying for it over the years in monthly installments. You have the home to enjoy long before you might have had the money to completely pay for it. But, in the event of some dire emergency, those owning the mortgage are protected by the mortgage itself. Our American economy has expanded the principle of buying on credit until it appears at times that it is too easy for people to buy. Because of this some buy more than they can afford and more than they have a reasonable hope of paying for. This is obviously wrong. There is also the inherent danger of buying on credit and later finding ourselves without a job. It would seem that the Christian's duty is to confine his indebtedness strictly so that he always has every reasonable hope of meeting payments when payments are due.

Today's YOUR GUIDING STAR Message:

0. Prov. 16:20. He who gives heed to the word will prosper.
1. Lao Tzu: Blakney: Poem 3. If those who are excellent find no preferment, The people will cease to contend for promotion.
2. Prov. 21:21. He who pursues kindness will find life and honor.
3. Lao Tzu; Blakney: Poem 5. Much talk means exhaustion; Better far it is to keep your thoughts!
4. Rom. 5:19. By one man's obedience many will be made righteous.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
No. 2 at Auburn

"Probation After Death" is the subject of the lesson - sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, April 22, 1956.
The golden text is: "God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us by his own Power." (1 Cor. 6:14).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson - sermon is the following from the Bible: "Yea, though I walk through the ay of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me" (Ps. 23:4).
The lesson - sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Death is not a stepping - stone to Life, immortality, and bliss." (203).

Thompson (above) will bring messages at Trinity Baptist Church revival starting today and lasting through April 29 with services at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Trinity church is at 214 Reagan street, West Monroe, and Rev. H. J. Mott is pastor. Reverend Thompson is pastor of Highland Park Baptist church.

Clark Springs Will Have Big Program Held For Sunday

Clark Springs Baptist Church, located near Eros, which has been in existence for no less than seventy years, will have an all-day singing and fellowship meeting on Sunday, April 22.

There will be singing rather than long sermonizing and all are invited to come prepared to sing.

At the noon hour there will be dinner on the grounds, a custom that many little country churches follow each early spring.

All who are interested in a good congregational assemblage are cordially invited to attend.

THE HOME SHIFT—

Grow Mum Plants From Cuttings

It's mighty fine getting back home. The trip was marvelous and, believe me, I learned lots. Spring has almost left us. Everything has taken on the summer color. Two weeks can make a big difference in Nature's colors.

Gardening

Soon you'll be putting out your chrysanthemums. May is not too late, in fact, is an excellent time. We set mum plants late to shorten their growing season, so they won't become unmanageable. Growing the plant from cuttings is recommended because they are less likely to be diseased than those from dividing old plants. Cuttings are supposed to make more vigorous plants, too. Prepare the beds before planting mums: That means deep spading, incorporating humus, adding some 5-10-5 — then allowing the bed to set for at least two weeks. So — it's time to do that job, now. Chrysanthemums like a well drained soil and full sun when they begin growing, pinch out the tops to induce business. Stop pinching by August 1. Buds are forming after that. Malathion is recommended for leafhoppers, aphids and spider mites on mums. There is no known cure for a wilt that causes the lower leaves to turn brown. Plants grown from cuttings seem to be less effected by it. Sulphur dusting helps prevent leaf spot.

Don't forget to put out a few plants of Princess Feather if you are a flower arranger. They come in tall and dwarf and colors of red and yellow.

Many gardeners are trying to find paper plants. If you have extra plants coming up in your garden, pass them on. The very large leaf makes interesting variation in foliage during the summer months. The fall bloom is lovely and dries well.

The Bridal Wreath and Primrose Jasmine are our latest shrubs to cease blooming. Now they'll need pruning, cutting out the oldest wood down close to the ground. Mock Orange, Deutzia and Weigella will need the same type pruning.

The real tulip tree should be in bloom now. Peggy Garnett (1606 North Second, Monroe; has a tree in her front yard. The blooms are showey in an arrangement or in corsages, but difficult to see in the tree. Their color is so near the color of the leaves.

Riding around the Twin Cities, I haven't seen any women gardeners look like those in the picture books — the big, beautiful floppy garden hats, immaculate white gloves, etc. Most gardeners go in for comfort. Gardening is one of the few activities that can be arranged to fit each individuals physical resources. Whatever is good or bad for you is good or bad for your garden. It's bod for you and your garden to work under blazing sun, or in wet weather. It's good for you and your garden to work in the cool of the morning or evening. So—always limit your activities to periods when it's most comfortable to be out-of-doors.

Position as well as atire is important when you're digging. Squatting may cause extreme muscular strain and bending may cause dizziness. Kneeling and sitting are usually the most comfortable positions to work in. Why not invest in a foam rubber pad to cushion your knees and insulate against dampness? It's good for sitting comfort, use an old foot stool with a board nailed across the bottom so that the legs don't dig in the grund.

Food In The News

Dairy products head the plentiful foods list for April — milk, butter, cheese and ice cream are all in bountiful supply and lend themselves to an infinite variety of uses. Housewives can find a place for dairy foods in every course from soup to dessert.

Cheese, which the ancient Greeks described as "food for the gods," is in heavy supply, some 437 million pounds in cold storage. American housewives can help to channel that surplus into normal trade by using more cheese now. When you buy that cheese and take it to your kitchen, keep it under refrigeration in the original wrapping or in foil or waxed paper. Soft cheeses are perishable, but can be kept for several days in tightly covered containers. Cut off any mold that appears on hard cheese. The cheese underneath is perfectly good. Serve most cheeses at room temperature for best flavor.

After milk cartons or bottles are wiped off with a damp, clean cloth, they should be placed immediately in the refrigerator, since light destroys some of the vitamins. Keep the milk containers covered at all times. Refrigerator odors easily creep in when milk is left uncovered.

Butter should be left wrapped in its package or in a covered container in the refrigerator. Ice cream may be stored in the tons in the home freezer or fr food compartment of the refrigerator. For a short time, ice cream may be stored in the ice cube compartment in a refrigerator tray covered with foil or waxed paper.

Apples, canned green beans, fryers, oranges, grapefruit, cabbage, celery, lettuce, carrots, potatoes, onions, rice, peanut butter along with pork and beef are your foods in plentiful supply for April and May.

Announcements

Your Open House Shows for next week are as follows: Monday, Lola Caldwell will show you how to clean and oil your sewing machine; Tuesday, Irene Turner, Associate Extension nutritionist, from L. S. U. will bring you some fine food preparation; Wednesday, Mary Margaret will bring the blue ribbon flower arrangements and we will do some gardening; Thursday we'll have decorating hints with photographs; Friday is marketing and food preparation day with Mildred and Mammy.

NOTED FLOWER arranger to teach in Ruston—Mrs. Ione Talbert, Fort Worth, Tex., will teach Flower Arranging in Flower Show School IV to be held in Ruston, Louisiana Tech Campus, on April 25 and 26. Mrs. Talbert is well known throughout the Southern States for her beautiful flower arrangement demonstrations and lectures. (Photo by Greg Hare.)

Flower School To Be Held In Ruston This Week

Flower Show School IV, sponsored by the Fifth District Louisiana Garden Club Federation will be held April 25, 26 and May 3, 1956 in the Agriculture Building, Louisiana Tech, Ruston, according to the announcement of John A. Wright, chairman of the school.

Flower arrangement will be taught by Mrs. Ione Talbert of Fort Worth, Tex. Mrs. Talbert's work is becoming widely known in this area and those who attended School III were anxious to have her back again.

Horticulture and flower show practice will be taught by Mrs. Walter Colquitt of Shreveport. Mrs. Colquitt is one of the finest practicing gardeners in our state and winner of the Travel Foundation Award for 1954 as the "Woman who had done the most for American horticulture."

Registration for the school begins at 8:00 a.m. April 25, with classes in Flower Show Practice starting at 8:30, 9:30 to 11:30 the study of judging standards and bulbous plants. Demonstration judging and little flower show from 12 to 2 p.m.

2:00 to 4:00 p.m., A special arrangement demonstration by Mrs. Talbert. There will be additional exhibits by judges of the Fifth District. Auditorium Fee, $1.00.

May 3, 9:00 a.m. to finish, Examination.

Any person wishing to audit the course or any part of it may do so by paying a pro rata share of the nominal fee. Remember, this course is valuable to all persons interested in growing or arranging flowers.

Enroll now and begin to study in order to promote more beauty and enjoyment in our daily lives.

Garden Center Notes

First Place To Mrs. Adams In Flower Show

The Caldwell Parish Garden Club presented the flower show at the Garden Center this week. An accredited judge point scored the exhibits. In the horticulture section blue ribbons were awarded as follows: Mrs. L. R. Adams, Sr. for polyantha rose, and for yellow daffodils. Mrs. Mattie Calton for Pink Stock.

In the arrangement section Mrs. L. R. Adams, Sr. was awarded first place. Mrs. Adams chose a compote, light green in color, for her container. The arrangement was a line-mass design of Pink Radiance Roses with self foliage. The design was outlined with rosebuds on long stems gradually working down to more open roses which were massed in the center. The color combination very lovely.

Second place award went to Mrs. R. L. McDaniel. A soft gray rectangular container was used for the line-mass arrangement of iris in complementary colors of yellow and violet. Buds and blooms of the yellow iris were placed at the top with violet iris at the base. The color harmony most pleasing.

Mrs. Mattie Calton was awarded third place. A rectangular bowl of shaded green was used for the mass design of beautiful purple iris and self foliage.

It's iris time again and we have many fine iris growers in this area. You are cordially invited to visit all these gardens. The gardens should be at the peak of their bloom this week. Mrs. W. R. Gates, 404 Linderman Ave., West Monroe, Mr. G. B. Folds, 2607 Swiss St. West Monroe, Mrs. Kent Womack, 1111 South 1st St., Monroe, Mrs. Georgia Williams, 3800 Lee Avenue, Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hipp, Calhoun and Mr. M. T. Young, 800 S. Lincoln St., Tallulah. Be sure to visit also the Sidney L. Conger Gardens in Arcadia They specialize in Louisiana Native Iris. Sidney won a number of awards in the recent Native Iris Show in Lafayette.

The American Hemerocallis Society, Region 13, will hold their annual meeting on May 19 and 20 in Baton Rouge. Headquarters for the convention is the Bellemont Hotel in Baton Rouge. If you are interested in daylilies and not already a member, why don't you join the society? The dues are small and the benefits very great.

If you attend the meeting in Baton Rouge you will have an opportunity to see some of the very newest day lilies from hybridizers all over the country. However, there are probably more good hybridizers of good daylilies in the Baton Rouge area than any other place in the United States. The way to select daylilies for your own garden is to see them in bloom in your own locality.

Don't forget Flower Show School IV on April 25 and 26 in Ruston.

You are invited to attend the Iris Garden Club's Flower Show at the Delhi Country Club on Wednesday May 2, from 4:00 p.m. till 7:00 p.m. Theme "Television Interpretations".

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

Bermudagrass Is Best In Hot Clime

It is risky business to plant seeds of Bermudagrass before really hot weather comes around. This grass just will not come up while the soil is the least bit cool. Even if a few days of hot weather do cause it to sprout, you will not save much time by plantig it early, because the plants from seed planted in hot weather grow very rapidly.

Before you consider planting seeds of Bermudagrass, it would be well to look into the possibility of planting sprigs instead of seed, and certainly it is worthwhile to get one of the new varieties of Bermudagrass produced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture Experiment Station at Tifton, Ga. If your area is too large to plant with sprigs, then be sure you buy what is called "hulled" Bermudagrass seed. Unhulled seeds take forever to come up and frequently do not ever come at all. It seems incredible that anything as tiny as this kind of grass seed could be "hulled" by any known process, but the marvelous mind of man has done it!

Bermudagrass does not set and seed in the southeastern United States, but in certain localities in the West it does produce seed. All of the seed we get is from these places. Those seed heads that you have to mow when you let the lawn get a little long in late summer are full of seeds, but they will not come up.

Bermudagrass is a tough, wear resistant old grass that was introduced into this country early in the last century. If you do not already have it in your lawn, it might be well to consider centipedegrass in its place. Centipedegrass will tolerate considerable shade. It looks better when left unmowed than Bermudagrass, and it is a greener species. Recently, seed has become available of centipedegrass. It grows easily from sprigs, of course, and will grow into a lawn in a few months from sprigs.

Both of these creeping grasses will eventually make a thick mat of dead grass through which the new runners cannot penetrate. When the turf gets to this stage, you can run a disk harrow over it, scatter a sprinkling of dry soil and fertilizer and water heavily if summer rains do not fall. In two or three weeks, you will have a new lawn without plowing up the surface. Under ordinary conditions, lawns of these two grasses will not need revamping by this process more often than about every five years.

6 Music Students To Give Recitals

RUSTON, April 21 —(Special)— Six Louisiana Tech music students will be presented in a piano recital Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Little Theater, it has been announced by L.V.E. Irvine, head of the music department.

All students of Duchein Cazedessus of the music faculty, those on the program will be Mary Stewart, Minden; Nelda Richardson, Doyline; Betty McDonald, Heflin; Sue Hayden, Eudora, Ark.; Ann Stewart, Many; and Beth Dawkins, Farmerville.

Grow Mum Plants From Cuttings

It's mighty fine getting back home. The trip was marvelous and, believe me, I learned lots. Spring has almost left us. Everything has taken on the summer color. Two weeks can make a big difference in Nature's colors.

Gardening

Soon you'll be putting out your chrysanthemums. May is not too late, in fact, is an excellent time. We set mum plants late to shorten their growing season, so they won't become unmanageable. Growing the plant from cuttings is recommended because they are less likely to be diseased than those from dividing old plants. Cuttings are supposed to make more vigorous plants, too. Prepare the beds before planting mums: That means deep spading, incorporating humus, adding some 5-10-5 — then allowing the bed to set for at least two weeks. So — it's time to do that job, now. Chrysanthemums like a well drained soil and full sun when they begin growing, pinch out the tops to induce business. Stop pinching by August 1. Buds are forming after that. Malathion is recommended for leafhoppers, aphids and spider mites on mums. There is no known cure for a wilt that causes the lower leaves to turn brown. Plants grown from cuttings seem to be less effected by it. Sulphur dusting helps prevent leaf spot.

Don't forget to put out a few plants of Princess Feather if you are a flower arranger. They come in tall and dwarf and colors of red and yellow.

Many gardeners are trying to find paper plants. If you have extra plants coming up in your garden, pass them on. The very large leaf makes interesting variation in foliage during the summer months. The fall bloom is lovely and dries well.

The Bridal Wreath and Primrose Jasmine are our latest shrubs to cease blooming. Now they'll need pruning, cutting out the oldest wood down close to the ground. Mock Orange, Deutzia and Weigelia will need the same type pruning.

The real tulip tree should be in bloom now. Peggy Garnett (1606 North Second, Monroe; has a tree in her front yard. The blooms are showey in an arrangement or in corsages, but difficult to see in the tree. Their color is so near the color of the leaves.

Riding around the Twin Cities, I haven't seen any women gardeners look like those in the picture books — the big, beautiful floppy garden hats, immaculate white gloves, etc. Most gardeners go in for comfort. Gardening is one of the few activities that can be arranged to fit each individuals physical resources. Whatever is good or bad for you is good or bad for your garden. It's bod for you and your garden to work under blazing sun, or in wet weather. It's good for you and your garden to work in the cool of the morning or evening. So—always limit your activities to periods when it's most comfortable to be out-of-doors.

Position as well as atire is important when you're digging. Squatting may cause extreme muscular strain and bending may cause dizziness. Kneeling and sitting are usually the most comfortable positions to work in. Why not invest in a foam rubber pad to cushion your knees and insulate against dampness? It's good for sitting comfort, use an old foot stool with a board nailed across the bottom so that the legs don't dig in the grund.

Food In The News

Dairy products head the plentiful foods list for April — milk, butter, cheese and ice cream are all in bountiful supply and lend themselves to an infinite variety of uses. Housewives can find a place for dairy foods in every course from soup to dessert.

Cheese, which the ancient Greeks described as "food for the gods," is in heavy supply, some 437 million pounds in cold storage. American housewives can help to channel that surplus into normal trade by using more cheese now. When you buy that cheese and take it to your kitchen, keep it under refrigeration in the original wrapping or in foil or waxed paper. Soft cheeses are perishable, but can be kept for several days in tightly covered containers. Cut off any mold that appears on hard cheese. The cheese underneath is perfectly good. Serve most cheeses at room temperature for best flavor.

After milk cartons or bottles are wiped off with a damp, clean cloth, they should be placed immediately in the refrigerator, since light destroys some of the vitamins. Keep the milk containers covered at all times. Refrigerator odors easily creep in when milk is left uncovered.

Butter should be left wrapped in its package or in a covered container in the refrigerator. Ice cream may be stored in the cartons in the home freezer or frozen food compartment of the refrigerator. For a short time, ice cream may be stored in the ice cube compartment in a refrigerator tray covered with foil or waxed paper.

Apples, canned green beans, fryers, oranges, grapefruit, cabbage, celery, lettuce, carrots, potatoes, onions, rice, peanut butter along with pork and beef are your foods in plentiful supply for April and May.

Announcements

Your Open House Shows for next week are as follows: Monday, Lola Caldwell will show you how to clean and oil your sewing machine; Tuesday, Irene Turner, Associate Extension nutritionist, from L. S. U. will bring you some fine food preparation; Wednesday, Mary Margaret will bring the blue ribbon flower arrangements and we will do some gardening; Thursday we'll have decorating hints with photographs; Friday is marketing and food preparation day with Mildred and Mammy.

NOTED FLOWER arranger to teach in Ruston—Mrs. Ione Talbert, Fort Worth, Tex., will teach Flower Arranging in Flower Show School IV to be held in Ruston, Louisiana Tech Campus, on April 25 and 26. Mrs. Talbert is well known throughout the Southern States for her beautiful flower arrangement demonstrations and lectures. (Photo by Creg Hare.)

Flower School To Be Held In Ruston This Week

Flower Show School IV, sponsored by the Fifth District Louisiana Garden Club Federation will be held April 25, 26 and May 3, 1956 in the Agriculture Building, Louisiana Tech, Ruston, according to the announcement of John A. Wright, chairman of the school.

Flower arrangement will be taught by Mrs. Ione Talbert of Fort Worth, Tex. Mrs. Talbert's work is becoming widely known in this area and those who attended School III were anxious to have her back again.

Horticulture and flower show practice will be taught by Mrs. Walter Colquitt of Shreveport. Mrs. Colquitt is one of the finest practicing gardeners in our state and winner of the Travel Foundation Award for 1954 as the "Woman who had done the most for American horticulture."

Registration for the school begins at 8:00 a.m. April 25, with classes in Flower Show Practice starting at 8:30, 9:30 to 11:30 the study of judging standards and bulbous plants. Demonstration judging and little flower show from 12 to 2 p.m.

First Place To Mrs. Adams In Flower Show

The Caldwell Parish Garden Club presented the flower show at the Garden Center this week. An accredited judge point scored the exhibits. In the horticulture section blue ribbons were awarded as follows: Mrs. L. R. Adams, Sr. for polyantha rose, and for yellow daffodils. Mrs. Mattie Calton for Pink Stock.

In the arrangement section Mrs. L. R. Adams, Sr. was awarded first place. Mrs. Adams chose a compote, light green in color, for her container. The arrangement was a line-mass design of Pink Radiance Roses with self foliage. The design was outlined with rosebuds on long stems gradually working down to more open roses which were massed in the center. The color combination very lovely.

Second place award went to Mrs. R. L. McDaniel. A soft gray rectangular container was used for the line-mass arrangement of iris in complementary colors of yellow and violet. Buds and blooms of the yellow iris were placed at the top with violet iris at the base. The color harmony most pleasing.

Mrs. Mattie Calton was awarded third place. A rectangular bowl of shaded green was used for the mass design of beautiful purple iris and self foliage.

It's iris time again and we have many fine iris growers in this area. You are cordially invited to visit all these gardens. The gardens should be at the peak of their bloom this week. Mrs. W. R. Gates, 404 Linderman Ave., West Monroe, Mr. G. B. Folds, 2607 Swiss St. West Monroe, Mrs. Kent Womack, 1111 South 1st St., Monroe, Mrs. Georgia Williams, 3800 Lee Avenue, Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hipp, Calhoun and Mr. M. T. Young, 800 S. Lincoln St., Tallulah. Be sure to visit also the Sidney L. Conger Gardens in Arcadia They specialize in Louisiana Native Iris. Sidney won a number of awards in the recent Native Iris Show in Lafayette.

The American Hemerocallis Society, Region 13, will hold their annual meeting on May 19 and 20 in Baton Rouge. Headquarters for the convention is the Bellemont Hotel in Baton Rouge. If you are interested in daylilies and not already a member, why don't you join the society? The dues are small and the benefits very great.

If you attend the meeting in Baton Rouge you will have an opportunity to see some of the very newest day lilies from hybridizers all over the country. However, there are probably more good hybridizers of good daylilies in the Baton Rouge area than any other place in the United States. The way to select daylilies for your own garden is to see them in bloom in your own locality.

Don't forget Flower Show School IV on April 25 and 26 in Ruston.

You are invited to attend the Iris Garden Club's Flower Show at the Delhi Country Club on Wednesday May 2, from 4:00 p.m. till 7:00 p.m. Theme "Television Interpretations".

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

Bermudagrass Is Best In Hot Clime

It is risky business to plant seeds of Bermudagrass before really hot weather comes around. This grass just will not come up while the soil is the least bit cool. Even if a few days of hot weather do cause it to sprout, you will not save much time by plantig it early, because the plants from seed planted in hot weather grow very rapidly.

Before you consider planting seeds of Bermudagrass, it would be well to look into the possibility of planting sprigs instead of seed, and certainly it is worthwhile to get one of the new varieties of Bermudagrass produced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture Experiment Station at Tifton, Ga. If your area is too large to plant with sprigs, then be sure you buy what is called "hulled" Bermudagrass seed. Unhulled seeds take forever to come up and frequently do not ever come at all. It seems incredible that anything as tiny as this kind of grass seed could be "hulled" by any known process, but the marvelous mind of man has done it!

Bermudagrass does not set and seed in the southeastern United States, but in certain localities in the West it does produce seed. All of the seed we get is from these places. Those seed heads that you have to mow when you let the lawn get a little long in late summer are full of seeds, but they will not come up.

Bermudagrass is a tough, wear resistant old grass that was introduced into this country early in the last century. If you do not already have it in your lawn, it might be well to consider centipedegrass in its place. Centipedegrass will tolerate considerable shade. It looks better when left unmowed than Bermudagrass, and it is a greener species. Recently, seed has become available of centipedegrass. It grows easily from sprigs, of course, and will grow into a lawn in a few months from sprigs.

Both of these creeping grasses will eventually make a thick mat of dead grass through which the new runners cannot penetrate. When the turf gets to this stage, you can run a disk harrow over it, scatter a sprinkling of dry soil and fertilizer and water heavily if summer rains do not fall. In two or three weeks, you will have a new lawn without plowing up the surface. Under ordinary conditions, lawns of these two grasses will not need revamping by this process more often than about every five years.

The bidding:

South, 1 heart; West, Pass; North, 2 diamonds; East, Pass.

South, 4 diamonds; West, Pass; North, 4 hearts; East, Pass.

South, 6 hearts; West, Pass; North, Pass; East, Pass.

The technique of the opening lead cannot be successfully employed unless the defender pays strict attention to the bidding. Players should early form the habit of, beginning to count the opponents' hands, as far as possible, while the bidding is in progress. This is a habit not easy for many players to form, but when acquired, will produce extremely gratifying results.

As an example: If south bid hearts first and then spades, stop and take a mental note. He probably has five hearts and four spades (on the nardonable assumption that he has some idea as to what's going on). If North now supports the four card spade suit, make a mental note: He very likely had four of that suit, etc., etc.

Today's hand is a striking example. Against the slam contract of six hearts, the "on the surface lead" would be the king of spades. In the hope of building up a trick before the ace of trumps was dislodged. However attention to the bidding will show that a better lead is available. Unless North and South are completely out in left field, one of them has a singleton spade, and a trick in that suit is probably not a bright prospect.

Since North's first take-out was two diamonds, he should have at least four of that suit. South's jump to four diamonds shows a minimum of four, which, added to West's four, leaves a maximum of one diamond for East. With a diamond lead therefore East was eventually given a ruff when West regained the lead with the ace of trumps.

As the cards were, a contract of six diamonds could not have been defeated. But against a spade opening, North will have an anxious moment. When East fails to follow on the second round of trumps, declarer must discontinue diamonds in order to drive out the ace of hearts. Note that, if East held the ace of hearts, he could, by refusing the first lead of that suit, arrange to give his partner a ruff of the third round, since declarer would be nebbish to draw trumps until the ace of hearts was out of the way.

FEET FIRST is a new angle of a kitten's feeding by Walter Chandoha. It appears in "The Complete Book of Cats."

Pictures Of Cats

"You'd think that with the one or more than 10,000 pictures of cats," Chandoha said, "that I had covered the subject fully and could fill any request.

"Well, somebody wanted a picture of a kitten with its paws in a pan of milk, while lapping it up. It sounded simple. I looked through hundreds of pictures of kittens eating but there were none with the paw, real snack in the dish as requested. I had to shoot some more.

"So I tried to anticipate what sort of shots publishers or advertisers might want in the future and came up with a list about a mile long. I figure if I live to be about 150 and keep shooting until then, I may cover the field."

Well, that's one expert's opinion and he should know. Now to get you started and bitten at home, here are a few general hints in shooting pets from Chandoha:

Since pets are usually small, it's important to get as close as possible. Work at the minimum distance of five or six feet or get a close-up attachment to slip over your lens to come closer.

Keep the animal sleeping, playing or eating in bright and focus on a certain small area instead of chasing the pet around. You can set up a shooting space on a small table, couch or chair or in a corner and entice him to the spot with a favorite plaything or bit of food.

Keep background simple by draping a one-tone blanket over furniture and backgrounds. Pastel shades are good for color pictures, too.

Shoot from the pet's level to keep the picture in perspective.

You can use sudden strange noises to perk up the pet's attention for a split second of shooting. Ring the bell, sing, cluck like a hen, snap your fingers, crumple some cellophane from a cigarette pack or do other silly effects and you may be rewarded with some amusing facial expressions or action.

For sports or musical action pictures, attempt to climb to a pet or human's eye-level to a point of interest. A neighbor's trapeze, a tumbler's perch, bed for you or for the cat, a chair or table for the pet to stand on—all help. Food is usually a powerful attraction for pets and makes for cute pictures. Dab the food on a finger, put out of the kitty. By Ken Reynolds.

SIR WINSTON CHURCHILL

A HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH-SPEAKING PEOPLES: Vol. I: THE BIRTH OF BRITAIN. By Winston S. Churchill. Dodd, Mead. Churchill's long-planned history begins with Caesar, withdraws briefly to the still more remote past, comes down in these 500 pages to the end of the 15th century.

Here were three Roman centuries when Britons, says Churchill, had it better than ever before or since. Then came invaders, like the Vikings in their shallow-draft boats. Alfred, Athelstan and Canute; William the Conqueror; Harry Plantagenet, Richard the Lion-Hearted, Runnymede and Magna Carta; Bannockburn and Edwards Edward III and Crecy; Henry V and Agincourt.

Churchill is concerned with the events of law, the spread of liberty, the interesting checks on the power of nobles and kings. He says little about the common people, and to a degree this is a history of kings, courts, Parliaments, judges and generals, a history of the great exclusively. This lacks the irresistible urgency of Churchill's World War II history, but is fond-comey, vigorously told and deserves the popularity which the author's renown will surely win for it.

SAVBOLA. By Winston S. Churchill. Random House.

Sir Winston's only novel has a good deal about a lot of love and not much of a lot of politics. The hero overlarous, a tyrant, and gets nothing for his pains. Almost 60 years old, the story is a fascinating reassurance that Sir Winston chose for himself the right career.

A theme song for "Frontier," NBC is being composed by Alex North, who has composed the scores for a number of prominent motion pictures.

Jackie Gleason's writing staff is back at the grindstone preparing for next season while the master is still on his around-America vacation. Scripts have to be prepared far in advance of filming the next series which is scheduled to start in mid-August.

Ed Sullivan will miss his April 29 show for which Eve Arden will do the hosting honors. He's off after the April 22 show to scout talent in Japan.

Ethel Merman makes her second dramatic appearance on TV May 9 in an original TV play called "Honest in the Rain." She plays a gambling woman for "U. S. Steel Hour" on CBS.

"Omnibus" will spend its fifth season, beginning next fall, on the ABC network. It will get a "prime time" on Sunday night instead of the Sunday afternoon 90 minutes it has occupied in its four years at CBS.

STAMPS

Hats off to FIPEX! The Fifth International Philatelic Exhibition will be the greatest stamp show ever held in the United States.

This philatelic event will open the new Coliseum in New York City April 28. It continues until May 6.

Most of the free nations of the world invited by the U.S. State Department will participate in FIPEX.

Of special interest to collectors of U.S. stamps will be the issuance of four different postal items with first day covers available both at the New York City post office and at the Coliseum.

The covers postmarked at the Coliseum will bear the FIPEX cancellation.

On the opening day, April 28, the 11-cent FIPEX souvenir sheet will be placed on sale. It will consist of the 8-cent red and blue and the 3-cent purple Statue of Liberty stamps. The sheets will be mounted in a folder with an inscription honoring FIPEX and showing a facsimile of Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield's signature.

April 30 will be the first day for the 3-cent FIPEX commemorative. May 2 will feature the 6-cent embossed air mail envelope. May 4 will have the special issuance of the 2-cent post card bearing a triangular stamp of the Statue of Liberty.

More people are expected to view the stamp exhibition at the Coliseum than any other philatelic event in the world. The previous high as in 1947 for CIPEX, the 100th anniversary of the first U.S. postage stamp, when 200,000 attended. FIPEX officials believe at least 400,000 will see the 1956 event.

President Eisenhower gave his official blessings to the show when he said: "By this exhibition (FIPEX) the dramatic story of modern communications, uniting all nations of the world by their postal systems, is vividly told. Those who have sponsored the exhibit, those who support it, and those who attend it, . . my best wishes to all of them."

Despite the excitement and furore of a royal wedding and special stamps commemorating the occasion, Monaco continues its prolific stamp issuing program. Three separate sets have arrived in this country.

One set of two is for the Olympic Games. The 15 franc depicts a scene at the winter games held in Cortina D'Ampezzo, Italy. The 30 fr orange shows modern athletes and ancient Greek athletes in action. A view of the stadium in Melbourne, Australia is in the center.

Another set of one stamp hails the motor car race from Glasgow, Scotland to Monte Carlo. The third set is an overprint of a previously issued set of perforated triangles with new values.

Fiesta Of Five Flags

PENSACOLA, Fla., Apr. 21 —A new summer tourist season, expected to be the best ever on the Gulf Coast, will be officially launched at Pensacola on May 2, 3, 4 and 5 when the city celebrates the seventh annual Fiesta of Five Flags with participants from six southeastern states.

Sports events, a beauty pageant and a square-dancing championship will draw most of the out-of-state participants — but a Pan-American phase of the Fiesta will draw top-rate diplomats from at least three Latin American countries.

The Fiesta commemorates Pensacola's history under the flags of Spain, France, England, the Confederacy and the United States. It is marked by parades and pageantry portray highlights of this history, the principal event being an re-enactment of the landing of Don Tristan de Luna, a Spanish colonizer who landed here with about 2,500 settlers on August 14, 1559. De Luna's colony was abandoned after two years, and Pensacola was not permanently settled until 1696.

Range archery, pistol, softball and speedboat championships will be among the sports events.

TAMPA — An 8,000 foot long fishing sidewalk under the new Gandy Bridge span across Tampa Bay between Tampa and St. Petersburg opens one of the finest sections of fishing waters in the bay to walking fishermen.

The $120,000 catwalk, built as a part of the new $2,600,000 Gandy Bridge span, extends 2,000 feet out into the bay from each end of the bridge and is built on both sides of the span so fishermen can fish with the incoming or outgoing tides.

The new fishing facility is of special interest to Tarpon fishermen who will compete for more than $10,000 in prizes in the Ninth Annual Tampa Tarpon Tournament June 16 through August 12. Tampa Bay waters around the Gandy Bridge are widely known for a heavy population of "Silver Kings"

GRANDPA JONES—The Monroe-West Monroe Jaycees will sponsor a "Grand Ole Opry" next Wednesday night at the West Monroe High School auditorium from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Appearing with Grandpa Jones will be his dog, grandchildren and Ferlin Husky and his Hushpuppies, Cowboy Copas, Max Weisman and Simon Crum of Opry fame.

The bidding:

South, 1 heart; West, Pass; North, 2 diamonds; East, Pass.

South, 6 hearts; West, Pass; North, Pass; East, Pass.

The technique of the opening lead cannot be successfully employed unless the defender pays strict attention to the bidding. Players should early form the habit of beginning to count the opponents' hands, as far as possible, while the bidding is in progress. This is a habit not easy for many players to form, but when acquired, will produce extremely gratifying results.

As an example: If South bid hearts first and then spades, stop and take a mental note: He probably has five hearts and four spades (on the pardonable assumption that he has some idea as to what's going on). If North now supports the four card spade suit, make a mental note: He very likely had four of that suit, etc., etc.

Today's hand is a striking example. Against the slam contract of six hearts, the "on the surface lead" would be the king of spades, in the hope of building up a trick before the ace of trumps was dislodged. However, attention to the bidding will show that a better lead is available. Unless North and South are completely out in left field, one of them has a singleton spade, and a trick in that suit is probably not a bright prospect.

Since North's first take-out was two diamonds, he should have at least four of that suit. South's jump to four diamonds shows a minimum of four, which, added to West's four, leaves a maximum of one diamond for East. With a diamond lead, therefore, East was eventually given a ruff when West regained the lead with the ace of trumps.

As the cards were, a contract of six diamonds could not have been defeated. But against a spade opening, North will have an anxious moment. When East fails to follow on the second round of trumps, declarer must discontinue diamonds in order to drive out the ace of hearts. Note that, if East held the ace of hearts, he could, by refusing the first lead of that suit, arrange to give his partner a ruff of the third round, since declarer would be helpless to draw trumps until the ace of hearts was out of the way.

CAMERA NEWS

FEET FIRST is a new angle of a kitten's feeding by Water Chandoha. It appears in "The Complete Book of Cats."

Pictures Of Cats

"You'd think that with a file of more than 10,000 pictures of cats," Chandoha said, "that I had covered the subject fully and could fill any request.

"Well, somebody wanted a picture of a kitten with its paws in a pan of milk while lapping it up. It sounded simple. I looked through hundreds of pictures of kittens eating but there were none with the paws right smack in the dish as requested. I had to shoot some more.

"So I tried to anticipate what sort of shots publishers or advertisers might want in the future and came up with a list about a mile long. I figure if I live to be about 150 and keep shooting until then, I may cover the field."

Well, that's one expert's opinion and he should know. Now to get you started and busy at home, here are a few general hints in shooting pets from Chandoha:

Since pets are usually small, it's important to get as close as possible. Work at the minimum distance of five or six feet or get a close-up attachment to slip over your lens to come closer.

Know the animal's sleeping, playing or eating habits and focus on a certain small area instead of chasing the pet around. You can rig up a shooting space on a small table, couch or chair or in a corner and entice him to the spot with a favorite plaything or bit of food.

Keep backgrounds simple by draping a one-tone blanket over furniture and backgrounds. Pastel shades are good for color pictures too.

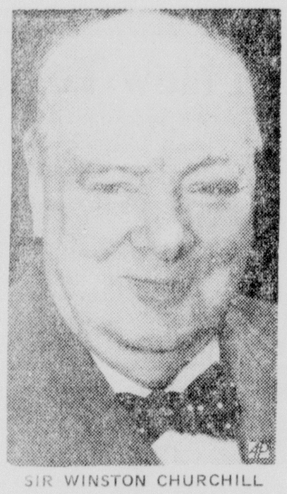
Shoot from the pet's level to keep the picture in perspective.

You can use sudden strange sounds to perk up the pet's attention at the instant of shooting. Whistle, bark, sing, cluck like a hen, snap your fingers, crumple some cellophane from a cigarette pack or try other sound effects and you may be rewarded with some unusual animal expressions or action.

For spontaneous, natural action pictures, introduce a child to a pet or borrow a neighbor's strange animal. If difficulties arise, let the youngster feed the pet a bit or let the two animals feed out of the same dish. Food is generally a universal peacemaker . . . and makes for good pictures too. Dangle some food on a string just out of picture range for action or attention.

Wherever possible, flash should be off the camera to provide light at a 45 degree angle on the subject. When working very close, it may be necessary to drape a handkerchief over the flashbulb to diffuse the light. If using color film, however, you generally need all the light you can get. Consult the charts that come with film and flashbulbs.

BOOKS



SIR WINSTON CHURCHILL

A HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH-SPEAKING PEOPLES: Vol. I: THE BIRTH OF BRITAIN. By Winston S. Churchill. Dodd, Mead.

Churchill's long-planned history begins with Caesar, withdraws briefly to the still more remote past, comes down in these 500 pages to the end of the 15th century.

There were three Roman centuries when Britons, says Churchill, had it better than ever before or since. Then came invaders, like the Vikings in their shallow swift boats; Alfred, Athelstan and Canute; William the Conqueror; Henry Plantagenet; Richard the Lion - Hearted, Runnymede and Magna Carta; Bannockburn and Bruce; Edward III and Crecy; Henry V and Agincourt.

Churchill is concerned with the growth of law, the spread of liberty, the increasing checks on the power of nobles and kings. He says little about the common people and the way they lived, this is a history of kings, courts, Parliaments, judges and generals, a history of the great exclusively. This lacks the irresistible urgency of Churchill's World War II history. Yet this is handsomely, vigorously told, and deserves the popularity which the author's renown will surely win for it.

SAVROLA. By Winston S. Churchill. Random House.

Sir Winston's only novel, this is a tall tale about a bit of love and —you guessed it—a lot of politics. The hero overthrows a tyrant, and gets nothing for his pains. Almost 60 years old, the story is a pleasing reassurance that Sir Winston chose for himself the right career.

Sunday Highlights

Ronald Reagan plays a cold-eyed gambler with a warm heart in G. E. Theater's "The Lord's Dollar." Telephone Time — Emmett Kelly plays the "Captain from Kopenick" who turned the German military system upside down in 1906 by posing as a German officer. Let's Take A Trip will explore the United Airlines maintenance base at San Francisco. On the $64,000 Challenge, both septuagenarians, Myrt Power and Walt Dunnett will appear on the program for a third, $16,000 inning at bat. Singing star Marion Marlowe heads a glittering array of talent on "The Ed Sullivan Show." Adventure will feature turf star Nashua and horse trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons in a program on "The Horse." Jack Benny leaves Hollywood for brief appearances in New York and Oklahoma City following the broadcast of "The Jack Benny Program" Mercedes M-c Cambridge and Katherine Bard co-star in "Pretend You Belong To Me," the dramatic account of a woman's love for another's son on "Front Row Center." Sen. Karl Mundt (R-SD) and Sen. Herbert Lehman (D-NY) will discuss the national controversial issue of "Electoral College Reforms" on Facts Forum. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson will be the guest on "Face The Nation" to answer a news panel's question on the important farm problems of today.

When Herb Shriner leaves "Two for the Money" after the June 1 show, Sam Levenson will replace him as host. The future of this program beyond the summer is uncertain. Shriner won't be back, as he is to have his own one-hour variety show next season.

A theme song for "Frontier," NBC, is being composed by Alex North, who has composed the scores for a number of prominent motion pictures.

Jackie Gleason's writing staff is back at the grindstone preparing for next season while the master is still on his around-America vacation. Scripts have to be prepared far in advance of filming the next series which is scheduled to start in mid-August.

Ed Sullivan will miss his April 29 show for which Eve Arden will do the hosting honors. He's off after the April 22 show to scout talent in Japan.

Ethel Merman makes her second dramatic appearance on TV May 9 in an original TV play called "Honest in the Rain." She plays a gambling woman for "U. S. Steel Hour" on CBS.

"Omnibus" will spend its fifth season, beginning next fall, on the ABC network. It will get a "prime time" on Sunday night instead of the Sunday afternoon 90 minutes it has occupied in its four years at CBS.

STAMPS

Hats off to FIPEX! The Fifth International Philatelic Exhibition will be the greatest stamp show ever held in the United States.

This philatelic event will open the new Coliseum in New York City April 28. It continues until May 6.

Most of the free nations of the world invited by the U.S. State Department will participate in FIPEX.

Of special interest to collectors of U.S. stamps will be the issuance of four different postal items with first day covers available both at the New York City post office and at the Coliseum.

The covers postmarked at the Coliseum will bear the FIPEX cancellation.

On the opening day, April 28, the 11-cent FIPEX souvenir sheet will be placed on sale. It will consist of the 8-cent red and blue and the 3-cent purple Statue of Liberty stamps. The sheets will be mounted in a folder with an inscription honoring FIPEX and showing a facsimile of Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield's signature.

April 30 will be the first day for the 3-cent FIPEX commemorative. May 2 will feature the 6-cent embossed air mail envelope. May 4 will have the special issuance of the 2-cent post card bearing a triangular stamp of the Statue of Liberty.

More people are expected to view the stamp exhibition at the Coliseum than any other philatelic event in the world. The previous high as in 1947 for CIPEX, the 100th anniversary of the first U.S. postage stamp, when 200,000 attended. FIPEX officials believe at least 400,000 will see the 1956 event.

President Eisenhower gave his official blessings to the show when he said: "By this exhibition (FIPEX) the dramatic story of modern communications, uniting all nations of the world by their postal systems, is vividly told. Those who have sponsored the exhibit, those who support it, and those who attend it, . . .my best wishes to all of them."

Despite the excitement and furore of a royal wedding and special stamps commemorating the occasion, Monaco continues its prolific stamp issuing program. Three separate sets have arrived in this country.

One set of two is for the Olympic Games. The 15 franc depicts a scene at the winter games held in Cortina D'Ampezzo, Italy. The 30 fr orange shows modern athletes and ancient Greek athletes in action. A view of the stadium in Melbourne, Australia is in the center.

Another set of one stamp hails the motor car race from Glasgow, Scotland to Monte Carlo. The third set is an overprint of a previously issued set of perforated triangles with new values.

Fiesta Of Five Flags

PENSACOLA, Fla., Apr. 21 —A new summer tourist season, expected to be the best ever on the Gulf Coast, will be officially launched at Pensacola on May 2, 3, 4 and 5 when the city celebrates the seventh annual Fiesta of Five Flags with participants from six southeastern states.

Sports events, a beauty pageant and a square-dancing championship will draw most of the out-of-state participants — but a Pan-American phase of the Fiesta will draw top-rate diplomats from at least three Latin American countries.

The Fiesta commemorates Pensacola's history under the flags of Spain, France, England, the Confederacy and the United States. It is marked by parades and pageantry portray highlights of this history, the principal event being an re-enactment of the landing of Don Tristan de Luna, a Spanish colonizer who landed here with about 2,500 settlers on August 14, 1559. De Luna's colony was abandoned after two years, and Pensacola was not permanently settled until 1696.

Range archery, pistol, softball and speedboat championships will be among the sports events.

TAMPA — An 8,000 foot long fishing sidewalk under the new Gandy Bridge span across Tampa Bay between Tampa and St. Petersburg opens one of the finest sections of fishing waters in the bay to walking fishermen.

The $120,000 catwalk, built as a part of the new $2,600,000 Gandy Bridge span, extends 2,000 feet out into the bay from each end of the bridge and is built on both sides of the span so fishermen can fish with the incoming or outgoing tides.

The new fishing facility is of special interest to Tarpon fishermen who will compete for more than $10,000 in prizes in the Ninth Annual Tampa Tarpon Tournament June 16 through August 12. Tampa Bay waters around the Gandy Bridge are widely known for a heavy population of "Silver Kings"

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By FLETA D. LATHAM

"The Rainmaker," Little Theatre's fifth and final production of the season, is in rehearsal. Here are the people who will appear in the play.

Kay Causey will portray Lizzie Curry, the daughter. Ralph Bird will play H. C. Curry, the father. The roles of the brothers, Noah and Jim Curry, will be enacted by Dick Troy, Jr. and Skippy Portman.

The deputy sheriff, File, will be played by J. J. Barnes and Randy Rainwater will appear as Starbuck, the rainmaker.

The cast is a capable and talented one and we can expect to see excellent performances from each of them.

"The Rainmaker," a romantic comedy in three acts, takes place in a western state during a time of drought. It is a touching play with insight into the human heart and will have vast appeal for Little Theatre audiences.

Random notes: Director Ivan Uttal gave us a list of items that will be needed on the set of "The Rainmaker." If you have any of the following, please get in touch with Ivan at 3-4263. A victorian table approximately four feet long and three feet wide; a roll top desk; small buggy seat and a number of grain sacks. Rather an odd assortment but each of the items play an important part in the setting of the play. . . .

John Breazeal, who is remembered for his performance in "Gently Does It," is recuperating from a recent operation. His mother, Mrs. Joe Sanders, tells us that John is home now and getting along just fine. . . .

Little Theaterites had a wonderful evening talking over old times at the party Julius Cahn gave on Friday evening for his guest, Pete Linton, who spent the week end in Monroe. Pete who was, and is, an ardent Little Theaterite is on leave from his public relations job with Uncle Sam. From Monroe Pete is going to Memphis for a few days before leaving for California. Pete's ultimate destination is a small coral atoll in the Pacific where he will be stationed. He told us the name of the place but we can't remember. Maybe he'll send us his address when he gets settled. . . .

Kay Causey tells us that former Little Theatre actress and director Elizabeth Whitfield (Mrs. Ian Andrew) will arrive in Monroe from England next month for a visit. We hope that Elizabeth's visit will coincide with the run of "The Rainmaker." Be like old times to have her at the playhouse again. . . .

Have you remembered? The sooner you get your Little Theatre membership the better. Checks may be mailed to P. O. Box 868, Monroe.

YOUNG LOVERS—Shirley Jones and Gordon MacRae, shown above in a scene from Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Carousel," which Twentieth Century-Fox has produced in CinemaScope 55, head the large cast which will be seen singing and dancing in this musical classic. The picture, photographed in the new process, will have its premiere today at the Paramount Theater.

Theatre Here Unveils Cinemascope 'Carousel'

Following the recent announcement by Manager Walt Guarino of the Paramount Theatre that "Carousel," Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical hit in CinemaScope 55, would make its local bow today, Darryl F. Zanuck, production chief at Twentieth Century-Fox, revealed the story behind the new development.

Ever since the introduction of CinemaScope with "The Robe" three years ago Twentieth Century-Fox has been carrying on a determined search to improve cinemaScope even further, so that it would ultimately become the supreme standard of motion picture production and projection, Mr. Zanuck pointed out.

"Our technicians and scientists in collaboration with Bausch & Lomb laboratories in Rochester experimented with all sizes of film —70mm, 65mm and 55mm," Mr. Zanuck explained. "We made extensive tests over a period of many months before selecting 55mm film. By comparison, 55mm film is four times the area of the frame of the standard 35mm film. This four times area on the negative has been found by experiment to give all the information in the picture that can be practically used.

'Once our tests had proved the superiority of 55mm film, it was necessary for us to build cameras and all other related machines to handle this larger film. First it was necessary for us to obtain the manufacture of 55mm film and then we had to construct a laboratory to develop and process this film. It meant starting over from scratch. As an example, the first 55mm cameras cost $50,000 each. The other expenditures, including conversion of laboratory, projection rooms and special equipment already has amounted to several millions of dollars. And this new CinemaScope 55 adds $200,000 to the cost per picture over regular CinemaScope."

Since there are no theatre today equipped to project 55mm film, it was necessary for Twentieth Century-Fox to make it available on 35mm film. This was done by photographing the scenes of "Carousel" in the new 55mm system and then reducing it to 35mm.

As a result the scenes in Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical represent an improvement of at least 50 per cent over anything heretofore seen in CinemaScope, Mr. Zanuck added.

"Any amateur photographer knows that when you enlarge a snapshot the more you enlarge it the more the grain becomes apparent," Mr. Zanuck explained. "Our scientists reversed the process and by photographing on the large film and reducing it to 35mm we obtained sharpness of focus, improvement in depth and the total elimination of grain. We believe we have the only system that has totally eliminated distortion. There is no fall-off on the right or left sides of the screen. Furthermore we also have enhanced the sense of audience participation and have been able to get greater photographic area."

The main object in this new development in CinemaScope, according to Mr. Zanuck, and Spyros P. Skouras, president of Twentieth Century-Fox, who has been a moving force behind this improvement, is to bring the perfection of photography into every theatre, large or small, throughout the world and to give audiences something better than they have ever seen before.

Gordon MacRae and Shirley Jones are the stars in "Carousel" and the featured players are Cameron Mitchell, Barbara Ruick, Claramae Turner, Robert Rounseville and Gene Lockhart. Henry King directed and Henry Ephron produced it in color by DeLuxe.

Record Review

Up-and-coming Kapp Records has introduced a new star in orchestra leader Glenn Osser. "But Beautiful," a 12-inch LP, is a showcase for Osser and his smooth-playing band. Some of the best numbers are "The Girl That I Marry," "What Is There to Say?" and "The Night Is Young and You're So Beautiful."

For thise who like thrushes, M-G-M's "Joni James Sings In The Still of the Night" is a good item. Joni has good backing from David Terry's orchestra on 12 smoothies, including "Star Dust," "Deep Purple" and "Someone to Watch Over Me."

Platter chatter: Remember Red Nichols and his Five Pennies, one of the best jazz combos of the '30's? Well Red has gone smooth in a silky recording of "The Beautiful Girls of Berlin" on a Capitol single.

Richard Hayman's nostalgic (Mercury) recording of "The Perfect Song" brings back fond memories of "Amos and Andy" in the old radio days. . .Peggy Lee has possibly a hit in Decca's revival of "You've Got to See Mama Every Night". . .Andy Griffith's cracker-barrel explanation of the opera "Carmen" (Capitol) is his funniest record since "What It Was Was Football."

Tops in Rock and Roll: "Busy Body Rock" by the Gadabouts (Mercury), "Mama Don't Want" by Varetta Dillard (Groove), "The Birth of the Rock and Roll" by Sheb Wooley (M-G-M) "Eyes of Fire, Lips of Wine" by Jerry Wallace (Wing) and "Rock Around Mother Goose" by Barry Gordon with Art Mooney and Ray Charles Singers (M-G-M).

Pop classics: Waltz lovers will appreciate Columbia's "Vienna Night," an exceptionally good hi-fi recording by Andre Kostelanetz and the Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra of New York of "Tales from the Vienna Woods," "Overture to Die Fledermaus" and waltzes from "Der Rosenkavalier."

Hollywood

'Medic' Now Director

HOLLYWOOD, April 21 — Richard Boone, who qualified as a typical doctor for the television series "Medic," has put aside stethescope and scalpel, surgical mask and medication for a megaphone . . . Which is another way of saying the actor is realizing a lifetime ambition to be a director!

Over eight cc's of a liquid marked "for internal use only," Boone told me his first job behind the camera will be for "Frontier," a filmed television show, and after that, a full - length movie.

"For some reason," he said, in the same cool quiet voice you've heard him use as the Medic, "I was never considered a romantic lead in movies. I played a lot of westerns. I'm not especially ugly, shy nor gauche, but the fact remains, I was always the guy who got left behind, either walking off into the sunset while the hero got the girl, or kissing my horse at the end of a long hard ride. I never got the girl, and I soon realized that the way I was being cast, I never would. When the chance to do "Medic" came along, it gave me a great lift as an actor — but again, there is no romance in the life of Dr. Styner, only science, sickness and the relentless fight against microbes. Well, that's fine, and it wasn't easy, but after a while I decided I wanted another change of pace.

"I'd been grooming myself for directing for some time. I run a little school for actors, three evenings a week, and it opened a lot of learning for me.

"I've always believed that the director really makes the picture. Given a great star, an expensive background, unlimited budget, it can all come rhubarb unless the director has the perceptive qualities needed to draw out whatever it is the writer wants expressed by the actors. Being an actor myself, I know how easy it is to get lost in your own role — how easy it is to dissociate what you are doing from the rest of the cast. A good director can see that this doesn't happen. He has got to integrate the entire picture, project the complete story.

"This is perhaps the hardest part of all, but it also means that in the director's chair, a man has no limitations placed on his scope. He can use as broad or fine a brush as he thinks necessary to produce the best the story has to offer.

"Once this is gotten across to the cast, it's as if a magic word has been spoken. Everything falls into place and the final test—success with an audience — is usually likely to follow.

The interesting thing about most good directors — is that either they are ex-actors or frustrated actors. In either case, they are equipped to compensate for their frustrations, through their insight, usually earned and learned the hard way!"

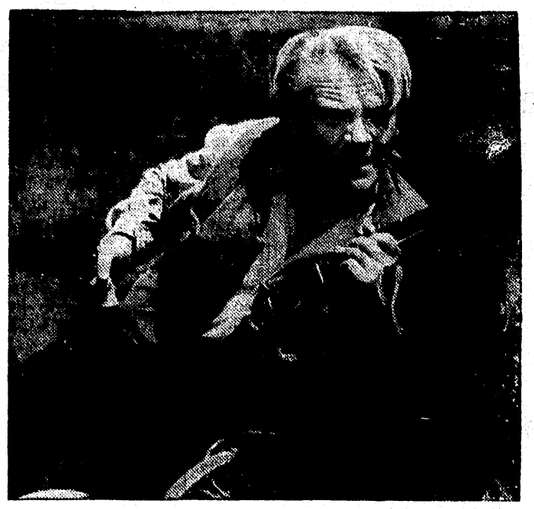
Boone recalled that Elia Kazan had been his director in a New York play. The actor was unhappy in his role and did a lot of griping about it.

Kazan called him aside one evening and said, "Dick, you don't seem very happy. You are complaining all over the place. I'd like to tell you something — something you ought to remember as long as you live. It is this: To complain—is nothing.'

The actor says he looked blank for a moment and then the light dawned.

"He was right," Boone told me. "I understood him and realized that there's not much percentage in complaining and whining about an unhappy situation, whether it's in one's work or in one's private life. Either do something about it — or shut up!

"I'll never forget that lesson. It kept coming into my mind everytime I thought I'd rather direct than act in the future. Instead of going on, and being frustrated, I simply dug in and learned all I could about directing.



Dynamic Cagney Role In 'Tribute To A Bad Man'

James Cagney's performance in "Tribute to a Bad Man," spectacular M-G-M outdoor drama in CinemaScope and color, now showing at the Jim Theatre, is likely to go down as the finest of his career. The brilliant actor, who has recently chalked up a trio of hits with "Mr. Roberts," "Love Me Or Leave Me" and "The Seven Little Foys," has been given a characterization which measures up to his broad acting range, one embodying both ruthless power and a heart-touching pathos.

The story of "Tribute to a Bad Man" is laid in Wyoming in 1873, an era in which a virile young nation needed horses and when there grew up a breed of tough and courageous men who helped keep the nation moving. The horses they bred kept the Pony Express, the covered wagon and stage coach spread ever-widening frontiers toward the West. Such a man was Jeremy Rodock (Cagney), whose fanatical devotion to his horse empire blinded him, it seemed, to life itself.

Jeremy Rodock is a man confident in his own power, a man whose granite character and sense of justice were forged in a land where only the strong survived. His one passionate love was for the Rodock horses. Where they were concerned he was the law and a relentless avenger. They were first in his heart, even above Jocasta, the woman who loved him; above young Steve, the greenhorn from the East, who first idolized Jeremy, then turned against him; above Peterson, the partner who failed him, and the latter's son, Lars, who wanted to kill him. What made Jeremy the man he was and what changed him brings to the screen an absorbing and gripping drama with the excitement, raw courage and bigness of the West itself.

In "Tribute to a Bad Man" this bigness has been captured in the vast images of the CinemaScope cameras on awesome Colorado locations ranging from the base of the San Juan Mountains into the Uncompahgre National Forest, famed territory of the Ute Indians. The scenic shots are breathtaking, as are also the scenes centering on the vast herds of horses and their foals, muzzling, running, eating, playing and fighting. Against this arresting panoramic background the story of Jeremy Rodock is built up with cumulative excitement and suspense.

Although James Cagney, in the pivotal role of the "Bad Man" to whom the story pays tribute, is in almost every scene of the picture, Director Robert Wise and Producer Sam Zimbalist cast the other roles with equal discernment. Audiences are introduced to a new star in Irene Papas, a beautiful and talented actress from Greece, who brings an ardent fire and emotional appeal to the role of Jocasta, the woman who finds Jeremy's horses an almost insurmountable rival for her love.

Don Dubbins, the young actor who achieved overnight celebrity with Deborah Kerr in the national touring company of "Tea and Sympathy," will win himself a flock of fans as the result of his compelling portrayal of Steve Miller, the neophyte rancher who brings about a turning point in Jeremy's life. Stephen McNally is the swaggering, contemptuous boss wrangler, who attempts to out-bluff and out-fight Jeremy and fails at both. Vic Morrow plays the vindicative Lars, who comes close to murdering the man who had once been his friend. And there are excellent performances by James Griffith, Onslow Stevens, James Bell, Jeanette Nolan, Chubby Johnson, Royal Dano and Lee Van Cleef.

"Tribute to a Bad Man" is an example of the great stride made by motion pictures in recent years. While it contains all the rugged elements that have made Westerns a favorite form of entertainment for moviegoers, it goes much further in bringing to life a characterization which leaves its imprint on mind and heart long after the spectator has left the theatre.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By FLETA D. LATHAM

"The Rainmaker," Little Theatre's fifth and final production of the season, is in rehearsal. Here are the people who will appear in the play.

Kay Causey will portray Lizzie Curry, the daughter. Ralph Bird will play H. C. Curry, the father. The roles of the brothers, Noah and Jim Curry, will be enacted by Dick Troy, Jr. and Skippy Portman.

The deputy sheriff, File, will be played by J. J. Barnes and Randy Rainwater will appear as Starbuck, the rainmaker.

The cast is a capable and talented one and we can expect to see excellent performances from each of them.

"The Rainmaker," a romantic comedy in three acts, takes place in a western state during a time of drought. It is a touching play with insight into the human heart and will have vast appeal for Little Theatre audiences.

Random notes: Director Ivan Uttal gave us a list of items that will be needed on the set of "The Rainmaker." If you have any of the following, please get in touch with Ivan at 3-4263. A victorian table approximately four feet long and three feet wide; a roll top desk; small buggy seat and a number of grain sacks. Rather an odd assortment but each of the items play an important part in the setting of the play. . . .

John Breazeal, who is remembered for his performance in "Gently Does It," is recuperating from a recent operation. His mother, Mrs. Joe Sanders, tells us that John is home now and getting along just fine. . . .

Little Theaterites had a wonderful evening talking over old times at the party Julius Cahn gave on Friday evening for his guest, Pete Linton, who spent the week end in Monroe. Pete who was, and is, an ardent Little Theaterite is on leave from his public relations job with Uncle Sam. From Monroe Pete is going to Memphis for a few days before leaving for California. Pete's ultimate destination is a small coral atoll in the Pacific where he will be stationed. He told us the name of the place but we can't remember. Maybe he'll send us his address when he gets settled. . . .

Kay Causey tells us that former Little Theatre actress and director Elizabeth Whitfield (Mrs. Ian Andrew) will arrive in Monroe from England next month for a visit. We hope that Elizabeth's visit will coincide with the run of "The Rainmaker." Be like old times to have her at the playhouse again. . . .

Have you remembered? The sooner you get your Little Theatre membership the better. Checks may be mailed to P. O. Box 868, Monroe.

YOUNG LOVERS—Shirley Jones and Gordon MacRae, shown above in a scene from Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Carousel," which Twentieth Century-Fox has produced in CinemaScope 55, head the large cast which will be seen singing and dancing in this musical classic. The picture, photographed in the new process, will have its premiere today at the Paramount Theater.

Theatre Here Unveils Cinemascope 'Carousel'

Following the recent announcement by Manager Walt Guarino of the Paramount Theatre that "Carousel," Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical hit in CinemaScope 55, would make its local bow today, Darryl F. Zanuck, production chief at Twentieth Century-Fox, revealed the story behind the new development.

Ever since the introduction of CinemaScope with "The Robe" three years ago Twentieth Century-Fox has been carrying on a determined search to improve cinemaScope even further, so that it would ultimately become the supreme standard of motion picture production and projection, Mr. Zanuck pointed out.

"Our technicians and scientists in collaboration with Bausch & Lomb laboratories in Rochester experimented with all sizes of film —70mm, 65mm and 55mm," Mr. Zanuck explained. "We made extensive tests over a period of many months before selecting 55mm film. By comparison, 55mm film is four times the area of the frame of the standard 35mm film. This four times area on the negative has been found by experiment to give all the information in the picture that can be practically used.

'Once our tests had proved the superiority of 55mm film, it was necessary for us to build cameras and all other related machines to handle this larger film. First it was necessary for us to obtain the manufacture of 55mm film and then we had to construct a laboratory to develop and process this film. It meant starting over from scratch. As an example, the first 55mm cameras cost $50,000 each. The other expenditures, including conversion of laboratory, projection rooms and special equipment already has amounted to several millions of dollars. And this new CinemaScope 55 adds $200,000 to the cost per picture over regular CinemaScope."

Since there are no theatre today equipped to project 55mm film, it was necessary for Twentieth Century-Fox to make it available on 35mm film. This was done by photographing the scenes of "Carousel" in the new 55mm system and then reducing it to 35mm.

As a result the scenes in Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical represent an improvement of at least 50 per cent over anything heretofore seen in CinemaScope, Mr. Zanuck added.

"Any amateur photographer knows that when you enlarge a snapshot the more you enlarge it the more the grain becomes apparent," Mr. Zanuck explained. "Our scientists reversed the process and by photographing on the large film and reducing it to 35mm we obtained sharpness of focus, improvement in depth and the total elimination of grain. We believe we have the only system that has totally eliminated distortion. There is no fall-off on the right or left sides of the screen. Furthermore we also have enhanced the sense of audience participation and have been able to get greater photographic area."

The main object in this new development in CinemaScope, according to Mr. Zanuck, and Spyros P. Skouras, president of Twentieth Century-Fox, who has been a moving force behind this improvement, is to bring the perfection of photography into every theatre, large or small, throughout the world and to give audiences something better than they have ever seen before.

Gordon MacRae and Shirley Jones are the stars in "Carousel" and the featured players are Cameron Mitchell, Barbara Ruick, Claramae Turner, Robert Rounseville and Gene Lockhart. Henry King directed and Henry Ephron produced it in color by DeLuxe.

Record Review

Up-and-coming Kapp Records has introduced a new star in orchestra leader Glenn Osser. "But Beautiful," a 12-inch LP, is a showcase for Osser and his smooth-playing band. Some of the best numbers are "The Girl That I Marry," "What Is There to Say?" and "The Night Is Young and You're So Beautiful."

For thise who like thrushes, M-G-M's "Joni James Sings In The Still of the Night" is a good item. Joni has good backing from David Terry's orchestra on 12 smoothies, including "Star Dust," "Deep Purple" and "Someone to Watch Over Me."

Platter chatter: Remember Red Nichols and his Five Pennies, one of the best jazz combos of the '30's? Well Red has gone smooth in a silky recording of "The Beautiful Girls of Berlin" on a Capitol single.

Richard Hayman's nostalgic (Mercury) recording of "The Perfect Song" brings back fond memories of "Amos and Andy" in the old radio days. . .Peggy Lee has possibly a hit in Decca's revival of "You've Got to See Mama Every Night". . .Andy Griffith's cracker-barrel explanation of the opera "Carmen" (Capitol) is his funniest record since "What It Was Was Football."

Tops in Rock and Roll: "Busy Body Rock" by the Gadabouts (Mercury), "Mama Don't Want" by Varetta Dillard (Groove), "The Birth of the Rock and Roll" by Sheb Wooley (M-G-M) "Eyes of Fire, Lips of Wine" by Jerry Wallace (Wing) and "Rock Around Mother Goose" by Barry Gordon with Art Mooney and Ray Charles Singers (M-G-M).

Pop classics: Waltz lovers will appreciate Columbia's "Vienna Night," an exceptionally good hi-fi recording by Andre Kostelanetz and the Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra of New York of "Tales from the Vienna Woods," "Overture to Die Fledermaus" and waltzes from "Der Rosenkavalier."

Hollywood

By Jimmy Fidler

'Medic' Now Director

HOLLYWOOD, April 21 — Richard Boone, who qualified as a typical doctor for the television series "Medic," has put aside stethescope and scalpel, surgical mask and medication for a megaphone . . . Which is another way of saying the actor is realizing a lifetime ambition to be a director!

Over eight cc's of a liquid marked "for internal use only," Boone told me his first job behind the camera will be for "Frontier," a filmed television show, and after that, a full - length movie.

"For some reason," he said, in the same cool quiet voice you've heard him use as the Medic, "I was never considered a romantic lead in movies. I played a lot of westerns. I'm not especially ugly, shy nor gauche, but the fact remains, I was always the guy who got left behind, either walking off into the sunset while the hero got the girl, or kissing my horse at the end of a long hard ride. I never got the girl, and I soon realized that the way I was being cast, I never would. When the chance to do "Medic" came along, it gave me a great lift as an actor — but again, there is no romance in the life of Dr. Styner, only science, sickness and the relentless fight against microbes. Well, that's fine, and it wasn't easy, but after a while I decided I wanted another change of pace.

"I'd been grooming myself for directing for some time. I run a little school for actors, three evenings a week, and it opened a lot of learning for me.

"I've always believed that the director really makes the picture. Given a great star, an expensive background, unlimited budget, it can all come rhubarb unless the director has the perceptive qualities needed to draw out whatever it is the writer wants expressed by the actors. Being an actor myself, I know how easy it is to get lost in your own role — how easy it is to dissociate what you are doing from the rest of the cast. A good director can see that this doesn't happen. He has got to integrate the entire picture, project the complete story.

"This is perhaps the hardest part of all, but it also means that in the director's chair, a man has no limitations placed on his scope. He can use as broad or fine a brush as he thinks necessary to produce the best the story has to offer.

"Once this is gotten across to the cast, it's as if a magic word has been spoken. Everything falls into place and the final test—success with an audience — is usually likely to follow.

The interesting thing about most good directors — is that either they are ex-actors or frustrated actors. In either case, they are equipped to compensate for their frustrations, through their insight, usually earned and learned the hard way!"

Boone recalled that Elia Kazan had been his director in a New York play. The actor was unhappy in his role and did a lot of griping about it.

Kazan called him aside one evening and said, "Dick, you don't seem very happy. You are complaining all over the place. I'd like to tell you something — something you ought to remember as long as you live. It is this: To complain—is nothing.'

The actor says he looked blank for a moment and then the light dawned.

"He was right," Boone told me. "I understood him and realized that there's not much percentage in complaining and whining about an unhappy situation, whether it's in one's work or in one's private life. Either do something about it — or shut up!

"I'll never forget that lesson. It kept coming into my mind everytime I thought I'd rather direct than act in the future. Instead of going on, and being frustrated, I simply dug in and learned all I could about directing.

Dr. Graves Rounds Up Half Century In Medicine; 'One Of The Fortunate Ones'

DR. JAMES Q. GRAVES

Dr. James Q. Graves, of Monroe, will be honored Monday by the Louisiana State Medical Society on the completion of 50 years of medical practice.

He is one of 11 doctors in the state who will receive a special citation and be admitted to the 50-year Doctor Club at the 76th annual meeting of the Louisiana State Medical Society in Alexandria.

Dr. Graves, interviewed in his office this week, commented modestly, "I have been one of the fortunate ones."

He was born in Columbia, the son of a cotton planter and he still owns a pecan grove and plantation there.

"My parents were wonderful people and were largely responsible for what I am. They strongly believed in discipline with frequent trips to the woodshed."

He continued, "When I was growing up, I had the privilege of seeing this country when it was covered with virgin forests, trees such as this generation has never seen. It was a hunters paradise. Our timber was slaughtered, we didn't know how to take care of it, and the land has never been the same."

He graduated from Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, finished Tulane Medical School in 1906 and interned at Charity Hospital in Shreveport.

"I have held only two jobs in my life," Dr. Graves reminisced. "Between sessions of school, I was once appointed assistant postmaster in Monroe to fill in for John Blanks who was ill."

In 1908 he married Miss Alda Holloman of Harrisonburg, Louisiana. She is the niece of a former Supreme Court Justice, Judge Thompson.

At the beginning of his medical practice in Columbia, the doctor had a buggy and two horses for transportation.

He would not comment on his professional experiences, but he related an incident that occurred during these first years of practice at Columbia.

He set out on horseback to see a patient. He crossed LaFourche River swamp safely on a flat boat, but on the return trip, the flatboat sank. Dr. Graves' horse swam about two miles before reaching dry land with the young doctor hanging on to his tail.

"He saved my life," Dr. Graves recalled.

He practiced in Columbia over two years. Before he left there, he and Dr. S. H. Brown each ordered their first car on the same day — a bright and shiny Maxwell.

"Wonderful people in Columbia. My wife and I are going to be buried right there under the trees on a high hill."

Within his memory the Missouri Pacific railroad was built to Houston. "Jay Gould built it," he added.

Dr. Graves well remembers when all commercial traffic was handled by large steamers on the Ouachita.

"There were some palatial boats on this river," he said, and noted further that "The America" and "Bob Blanks" were the last two big boats used.

In 1910 Dr. Graves came to Monroe and entered into a partnership with Dr. J. L. Adams that lasted until Dr. Adam's death in 1927.

The population was about 12,000 at that time and he vividly remembers when the St. Francis Hospital was built in 1913. Mother deBethanie was the first Mother Superior and Dr. Graves is the only living member who was on the staff when the hospital opened.

"A finer group of medical men never lived than the ones there then. I feel as if their spirit still directs us who linger on," he said.

"When I first came here, Monroe was built up to about North Pine Street. Everything beyond that has developed since."

He recalled the first plane that landed in Monroe out on the north side — almost everyone in town went running out through the tall grass to see it.

The first gas well brought in started a phenominal growth for Monroe, Dr. Graves stated, but later on every profession and every branch of business felt the weight of the depression years. The coming of the Brown Paper Mill helped this area to recover and brought new industry here.

In recent years he has been associated with Dr. M. W. Hunter, Dr. John Snellings and Dr. Sol Courtman. The present Graves Clinic was established about 20 years ago. Mrs. Addie Juneman in his office has been with him for 22 years.

Dr. Graves has no idea about how many babies he has delivered.

"Certainly a great many," he said.

He stated that on numerous occasions he had delivered babies to girls whom he had once brought into the world. He has not been practicing obstetrics for the past two years.

Dr. Graves was modest about his practice but said "I have loved the medical profession and would study it all over again if I were a young man. Right here we have some of the finest and most honorable doctors in the world. I have seen a marvelous progress made in medical science and we are just beginning. In a half century the average span of life has been lengthened from 38 to 68 years. In time it may be lengthened to 100."

He was voluable in his praise of Monroe and its people. "Monroe has furnished some of the finest people in the world. They are hospitable, congenial and neighborly."

When a man has served a community for 50 years, he becomes a part of the lives of many people. Some of Dr. Graves patients feel that way about im.

One of his patients whom he had attended since 1917 asked that her name not be used, but said that her husband owed his life to Dr. Graves who got up from his bed with fever to come to her husband during a flu epedemic in January 1920. When asked about this, Dr. Graves laughed heartily and said, "I remember the coldest night in the world was in January 1918 when I delivered her son. Afterwards I went outside and cranked and cranked trying to get my Ford started."

Dr. Graves proudly stated that today he and his wife have four wonderful girls, all married to local boys. Helen Louise and John Theus, Jr. have two children, Sue and King Stubbs have three children, Dorothy and Kent Breard have three and Jene and A. B. Myatt, Jr., have two.

"Sometime during each week, but not at the same time, they all have dinner with us. That's what makes life worth living."

Mitzi on the Trapeze

Mitzi is the star of the flying trapeze in our Junior Circus. She began working on the trapeze when she was very young and now she is very skillful.

For the last of your circus cutouts, color the picture and paste it on cardboard.

Now cut out the parts with care, and punch holes with a pencil point in the ends of the two crossbars. Bring a thread down through the left end of the top bar, through the left end of the bottom bar, across to the right end of the bottom bar, through that and up again to the right end of the top bar. Leave the ends, so they can be tied into a loop and the trapeze can be hung up.

Cut through the dark black line around Mitzi's fingers and across her insteps. Then you can slip the threads behind these tabs, as shown in the close-up sketches.

Mitzi can stand up on the trapeze with one foot braced against the rope, and she can hang by her hands from the lower bar. Perhaps you can even make her hang by one foot from the lower bar. Try it.

Now you have your complete circus and can get it all set up.

What is Jersey Standard?

PEOPLE. The more than 300,000 people who own it — merchants . . . teachers . . . farmers . . . bus drivers . . . housewives . . . people who've invested their savings in our growth. They have just received the Annual Report on the 73rd year of our company's business.

What makes Jersey Standard run? People. People in offices and in the labs, in the oil fields and refineries of our affiliated companies. People like all of us . . . who work, play, raise families.

What keeps Jersey Standard and its affiliates in business? People like you. People who have faith in the ESSO products and in our good name.

Because of all these people — stockholders, employees and customers — we had a good year in '55. A year of searching for and finding more oil to provide light and heat, to run cars and trucks, trains and planes, buses and tractors, to make petrochemicals. A year of even greater research leading to more and better products for you. A year — as our Annual Report shows — of better sales and earnings, of record payments in wages and benefits to employees, of record income generated for governments in the form of taxes—a year, in short, of bigger contributions to the prosperity of the people of the countries where we do business.

If you would like a copy of our 1955 Annual Report to Stockholders, please write to us at: Room 1626, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York 20, N. Y.

Dr. Graves Rounds Up Half Century In Medicine; 'One Of The Fortunate Ones'

DR. JAMES Q. GRAVES

Dr. James Q. Graves, of Monroe, will be honored Monday by the Louisiana State Medical Society on the completion of 50 years of medical practice.

He is one of 11 doctors in the state who will receive a special citation and be admitted to the 50-year Doctor Club at the 76th annual meeting of the Louisiana State Medical Society in Alexandria.

Dr. Graves, interviewed in his office this week, commented modestly, "I have been one of the fortunate ones."

He was born in Columbia, the son of a cotton planter and he still owns a pecan grove and plantation there.

"My parents were wonderful people and were largely responsible for what I am. They strongly believed in discipline with frequent trips to the woodshed."

He continued, "When I was growing up, I had the privilege of seeing this country when it was covered with virgin forests, trees such as this generation has never seen. It was a hunters paradise. Our timber was slaughtered, we didn't know how to take care of it, and the land has never been the same.'

He graduated from Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, finished Tulane Medical School in 1906 and interned at Charity Hospital in Shreveport.

"I have held only two jobs in my life," Dr. Graves reminisced, "Between sessions of school, I was once appointed assistant postmaster in Monroe to fill in for John Blanks who was ill."

In 1908 he married Miss Alda Holloman of Harrisonburg, Louisiana. She is the niece of a former Supreme Court Justice, Judge Thompson.

At the beginning of his medical practice in Columbia, the doctor had a buggy and two horses for transportation.

He would not comment on his professional experiences, but he related an incident that occurred during these first years of practice at Columbia.

He set out on horseback to see a patient. He crossed LaFourche River swamp safely on a flat boat, but on the return trip, the flatboat sank. Dr. Graves' horse swam about two miles before reaching dry land with the young doctor hanging on to his tail.

"He saved my life," Dr. Graves recalled.

He practiced in Columbia over two years. Before he left there, he and Dr. S. H. Brown each ordered their first car on the same day — a bright and shiny Maxwell.

"Wonderful people in Columbia. My wife and I are going to be buried right there under the trees on a high hill."

Within his memory the Missouri Pacific railroad was built to Houston. "Jay Gould built it," he added.

Dr. Graves well remembers when all commercial traffic was handled by large steamers on the Ouachita.

"There were some palatial boats on this river," he said, and noted further that "The America" and "Bob Blanks" were the last two big boats used.

In 1910 Dr. Graves came to Monroe and entered into a partnership with Dr. J. L. Adams that lasted until Dr. Adam's death in 1927.

The population was about 12,000 at that time and he vividly remembers when the St. Francis Hospital was built in 1913. Mother deBethanie was the first Mother Superior and Dr. Graves is the only living member who was on the staff when the hospital opened.

"A finer group of medical men never lived than the ones there then. I feel as if their spirit still directs us who linger on," he said.

"When I first came here, Monroe was built up to about North Pine Street. Everything beyond that has developed since."

He recalled the first plane that landed in Monroe out on the north side — almost everyone in town went running out through the tall grass to see it.

The first gas well brought in started a phenominal growth for Monroe, Dr. Graves stated, but later on every profession and every branch of business felt the weight of the depression years. The coming of the Brown Paper Mill helped this area to recover and brought new industry here.

In recent years he has been associated with Dr. M. W. Hunter, Dr. John Snellings and Dr. Sol Courtman. The present Graves Clinic was established about 20 years ago. Mrs. Addie Juneman in his office has been with him for 22 years.

Dr. Graves has no idea about how many babies he has delivered.

"Certainly a great many," he said.

He stated that on numerous occasions he had delivered babies to girls whom he had once brought into the world. He has not been practicing obstetrics for the past two years.

Dr. Graves was modest about his practice but said "I have loved the medical profession and would study it all over again if I were a young man. Right here we have some of the finest and most honorable doctors in the world. I have seen a marvelous progress made in medical science and we are just beginning. In a half century the average span of life has been lengthened from 38 to 68 years. In time it may be lengthened to 100."

He was voluable in his praise of Monroe and its people. "Monroe has furnished some of the finest people in the world. They are hospitable, congenial and neighborly."

When a man has served a community for 50 years, he becomes a part of the lives of many people. Some of Dr. Graves patients feel that way about im.

One of his patients whom he had attended since 1917 asked that her name not be used, but said that her husband owed his life to Dr. Graves who got up from his bed with fever to come to her husband during a flu epedemic in January 1920. When asked about this, Dr. Graves laughed heartily and said, "I remember the coldest night in the world was in January 1918 when I delivered her son. Afterwards I went outside and cranked and cranked trying to get my Ford started."

Dr. Graves proudly stated that today he and his wife have four wonderful girls, all married to local boys. Helen Louise and John Theus, Jr. have two children, Sue and King Stubbs have three children, Dorothy and Kent Breard have three and Jene and A. B. Myatt, Jr., have two.

"Sometime during each week, but not at the same time, they all have dinner with us. That's what makes life worth living."

NOTICE!!

To the Members of the LITTLE THEATRE OF MONROE, INC.

Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of members of The Little Theatre of Monroe, Inc., will be held at Little Theatre Playhouse, Selman Field, on Monday, the seventh day of May, 1956, at the hour of 7:30 P.M. for the purpose of electing a Board of Directors for the ensuing year and such other business as may be appropriate. THE JUNIOR CIRCUS - 6

Mitzi on the Trapeze

Mitzi is the star of the flying trapeze in our Junior Circus. She began working on the trapeze when she was very young and now she is very skillful.

For the last of your circus cutouts, color the picture and paste it on cardboard.

Now cut out the parts with care, and punch holes with a pencil point in the ends of the two crossbars. Bring a thread down through the left end of the top bar, through the left end of the bottom bar, across to the right end of the bottom bar, through that and up again to the right end of the top bar. Leave the ends, so they can be tied into a loop and the trapeze can be hung up.

Cut through the dark black line around Mitzi's fingers and across her insteps. Then you can slip the threads behind these tabs, as shown in the close-up sketches.

Mitzi can stand up on the trapeze with one foot braced against the rope, and she can hang by her hands from the lower bar. Perhaps you can even make her hang by one foot from the lower bar. Try it.

Now you have your complete circus and can get it all set up.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

By JIMMY HATLO

AT BABY'S REGULAR CHECKUP MAMA SAYS NOT A WORD....

UNTIL THE DOC PLUGS IN HIS STETH-OSCOPE, THAT IS—

HOW ABOUT VITAMINS? SHOULD HE BE VACCINATED? HOW IS YOUR WIFE? YATTATA-YATTATA-YAK-YAK....

THANX TO MRS H. RUBINSTEIN 2304 WESTVIEW DR. SILVER SPRING, MD.

PESTS THAT OUGHTA BE CONTROLLED DEPT.

I'M WORKING ON THE LAST ILLUSTRATION NOW—I'LL HAVE 'EM IN TO YOU ABOUT NOON TOMORROW—

I DON'T CARE IF YOU HAVE TO WORK ALL NIGHT— I GOTTA HAVE 'EM FIRST THING IN THE MORNING..

HELLO, DEAR— GRENADINE HAS TO BRING A POSTER TO HER GIRL SCOUT GROUP AND WE KNEW YOUR HUSBAND WOULDN'T MIND GIVING HER A HAND WITH IT....

PITY THE POOR ARTIST WHO WORKS AT HOME.... THE NEIGHBORS WILL DO IT EVERY TIME....

JIMMY HATLO

THEN THE FUN BEGAN

WHAT'S THIS I HEAR ABOUT YOU GOING TO GO IN BUSINESS FOR YOURSELF, CHEDDAR?

OL' BIG EARS HIMSELF

ENOUGH OF THIS SHOW! PHOOEY! I'M GOIN' DOWN TO THE WORKSHOP....

UNCLE REMUS and his tales of BRER RABBIT

SOMETIMES BRER RABBIT KETCHES UP WITH HIS THINKIN' TOO LATE TO BE IN TIME.

OH-OH... MISTER GOOSE WALKS LIKE HE'S AIMIN' TO BORRY MONEY!

HE AIN'T GONNA FOOL ME WITH HIS SLIPPY CUNNIN' THIS TIME!

BRER RABBIT, I IS BEEN UP ALL NIGHT WITH TH' TOOTHACHE!

YOU SURE LOOK LOPSIDED IN TH' HEAD.

HOW COME YOU DON'T GO AN' GIT TH' TOOTH SNATCHED OUT?

B'CAUSE I AIN'T GOT TH' DOLLAR.

Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

I KIN GIT IT PULLED-(OUCH)- IF YOU'LL LEND ME A DOLLAR!

WELL... I AIN'T NEVER DENIED A CREETUR IN DISTRESS!

by FRED CASSWELL

HOWDY, CALEB-- OL' BUZUM BUDDY-- WILL YE LOAN ME TEN DOLLERS TO GIT ME BACK ON MY FEET?

NO, SIREE!! I KNOW YOU, SNUFFY!! YE AIN'T SQUANDERIN' MY HARD EARNT MONEY ON NO CARD GAMES!!

I'M COMPLETE CURED OF PLAYIN' CARDS-- I TARNED OVER A NEW LEAF- HONEST INJUN!!

THEN WHAT DO YE NEED TEN DOLLERS FER?

I CRAVE TO START ME A LEETLE GARDEN PATCH AN' I NEED A HOE AN' A RAKE, SOME SEEDS, A WHEELBARRER AN'--UH--

HAW-HAW-HAW!! THAT'S TH' GOODEST ONE I EVER HEERED

AS A MATTER O' FACT, I'D RUTHER BORRY TH' GARDEN TOOLS THAN TH' MONEY, CALEB-- THAT-A-WAY "OL' SCRATCH" COULDN'T TEMPT ME NONE

I CAN'T BELIEVE MY EAR-PANS

FERGIVE ME, SNUFFY-- I THOUGHT YE WUZ TRYIN' TO BAMBOOZLE ME (SNIF)

OH-- AN' I COULD USE A HAND PLOW IF YE GOT ONE TO SPARE, CALEB

DEAL ME IN, FELLERS!!

TIM TYLER'S LUCK

BY LYMAN YOUNG and TOM MASSEY

WONDER WHAT'S DELAYING SPUD'S RETURN!

HE SHOULD BE BACK BY NOW WITH WATER FOR THOSE POTTED PLANTS IN THE PLANE —

HE MAY HAVE FOUND SOME TRACE OF THE GROUNDED PILOT AND FOLLOWED IT UP!

MEANWHILE

IF THAT ELEPHANT HADN'T LED ME HERE THE POOR FELLA WOULD NEVER HAVE BEEN FOUND ALIVE!

I-I'VE FREED HIS LEGS— NEXT I'LL CLIMB ABOVE HIM AND UNTANGLE HIS SHOULDERS, THEN LOWER HIM SLOWLY—

TIM! HELP— TIM!

SNAP!

SPUD— I CAN HEAR YOU, B-BUT WHERE ARE YOU? SPUD!
